Declares Russia and Austria are Near a Peace

SOCIALIST LEADER SAYS NATIONS NEAR AN UNDERSTANDING

BRITISH REGAIN GROUND IN FLANDERS

London, Aug. 3.—Camille Huysmans, the Belgian secretary of the international socialist conference, in an interview today with a correspondent of a Dutch newspaper, Handelsblad, declared that Russia and Austria-Hungary were on the verge of coming to an understanding, according to a dispatch from Copenhagen to the Exchange Telegraph company.

REGAIN LOST GROUND.

London, Aug. 3.—British troops, according to the official statement issued today by the British war department, already have regained part of the ground lost when the Germans penetrated the British frontlines on Infantry hill to the east of Monchy-le-Preux last night.

GERMANS ARE REPULSED.

Paris, Aug. 3.—Troops of the Crown Prince, after an intense artillery bombardment last night, delivered several violent attacks against the French positions near Cerney in the Aisne region along a front of about 1,500 yards. The French official statement issued this afternoon says that all the attacks were repulsed. On the Belgian front the bad weather continues.

GERMAN REPORTS CONSTRAINED

Copenhagen, Aug. 3.—German newspapers of Thursday morning contain no details of importance on the battle in Flanders beyond the official reports. German war correspondents are as yet observing the battle from a safe distance, near Charleville, several hundred kilometers behind the front, endeavoring to give the news from the scanty material supplied by the military censor. That the correspondents observed instructions is evidenced in all the newspapers by the heading, "Specials From the Front," and all state that the German artillery was able to hold its own with the Anglo-French in the preliminary bombardment. All of the accounts emphasize the mass character of the British and French attacks and all claim the preliminary victory, explaining, however, that the heavy fighting has not ended and may continue for weeks.

ALLIES HOLD POSITIONS.

British Front in France and Belgium, Aug. 2.—(Delayed.)—(By the Associated Press.)—The British and French and the Germans along the front of the battle in Flanders still held their positions late

HINDENBURG IS MUCH HONORED BY THE KAISER

London, Aug. 3.—A Copenhagen dispatch to Reuters' Limited contains the following message telegraphed by Emperor William to Field Marshal von Hindenburg:

"It is a need of my heart, my dear field marshal, at the conclusion of the second year of the mightiest of all wars in which you incessantly and with brilliant strategy and art have defied the enemy's superior forces and cleared the way for our armies to victory, to express anew to you my inexhaustible thanks. I grant you the cross and star of the high command of my Order of the House of Hohenzollern. The badge will be posted immediately."

ALLIED CAUSE IS PRECARIOUS

North German Gazette Sees the Signs in British Attitude.

STURDY SUPPORT OF FRANCE LOOKS BAD

Says England is Trying by
Revive France.

Berlin, Aug. 3.—(Via London.)—The North German Gazette sees in British interest in the fulfillment of French war aims an indication of a precarious condition of the entente allied cause. It says:

"A notable indication of the precarious condition of the entente allies is found in England's sturdy championing of French just for Alsace-Lorraine and English interest in the fulfillment of French wishes. 'A perusal of the text of Balfour's speech, as it has come to hand, would seem to indicate that this interest is only valid, if, as he assumes, the war will end favorably for England. So long as the entente prospered and French war fervor required no stimulant, England appeared wholly unconcerned regarding French war aims. 'Now that France is revealing signs of exhaustion, England is endeavoring to save this ally by revivifying its avarice. In keeping with her unscrupulous politics, England hopes to continue to benefit from dismembered continental Europe. Such politics, however, will suffer shipwreck on the rocks of the free German empire which did not provoke the war in contrast to the entente nations fighting for conquest and enslavement.'"

Take Front Again. The British were again in possession of the 300 yards front just north of Frezenberg, which the Germans wrested from them in a counter attack late yesterday. In a sharp drive last night after heavy artillery preparation the British forced the Germans from this strong position and have held it since. This was the only counter attack of any importance delivered by the Germans since late Wednesday. Detailed reports of Tuesday's battle show that the front between Hollebeke and Labasse Ville, was the scene of some of the heaviest fighting of the day, the Australians and English charging along this line swept over large numbers of Germans lying in shell holes which were overlooked in the semi-darkness.

Immediately after the British troops had gone beyond these holes, the Germans began sniping at the rear of the advancing forces. These snipers were eventually dealt with and the shell holes cleared. The morale of the German troops in this section is said to have been good and they made a stiff fight for the positions which they finally had to relinquish.

Entered by Tunnels. In the ruined village of Hollebeke the British were faced with large numbers of concrete dugouts which had no surface entrances but which were approached by tunnels. The attacking troops forced their way into these dugouts, which contained large numbers of men and blew them to pieces with bombs. This underground tunnel is still filled with German bodies. Just north of Hollebeke two strongly held German positions were occupied without a stop.

On the ground overlooking Wytschaete the British encountered shell holes, camouflaged with wire netting and hedges which had been interlaced with barbed wire. This delayed their progress somewhat but did not save the Germans. Pierce fighting occurred here and the Australians were the conquering the offensive carried the positions with bayonets, killing large numbers of the enemy.

Butte, Mont., Aug. 3.—The funeral of Frank H. Little, national executive board member of the Industrial Workers of the World who was lynched Wednesday will be made the occasion for a big demonstration next Sunday if the police will permit the striking miners to march, according to plans announced today by Tom Campbell, head of the Metal Mine Workers union.

Burial of Little will be either in Chicago or Fresno, Cal., dependent on the wishes of relatives. Excitement as a result of the lynching of Little has largely subsided and there is little of the tense feeling in evidence which was present on the day of his death.

While several investigations are in progress looking to the apprehension of the men who took Little's life, Attorney General S. C. Ford, who spent yesterday here, announced "it would be improbable if the men will ever be brought to justice."

SPARTAN MOTHER OF CHICAGO HAS GIVEN UP THREE

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 3.—This war is "God's laundry," Mrs. J. Lamb, who has given up three of her four sons to the army and navy, said in a letter which was before a local exemption board today.

"I asked for a special permit for my sixteen-year-old son who was in college and enlisted him in the marine corps on April first," wrote Mrs. Lamb. Another son is also in the marine corps and a third in the army.

"A fourth son's greatest sorrow is that he is too young and only a quarter-master in the Seafarers club of Notre Dame university.

"It makes me disgusted with womanhood to hear so many selfish mothers voice their terror. No mother loves her family more than I do, but I look upon this war as God's laundry."

SOLDIERS ABLE TO OBTAIN MAIL IN ENCAMPMENT

Washington, Aug. 3.—American soldiers at the front now are receiving their mail without interruption as a result of the establishment of the United States postal agency in France, Postmaster General Burleson announced today.

A corps of experienced workers, under the direction of Marcus H. Bunn, is handling mail matter at the base postoffice and at branches established at Paris, the training camps and at the American port of disembarkation. At present all letters sent to or received from soldiers must bear the regular domestic rate of postage. The postmaster general, however, has asked congress to grant troops free postage for letters sent home. The agency, in addition to receiving and transmitting letters and parcel post, is doing a money order business. The French government recently promulgated an order admitting free of duty all parcel post matter for American troops.

MORALE IS RESTORED.

London, Aug. 3.—The Times' correspondent at Russian headquarters on the southwest front under date of July 31 confirms reports of improvement in morale in the Russian army as a consequence of measures against desertions and panics. The correspondent says that disaffected Russian regiments have returned to the front.

Emperor William and Field Marshal von Mackensen, according to the same dispatch, make a triumphant entry into Tarnopol. The weight of the German offensive, the dispatch adds, appears to be directed toward Kaments Podolsky, en route to Odessa.

COMPERS GAINS PRAISE FROM A LONDON EDITOR

London, Aug. 3.—The cable message from Samuel Compers, president of the American Federation of Labor to M. Jouhaux, of the General Federation of Labor, and W. Appleton, of the General Federation of Trade Unions, refusing to participate in the international socialist conference, is welcomed by the Post. In an editorial the Post describes Mr. Compers' message as admirable in sense and delivered with admirable emphasis, adding:

"Once again the allies have to thank America for timely lead. While our ministers have not the courage to act on their convictions, Compers has. Assuredly an international conference without America would be feeble to justify any further cringing to Ramsey MacDonald and his confederates."

HAD ULTIMATUM OF AUSTRIA FOR AN ENTIRE DAY

Foreign Secretary Zimmermann, Says Washington, Admits Berlin Had

GERMAN DEPUTY COHEN IS CONFIRMED

Washington, D. C., Aug. 3.—Germany had possession of Austria's ultimatum to Serbia fourteen hours before it was delivered to Belgrade, according to positive information which has reached officials here and which was made public today for the first time.

It was stated that former Foreign Secretary Zimmermann admitted this himself, when pressed very closely as to Germany's foreknowledge of the action of her ally, which precipitated the European war.

Germany has maintained consistently in all her public documents that she was not consulted by Austria as to the ultimatum which practically denied Serbia's independence and that she did not even have knowledge of the step.

Foreign Secretary Zimmermann's admission, however, is interpreted here to show that Germany had full knowledge of the note in time to stop action if she felt it essential. Her inaction, however, is felt to have proved her an accomplice of Austria, whom she had already told she would support in any decision she might make.

The admission was stated here to have been made when Zimmermann was pressed very closely as to Germany's knowledge of the Austrian ultimatum. For a considerable time it was stated, he maintained Germany had known nothing at all about it, but finally when certain information and facts were presented Zimmermann admitted Germany had had the text for fourteen hours before its delivery. This, he seemed to think, was a purely negligible time, which did not allow the possibility of action.

This fact fits in very closely with the recent statements, first advanced by Deputy Cohen in the reichstag and since adopted by the allied government, that German and Austrian leaders held a war council at Potsdam, on July 5, in which it was practically decided to plunge Europe into conflict. The interpretation placed on this council has been that Germany had full knowledge of all Austria's plans and stood unreservedly behind her. Germany, however, has repeatedly denied the holding of such a conference.

Amsterdam, Aug. 3.—The Deutsche Tages Zeitung challenges the German government to prosecute Dr. Cohen, socialist member of the reichstag, for his alleged revelations regarding the crown council held at Potsdam, July 5, 1914. The newspaper says it knows

FINDS FAULT WITH FINANCING OF WAR

Head of American Publishers Takes Congress to Task Severely.

New York, Aug. 3.—Hopewell L. Rogers, of Chicago, president of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, has issued a statement here in behalf of his organization criticising congress for the "haphazard manner" in which it has undertaken to finance America's part in the war. He declared that the business which is getting a special benefit from the war should pay the greater portion of the taxes.

He advocated the form of taxation suggested by the commander in chief of the United States, "which would remove the necessity of taxation on any special industry and at the same time would place the burden on those many businesses which are making special profits due to war conditions." Congress, Mr. Rogers said, seems unwilling to consider this method but apparently is endeavoring to tax in a hand-to-mouth fashion by putting a special fixed tax on munitions and certain other businesses in addition to taxes on profits, making more or less of a muddle of the whole matter. He asserted that this muddled condition applies more particularly to the newspaper business than any other because "the haphazard method of congress seems to be an endeavor to punish the newspapers, or the public through them, with several special discriminatory taxes," in spite of otherwise unfavorable conditions.

TRAGEDY REVEALS THAT DOCTOR WAS A WOMAN

Toledo, O., Aug. 3.—The dual personality of a woman who for the last three years had posed as a man while engaged in the profession of an optician with a lucrative business has been disclosed today in the finding of a body dressed in man's clothing floating in the Maumee river here. The body was identified as that of the man known as Dr. Samuel Ackerman. The discovery that "Dr. Ackerman" was a woman was made at a morgue. Nothing is known of her real name nor from where she came. Attached to the body was a heavy iron weight. Police are working on the theory of suicide. The identification was made by the owner of the house where "Dr. Ackerman" boarded.

MUSIC'S THE THING WITH THE JACKIES

Sailors of American Flotilla Require Many Instruments.

Base American Flotillas in British Waters, July 10.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Authorization to spend all the money necessary properly to equip their new club house with athletic apparatus and musical instruments has just been received by the American sailors from the navy department in Washington. The news was received with the greatest enthusiasm by the men. It gives them what amounts to carte blanche in the matter of providing for their shore amusements over here.

The first step upon receipt of the welcome news was to dispatch an order to the United States for $1,000 worth of musical instruments to augment the string orchestra which entertains the men every Saturday night in their new club house. Their order also calls for a plentiful supply of the latest ragtime and other typical American music which has made a big hit with the native population. The next order will be for athletic apparatus to equip the gymnasium feature of the club now nearing completion. This equipment will include wrestling mats, punching bags, boxing gloves, weight machines, horses, rowing machines and other fixtures essential to an up-to-date gymnasium floor. The gymnasium will be ready about August 1. Besides six shower baths there will be a tea room and a place where the men can purchase tobaccos and light refreshments at pre-war prices.

The concert hall feature of the club has been playing moving pictures and concerts to crowded houses for a month. It is generally patronized not only by the men but their officers. The British commodore of the port was the honored guest at a show the other night, the feature of which was a lecture on flying at the western battle front delivered by a Canadian major in the royal flying corps from Toronto. The major cut short his lecture tour in a nearby city to come over to entertain the American boys. His pictures took the blue jackets up and down the British and French lines in France.

The major's active service at the front was cut short last year by a drop from 12,500 feet. He was able to re-

SLACKER GROOMS MAY BE SUBJECT TO ARREST

Brides May Also Be Taken in Custody as Party to Conspiracy.

Allen county young men who marry simply to escape military service may be liable to criminal prosecution. The brides also may come within the range of punishment. Word has been received from Provost Marshal Crowder, Washington, authorizing examination boards to warn "slack" grooms and their brides that any person "who evades or aids another to evade" the requirements of the conscription act is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Under this ruling a marriage hastily contracted since the act was passed may be construed as a "conspiracy." Gen. Crowder instructed the boards to scrutinize closely the question of dependency in all cases of marriage contracted since July 20.

PRESIDENT'S VIEWS TICKLE MAGNATES

Comiskey Delighted That Baseball Ought Not to Cease.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—President Wilson's opinion, expressed through his secretary, J. P. Tumulty, that there is no necessity at all for stopping or curtailing baseball schedules, was read with enthusiasm by heads of major league teams in Chicago today. "That's the best news I have received for a long time," said Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Chicago American league club. "I think we baseball men are as patriotic as any other class of citizens. We stand behind the president all the time. If he should ask us to close our gates as a matter of patriotism, the gates would be closed without a murmur."

"But I believe we can do our country a genuine service by keeping its youth interested in healthy outdoor sports and recreation during our period of stress. President Wilson's opinion is a tribute to baseball and an immense help to us all." President Charles Weeghman, of the Chicago National league club, said: "The president's announcement is a great thing for baseball and I, for one club owner, am grateful. In the long run the country will be better off for not discontinuing the sport, although I believe every man connected with the game should do his bit one way or another."

Skin Easily Peeled Off

The freckling, discoloring or roughening to which most skins are subject at this season, may readily be gotten rid of. Mercolised wax, spread lightly over the face before retiring and removed in the morning with soap and water, completely peels off the disfigured skin. Get an ounce of the wax at any druggist's. There's no more effective way of banishing tan, freckles or other cutaneous defects. Little skin particles come off each day, so the process itself doesn't even temporarily mar the complexion, and one soon acquires a brand new, spotless, girlishly beautiful face.

Wrinkles caused by weather, worry or illness, are best treated by a simple solution of powdered axolite, one ounce, dissolved in one-half pint witch hazel. Rubbing the face in this produces a truly marvelous transformation.—Advertisement.

The machine was smashed but Brown escaped unhurt. The inset shows Brown.

The remaining three are Protot, who was minister of justice in the government of the commune, with Loucas and Gerardon, two inconspicuous members of the commune.

Pindy was in command at the Hotel de Ville. He declared that, if obliged to quit the building, he would leave it in flames, and kept his word.

Constantino was hired to sing at the performance of the opera, and collected $1,250 but Mr. Moore complains that he uttered "whee" and "o-o-oo" instead of the words, and forgot his role, filling in the part to the despair of the orchestra. That, Mr. Moore says, was not singing.

SHOULD MAKE A PROTEST.

The persistence with which the military department of the Indiana state government is kicking out the Fort Wayne officers of Fort Wayne companies in the national guard and replacing them with Indianapolis men needs looking into. Both Fort Wayne batteries have been deprived of their commanders. In each instance Adjutant-General Harry B. Smith has extinguished a captain's commission and issued one to an Indianapolis man. Two outsiders were also chosen for lieutenantcies in one battery.

It is time for the citizens of Fort Wayne to join together in protest against this political administration of the affairs of Indiana's national guard. Captain Harry B. Clark, who is one of the seasoned artillery officers of the Indiana national guard, has just been put down to make room for an Indianapolis man now appointed to the captaincy of Battery B. It was but a few weeks ago that Captain J. C. Scheffer turned over his command to an Indianapolis man on orders from Adjutant-General Smith. Fort Wayne has one other unit of the guard and the call for it will come shortly. The fate of its commander will be awaited with interest.

Unless it can be clearly shown that military and not political reasons have operated to dictate these changes the displacement of Fort Wayne officers of Fort Wayne companies should not be tolerated in silence. The national guards will be incorporated in the federal service soon and the war department at Washington and not the adjutant-general's office at Indianapolis will have authority to make selections. We believe that if the people of Fort Wayne will carry these matters before Secretary of War Baker he will take the interest to see that justice is done to the officers and men of the local units of the guard.

It will not be disputed that incompetent or otherwise unfit men should officer the troops in this war, but we are satisfied that nothing can be shown to prove these Fort Wayne officers incompetent or unfit. The thing looks like a rather bad mess cooked up by the adjutant-general to advance his favorite soldier friends in his home town. The people of Fort Wayne should not view this with unprotesting silence, nor do we believe they will do so.

JOKER IS SUSPECTED.

It doubtless is just as well that action on the resolution for a national prohibition amendment has been postponed in the house. The resolution, as adopted by the senate, is said to be nullified by the provision that the federal amendment must be ratified by three-fourths of the states within a period of six years. Capable lawyers express the opinion that such a qualification is not constitutional and that the amendment if approved by the states could have no effect.

It has been stated that the advocates of the amendment and their supporters in the senate accepted the six-year stipulation because it served to expedite the adoption of the resolution and gave them no concern as being likely to wreck the amendment through failure of a constitutional majority of the states to ratify, having confidence that six years afforded ample latitude of time within which to accomplish that. It now appears that the six-year clause is a cunning joker of the type that might be looked for in the adroit and delicate work of an Indiana legislature, though hardly the sort of game one expects to find in the handiwork of the senate of the United States. Still, there is no reason to suppose that the well-known rum power and its statesmen friends would esteem as beneath them in the national congress the resources and expedients that frequently serve so well in a state legislature.

The friends of prohibition appear to have awakened to the potential danger of leaving in doubt any matter relating to so important a thing as amending the federal constitution and have sidetracked the prohibition amendment to a more convenient day when there may be less of the distractions of war legislation to confuse and beguile the situation. The fight in the senate may have to be fought over again, but it will be worth while to make sure that the resolution is not decorated with a joker. To let the procedure go on with what might in the end turn out to be a fatal disability would set national prohibition back for perhaps a decade. A few months of delay is worth while as gaining full assurance. Safety first is a good precept when amending the constitution of the United States.

ALMOST A FOOD CONTROL LAW.

After three months of more painstaking efforts than have been bestowed upon any federal legislation since the republic was a baby, congress has got a food control bill fashioned so that it doubtless can be enacted. Not much is left of the measure as it stood when its fair young life was launched, but it has had a scintillant career and if something has been lost by the way that is no matter of astonishment.

The kaiserists in the house, the reservists in the senate and the faithful retainers of full many special interest in both august bodies, as well as their friends and sympathizers outside, cannot see much use of a food bill and would no doubt gladly consign the measure to the scrap heap back of the capitol, but there must be something and what has been turned out may perhaps be considered to have been suitably denatured. Attempts to emasculate food control entirely by providing for a commission instead of a director and to hamstring the country in war by the appointment of a committee to interfere with the executive branch of the government were allowed to pass away because the senate did not have quite the nerve to go far enough with the president, but that has been made up for to some extent in other ways.

The measure will come full-fledged from congress about six weeks behind the latest day that it was prudent to delay the law, if food control were to be really effectual, but it will serve to some good ends, not the least of which is that it will stand as a marker to the diligence, wisdom and patriotism of a congress of the United States in the midst of a war that threatens the existence of the nation. It has drawn into the clear light some few men in both house and senate of whom the country should make note and for whom the country should reserve proper appreciation and reward.

As a food control bill the measure that has been agreed upon falls far short of the need and the expectation, but in the capable and experienced hands of a man like Herbert C. Hoover backed by a thoroughly determined and unafraid person like Woodrow Wilson, perhaps more can be got out of it than is now looked for. In any event, it is refreshing to behold that congress is practically at the end of one of the most arduous tasks that has ever sizzled the brains of statesmen or alarmed the apprehensions of their clients.

Such shortcomings as the food control law may be proved to have can be remedied for next year, for the prospect is flattering that we shall need its beneficent protections for some time.

If those exposed gasoline tanks are a commercial necessity and a public benefit and patently harmless, there is no reason to refer the matter to the state fire marshal. If they do add anything to fire hazards or the risks of human life then, nothing that the marshal of the state may say for or against the gasoline tanks, will alter the morals of the situation or mitigate the public duties of the council. There is not much uncertainty about what the fire marshal will rule as respecting the installation of these exposed tanks and the council doubtless had abundant reason for the confidence with which it passed the buck to the state official. If, however, that confidence has been misplaced, it will provide the council with no warrant for undoing the safe practice that has stood here uniformly for a quarter of a century.

Soldiers off to the war need a good many things that the government does not provide. Men could get along without them, of course, but they make up just about the trifling sum of luxury that ever is allowed to enter into the life of a soldier on war duty. The families of many of the soldiers supply these things to their boys in the army, but there are boys who have no families to consider them and other boys whose families are giving just about all in giving the boys themselves. Just at present Battery B needs a mess kit and small contributions of money from a few hundreds of people will supply it. After that inquire what little things that soldiers need which are not supplied by the government and make some young fighter's life in camp and field a bit easier by supplying them.

The greatest battle of the war ran into a rainstorm and suspended operations for clear weather—in which respect it differs from the greatest show on earth and other enterprises, which exhibit rain or shine.

ARMY HEALTH.

(Springfield, Mass., Republican.)
It is good to have Surgeon-General Gorgas remind the country to what extent the old terrors of army life have been forced to surrender to science. Typhoid fever, which used to be the worst scourge of troops, is now eliminated by vaccine, and the same is true of various lesser diseases. Freedom from dysentery the surgeon-general credits to an intelligent handling of water supplies. Scarlet fever and the measles, which used to visit large camps, are taken care of by the methods of quarantine now enforced in the armies. So far as a new face been placed on the old situation that the man at the head of the army's health work holds that the men who serve in this war and who escape wounds will be, on the whole, in better physical condition when they come out than when they went into the army. "I think this," he adds, "in spite of the hardships peculiar to trench warfare, because of the life of the men in the open air and their scientifically protected, wholesome food."

America's Part in the War

(Review of Reviews.)

In recent months there has been a great accession of German confidence based upon the submarine and the Russian revolution; there has been a new hope that Germany might win the war, after all. But these hopes have gone glimmering with the return of the Russians to the attack, the unsatisfactory harvest of the submarine, which discloses the fact that it cannot win the war this year or next, at the present rate, and, finally, the entrance of the United States into the war and the arrival of American troops in France. The echo of all this we hear in the present crisis in Berlin. It is no part of the task of the military reviewer to discuss military events. We have not yet any satisfactory evidence as to the true meaning of the passing of Bothmann-Hollweg and the pending changes in the German government or system, but it is plain that these changes are the fruit of military disappointments and are manifest consequences of a growing recognition in Germany of the fact that the war cannot be won and may be lost.

We shall have a real measure of the German spirit when there emerges from the fog some definite statement of German peace proposals. Unless these proposals accept unequivocally the Russian view of no annexations and no indemnities, it is safe to conclude that they will be thrust aside by the nations now fighting Germany. Even if they do make such proposals, the allies will infallibly demand a German agreement to a settlement of the Alsace-Lorraine question in favor of France, of the Italian Irredenta in favor of Italy and the reconstitution of the Balkans in favor of Serbia, insuring that state a seaboard on the Adriatic and an increase of Serb lands at the expense of Austria.

That an evidence on the part of Germany of her allies, of willingness to open these questions might lead to an agreement to settle colonial questions about the green table and to negotiate on the question of German interests in Central Africa, seems to me quite likely. But this is mere speculation. Germany must first renounce conquest, second consent to sacrifices; until these things happen there can be no peace conference this year, or before a campaign of 1918.

Yet recognizing all this it seems to me plain that we are entering the last year of the war. For my own part I am convinced that if the war lasts until the fourth anniversary, we shall then be within two steps of peace and my conviction is that peace will come before that anniversary. The temper in Austria, the change wrought in the near East by Russian renunciation of annexations in Turkey, the growing clearness of perception in Germany that victory is impossible and that disaster lies in future prolongation of the struggle are for me clear indications that we are on the edge of a change in the whole situation, a change which will make military events from now on of less importance than political.

In all this it seems to me the United States has a very clear mission. We must first of all continue to send men and supplies and munitions to Europe, because I believe that the arrival of American troops in France has already been an unmistakably powerful influence in bringing a change in Germany. The more troops we send to France the less chance there will be that we shall have heavy losses and long casualty lists. The fact that we mean to go on will, I believe, be a great force for peace, the first sign that we were slowing down might act as the Russian revolution to arouse a German hope that the war might be won.

A few weeks ago, when Russian soldiers were quitting the front, there was still no suggestion of an American army in France. Germany believed she could win the war and adopted a policy of extreme rigor. Her statesmen and publicists proclaimed victory in sight and asserted that this victory would mean the real world domination of Germany. But the Russian soldiers returned to the battle and an American army arrived in Europe with results that are plain. There has been a profound change in German expectation and this change has shown itself in unmistakable ways.

The submarine, the separate peace with Russia, the impotence of America—these have all proven illusions. But, on the other hand, if Russia again pauses, if the United States contents itself with sending only a first expedition to France, German hopes revive and German determination to fight on may return. Then we shall lose many lives, both of soldiers now in France and soldiers who will ultimately have to be sent from this country, if the war takes on a new and bitter phase.

Insulting Offer Made to Belgium to Cease Resisting the Kaiser

The following is an excerpt from the Journal of Hugh S. Gibson, who was first secretary of the American legation in Brussels at the outbreak of the war. Mr. Gibson's journal is appearing serially in the World's Work: "Sunday, August 9th (1914).—During the afternoon, yesterday, I got out to attend to a few odds and ends of errands—and, as always happens when I go out, things began to happen. I came back to find the minister and DeLeval wrestling with a big one. A curious telegram had come from The Hague quoting the text of a message which the German government desired us to present to the Belgian government. Here it is in translation—a truly German message:

"The fortress of Liege has been taken by assault after a brave defense. The German government most deeply regrets that bloody encounters should have resulted from the attitude of the told him seriously that we had received a very remarkable telegram which purported to contain a message from the German government; that it bore no marks of authenticity, and that we were not sure as to its source; but that we felt that we should be lacking in frankness if we did not show him what we had received. He seized the message and read it through, his amazement and anger growing with each line. When he had finished he gazed for a minute or two, and then led me into the next room to the minister for foreign affairs, M. Davignon, to whom he translated the telegram aloud. When they had finished discussing the message and I had a pretty clear idea as to the Belgian attitude toward the proposal—not that I had had any real doubt—I asked him: 'If the American minister had delivered this message what would have been its reception?' Without an instant's hesitation M. Davignon replied: 'We should have resented his action and should have declined to receive the communication.'

The democrats will have a pole-raising on Broadway, opposite McCulloch park, this evening.

Dr. K. K. Wheelock purchased the McCulloch homestead on West Superior street, yesterday for $3,800.

Mrs. John Porter will let the contract this evening for the erection of a house on Columbia avenue, the building to cost in the neighborhood of $2,500.

Last night at the Episcopal residence Father Quinn's union in marriage Mr. Frank Reed and Miss Emma Volrol, daughter of Frank Volrol, the jeweler. The attendants were Louis Volrol and Miss Mary Beuret, of Auburn. The young couple will reside at 144 Fairfield avenue.

There was a jolly coaching party to Mayeville Tuesday, in honor of Miss Grace Munson, of Cleveland. Those in the party were the Misses Lillie Pyke, Grace White, Kate MacDougal and Messrs. Shambaugh, R. B. Hanna, R. F. Harper and Irwin Randall. They took supper at the Stall house and returned by moonlight.

A meeting was held last evening at the home of T. W. Blair, at 220 East Wayne street, for the purpose of organizing a republican male quartet for the campaign now about to open. It will be known as the Union club quartet and the members are T. W. Blair, first tenor; W. F. Geller, second tenor; H. B. Woolsey, first bass, and Ed C. Close, second bass.

During the electrical shower last evening considerable damage was done by the lightning. John Buelow, the well known dairyman at 149 West street, had his twelve cows pastured in a field just west of the Bloomingdale mills. This morning when he went to drive them in from pasture, he was surprised to find four of the animals dead, killed by a stroke of lightning. A current of electricity traveled down the chimney at the home of Frederick Wessel, 84 Force street, and stunned a young man who was boarding there, but he soon recovered. The roof was torn from the rear portion of the house.

County agents in northeastern Indiana have forwarded the following weekly reports to Purdue university:
A. Z. Aehart, DeKalb county: "A labor committee chairman has been appointed in each township, each one to keep in touch with the county agent's office as a medium of exchange to distribute labor. A number of men have been located in positions on farms. The demand is especially heavy just now for harvest labor and not enough men to fill the places."

Harry Gray, Wells county: "The location of good wheat fields in the county was a matter of first importance during the week. Letters were mailed to members of our agricultural committee in all parts of the county in order that the very best fields might be listed for seed purposes. Effort will be made to supply the farmers of the county and other counties as far as possible with wheat of good quality."

free from disease and with varieties of known value."
H. R. Smalley, Steuben county: "Had a meeting with the township trustees in regard to plans for the county wheat campaign. The seed wheat selection was started by appointing each trustee a committee of one to select the field in his township."

WILL BE CONTINUED

National Association in
Upon That.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 3.—College athletics will be continued during the war, according to a decision of the National Collegiate Athletic association in conference here. Most of the representatives of the eastern and western colleges participated. The action was prompted mainly by the recommendation of Secretary of War Baker who, in addressing the delegates, urged that athletic competition be encouraged to fit college men for military service.

All of the larger schools, except Yale, Harvard, Princeton and possibly Virginia, will be represented this fall in intercollegiate football. The latter institutions are said to lack material.

The conference adopted resolutions recommending that all students participate in competitive sports, that pre-season coaching and training stables be abolished and that eligibility standards be not relaxed.

MAN WAS BURIED ALIVE.

Cave-in of a Sewer Results in Hurried Run by Police Patrol.

Four men were engaged in the digging of a sewer at the rear of the house at 1310 Home avenue, Thursday afternoon, when a cave-in resulted. Three of the men escaped, but the other, Bert Jackson, of 225 West Superior street, was caught. He was completely buried. The patrol made a hurried run to the scene, but upon its arrival his fellow workmen had him practically unearthed. He was taken to his home, but was able to resume work Friday.

THIS SHOULD SETTLE DISPUTED QUESTION

A mistake has been rectified through the efforts of Charles L. Biederwolf, secretary and manager of the Commercial club, and further conclusive proof been given that Fort Wayne is the second city in the Hoosier state, a fact which all citizens of Fort Wayne freely admit despite any claims to the contrary by Evansville.

Through some error Bradstreet's fall to get the correct figures on the relative populations of Fort Wayne and Evansville. An edition of the rating books gave the southern city the best end of it which moved Secretary Biederwolf to make an inquiry which resulted in a reply to the effect that the estimates had been revised and showed Fort Wayne to have a population of 78,140 and Evansville 76,981.

HEAD OF ARMOUR & CO.
ENLISTS ALL FOR WAR

Chicago, Aug. 3.—J. Ogden Armour, president of Armour and company, has returned here from attending war supply conferences in the east. He was at the daily council of packers at the yards when he was asked what he thought of the situation.

"I'll tell you what I think," he replied. "The government of the United States can have Armour and company."

"The government of the United States can have any man or any group of men of Armour and company. There will be no request for exemptions. When a man is irreplaceable the government will be so notified and it can take its choice of where it wants him to serve."

"Whether it is patriotism or selfishness that moves us counts little in the actual outcome. We may no all realize it as a nation and as free men; we have staked all and shall win or lose all."

"That's what I think about the 'situation.'"

SWITZERLAND TAKES CROPS.

Seymour, son of Charles and Nellie Seymour, Fort Wayne, were wedded last Saturday afternoon at 1858 Eleventh street, Philadelphia, by Rev. Chaflant, of the Lutheran church. The groom is a grandson of the late Theodore Garty, of Columbia City. The bride had been employed as a clerk in the Wolf & Dessauer store.

Kitchen Econom is Food Conservation

Housewives have their own definitions of kitchen economy. Now comes war and rolls them all into one. And war allows no exemptions from service in the cause of food conservation. But many housewives who have always had the habit of doing their best, which means their utmost, find it a bit difficult to discover new ways of saving. Recipes for canning tomatoes fail to interest them, but they delight in new, odd and uncommon economies. Almost any nice cook appreciates a "vegetable roast" as a novelty. It is a winter dish made by canning a mixture of vegetables.

Vegetable Roast.
Prepare corn, lima beans, tomatoes, string beans, okra, squash and eggplant as for canning separately. Mix these in varying proportions, letting the corn predominate. Add two or three medium-sized onions to each quart of the mixture, run through a food chopper and stir until completely mixed. Pack into glass jars and sterilize. To prepare for serving, next winter, mix a portion with an equal amount of bread crumbs, a piece of butter, and one egg, season with salt and pepper, pack in a round baking dish and bake until brown. Serve in slices with drawn butter sauce. The mixture may be added to soup stock.

Salted String Beans.
String the beans as for cooking, pack in stone jars, a layer of beans and a sprinkling of salt. Pack lightly, cover, and put a weight on top. To cook next winter, soak the beans over night in cold water, pour off and add boiling water and boil for one hour. Drain, add fresh boiling water and simmer until tender. Serve with butter, bacon drippings or white sauce.

White Blackbird Feature of Party

BY BETTY BROWN.

Salted Sweet Corn.

Pickled Corn and Beans.
Cooks who like sauerkraut often prepare corn and beans by a pickling process. Put whole ears of corn, or corn cut from the cob, or string beans into a clean sack and suspend in a barrel of brine. The corn ferments and gives an acid product.

ELDERLY WOMEN SHOULD BANISH BLACK WEAVES.

Even though fashion strayers, dress critics and the yawny ones cry out against the young duds, who will say they are not an improvement upon the dismal, draggy, drab draping with which grandma of the past clothed herself? The old-fashioned grandmother regarded as unseemly anything that displayed the slightest element of sartorial gayety. At 30 she put on black, and in these dismal breadths she lived until her great grandchildren arrived—and even then she didn't reform.

Elderly women most particularly need an extravagant use of white in the formulas of their wardrobes, and black should be banished like an enemy. Certain shades of rose, luscious deep blues, like Copenhagen, all the orchidee and mauve tints are like tonic to the white-haired sisterhood. A droopy hat with a facing of cherry-colored red satin transforms grandma into a beautiful dear, casting a blush over the clear, velvety skin and touching the white locks with glints and pretty lights. We are again the silly styles for middle age, but are even more again the funeral trappings of the past. If a woman has the dress sense well developed and sufficient money to buy beautiful attire, old age finds half its terrors gone.

THEY HAD THE RIGHT IDEA.

Childish mistakes often border ludicrously on the truth. Two little Indianapolis girls were talking seriously of affairs in general. "My mother has gone to a food conversation meeting," said one. "What is that?" asked her companion. "Why don't you know?" replied the first. "It's a meeting where they talk about things to eat, and table manners I s'pose."

And in a way she was right, for never was there a time when women have talked as much of food as they do today, and it might as well be called "food conversation." Only they do not confine their efforts to talking. In the national movement to persuade the housewife to cook less, waste less and buy less, an effort is being made to enlist every man, woman and child in the country. On one of the attractive posters advertising the movement are the words: "Food—buy it with thought, cook it with care, serve just enough, save what will keep, eat what will spoil; home-grown is best." All of which is very practical "food conversation."

You can Eat Cereals to Reduce Food Cost

The most practical means of reducing table expenses without decreasing the wholesomeness and adequacy of the diet lies in increased use of cereal foods, especially boiled grains, mushes and breads made of corn meal and cereals other than wheat.

Cereals contain most of the important food elements which the body needs and yet are comparatively inexpensive. They are primarily a source of starch, needed by the body to yield energy. They furnish considerable quantities of protein, one of the most important and most abundant of the most numerous food elements, needed to build the body and keep it in repair. In addition, cereals furnish mineral matter, fats, fibre and, especially if part of the bran is left in, little known substances which regulate body activities.

Cereals, therefore, may be used as the relatively inexpensive basis for meals. It then becomes necessary only to eat with them comparatively small quantities of higher priced foods to make up a proper balance among the needed elements. When animal foods or other nitrogenous foods, fruits and vegetables also are used in the diet, the various grains may be interchanged freely as availability, cost, or preference dictates. The starch of all the cereals is practically the same. Frothing, fat and mineral matter vary somewhat in the different kinds but so slightly that the difference need not be considered in the ordinary mixed diet. In such a diet, therefore, corn or oatmeal, for example, may be satisfactorily substituted for wheat when the latter is scarce, without detracting from the wholesomeness of the meals.

REGULAR BED HOUR BEST WAY FOR INDUCING SLUMBER.

Regular habits for retiring must be considered one of the best methods for securing good sleep.

The human body has a wonderful periodicity in all its spontaneous actions, and by studying these much of the machinery of health may be made to work smoothly.

Witness one habit of waking at a certain hour to which we have been accustomed.

Regularity in eating is most important for health. The digestive tract will respond at regular times just as other habits will repeat themselves.

Proper food properly digested will do much for one's health and happiness.

It is a mistake to eat too much. We should try and enjoy our meals by paying attention to the taste of food. Do not gulp it down. It should be masticated and tasted so as to stimulate those nerves which reflect their sense on the other nerves controlling the glands of digestion.

What you feel indigestion after eating is a sign that the food is not properly and should it repeat itself, dismiss the guilty food from your dietary.

Don't make eating a taste but make it a pleasure, so that the food will digest and be assimilated and applied to the different necessities of the activities of life.

Youth demands a greater variety and quantity of food than does old age and especially does it require much protein and meat.

Learning what foodstuffs best suit is one of the great educational tasks man has before him, for he no longer has the intuition of the lower animals.

BABY HAS ONLY SENSE OF TASTE AT ITS BIRTH

You are born with a sense of taste and make good use of it at once. It is not until you reach the age of six weeks that you could focus your eyes and really get a clear vision. Smelling and hearing come along together when you are about one week old. A sense of touch comes when you are about two weeks old.

While the baby sees things early, in all probability vision is not completely developed much before the baby is three or three and one-half months old. Many authorities insist that the new-born baby is completely deaf for the first twenty-four or forty-eight hours of its life, and some authorities maintain that the baby is deaf for several days.

When objects are brought close to the eyes of the new-born baby it does not wink or close them and it is usually not before the sixth week that the baby will quickly shut the eyes if something is moved rapidly toward them.

JAPAN READY WITH HER SHIPS AND MEN

Willing to Help Beat the U-Boat if America Pays Price.

(Staff Special.)

Washington, D. C., Aug. 3.—When the Japanese war mission arrives in this country, the best and wildest Nipponese diplomatic brains will be pitted against Uncle Sam in one of the greatest bargaining matches in history. Upon the outcome will largely depend not only the future of hitherto troubled relations between the United States and Japan, but the stabilizing of the Russian war front, the greater participation of Italy in the war, the circumvention of the German U-boat campaign and, possibly, the very decision of the war itself.

The Japanese will have two great trump cards to play. They have a merchant marine of nearly 2,000,000 tons and a magnificent trained army of more than 2,000,000 men. The Japs have made money out of the war, so much so they are now a creditor instead of a debtor nation. They are willing to continue making money by selling ammunition and artillery to Russia.

But they want something more than money for their ships and their troops. They would like to have a settlement with this country over the land and immigration questions in the Pacific coast states. And even more important from their viewpoint, they would like to have Uncle Sam agree to their having a free hand with China.

The American policy in China has been the open door. If Japan is given her way, the door will not only be closed, it will be shut with a reverberating bang.

Every impulse of the American statesmen will be to insist upon the open door. But just about that time European statesmen, representing our allies, will point out what Japan can do for the cause. She can send several hundred thousand men into Russia by the Siberian line and these trained and perfectly equipped troops would help stiffen the Russian troops facing the Germans and Austrians.

But even more vital are Japan's ships. Italy has over 4,000,000 men, but not enough ammunition, because she lacks steel and coal. She has troops to spare if she can get these commodities. Japanese ships could carry American steel and coal to Italy and food to the allies.

To pour Japan's tremendous merchant marine through the Panama canal, load it at American ports, and send it across the ocean conveyed by American, Japanese and allied destroyers would be in a large measure to defeat German U-boat plans until the American shipping board could construct its tremendous number of ships.

The only question at issue is whether Uncle Sam will pay the price in money, in immigration laws and in a closed China.

GERMANY SPREADING OUT.

Copenhagen, Aug. 3.—Germany is believed to be making preparations for the establishment in Denmark and Sweden of a large number of branches of well known German factories and industrial firms, says the Svenska Dagbladet. These plans, if carried out, would be very detrimental to neutral trade since the countries of the allies would be naturally suspicious of all neutral firms which might be serving German interests. The paper suggests a combination of industry and finance to offset this German influence.

LITTLE DAB OF BUTTER AT YOUR ELBOW MAKING NEW KINGS IN MID-WEST; RESPECT THAT DAB!

J. A. Long, Who Began Buying Little Dabs 40 Years ago, Now Makes 5,000,000 Pounds a Year and Plans to Be World's Biggest Producer.

Staff Special.

Union City, Mo., Aug. 3.—Note well the tiny dab of butter at your elbow. Poor little thing! It is lying there obscurely among the dinner dishes—the bashful, timid, Cinderella of the dinner table.

You could never tell by its looks that there are millions in it, mister, millions!

Even while the world is being made safe for democracy, it is creating a new line of middle-western kings—Butter Kings who think the day lost that doesn't produce for each of them from 40,000 to 50,000 pounds of butter, at least.

Last year they produced more than one billion pounds of it. Respect that tiny dab of butter at your elbow!

Why, for the purpose of making a photograph there were piled up at the local creamery of J. A. Long & Co.—one of the largest in the country—40 odd firkins of butter, representing a value of $1,500.

Fifteen hundred dollars all in one eye!

And it represented only about one-twelfth of the day's production in this creamery which works day and night. If as the $1,500 worth of firkins were posing for their picture, the price of butter had advanced only one cent—as it often does nowadays—their value would have gone up $35 as you looked. Ah, little dab of butter, you're some dab!

That's how quickly money is made among the butter magnates.

The butter works for them while they sleep. One of them may have in transit 300,000 pounds. And if, while the butter is thus on the way, the market price goes up one cent per pound, the butter at its destination is worth $3,000 more than when it left the factory.

These firkins of butter, posing for their picture, contain $1,500 worth of "little dabs," and they're only twelfth of one factory's daily output. Inset is M. P. Knudson, Danish manager of big J. A. Long & Co. factory at Union City, Ind.

But it works the other way, too.

One day, according to Long's Danish manager, M. P. Knudson, they had 300,000 pounds on hand and there was a drop of 7 cents.

"That made a different story," he said. But he smiled in a manner that indicated it ended happily.

Long started buying and selling butter, eggs and chickens in a small way about forty years ago. In those days butter was made in the old family churn. It was a pretty way, with ma in her neat gingham sunbonnet presiding. It was picturesque, but not efficient, nor always sanitary, nor highly profitable.

Today the farmers sell their cream to Long, who makes 5,000,000 pounds of butter a year out of it. His ambition is to make 10,000,000 pounds, and to that end he is building a new factory. He will then, it is said, have the largest butter industry in the world, making Union City the butter capital.

Ma would take the cream as it was, germs and all. The creamery today sterilizes it first. Long has 300 field stations to which farmers bring their cream to be tested for butter fats. The farmer sees the test made and gets his cash immediately.

Long uses about 25,000 gallons of cream each day and last year there accrued to him as a by-product $20,000 worth of butter-milk.

Last year there was shipped out of this town—population of 3,209, according to the last census—$2,000,000 worth of butter to all parts of the world, including Japan and Russia.

Yes, timid little dab of butter, you have your romance.

BLIND EDITOR VISITS THE BATTLE FRONT

Sir Arthur Pearson Has a Thrilling Time With German Shells.

With the British Armies in France, July 6.—(Staff Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Blind himself, and head of the British national institute devoted principally to men blinded in the war, Sir C. Arthur Pearson, of London, was recently a most interesting visitor at the British front. His enthusiasm for all he "saw" was unbounded, and he declared he would take back to the sightless men at home new words of encouragement as to how "their" army was carrying on.

Sir Arthur climbed the Vimy Ridge, and to his great delight some German shells broke so close they splashed him with mud and the party had to take temporary refuge in a dug-out.

Going or Coming?

"A man doesn't have to see to know when to duck, does he?" laughed Sir Arthur in relating the incident that night. "I also find," he added, "that it doesn't take long to know when they are going and when they are coming."

That is always a great source of entertainment to visitors in the fighting line. At first the shells that are going over from the British guns swish along through the air with a noise that is quite startling enough, but the sightless "fortunate" enough to hear a German missile "coming in" soon finds it sings a somewhat different song. Sir Arthur aptly described it.

"Our shells," he said, "go with a bang and a whiz; the Germans come over with a whiz and a bang. It all depends upon the position of the whiz."

Listens to the Batteries.

Sir Arthur was deeply impressed by the work of the guns. He remained with some of the batteries for a long time and listened to their noisy mutterings with a keen apprehension of all that was going on about him. He was particularly delighted to hear above the reverberating echoes the songs of larks—always to be remembered by the soldiers on this front as their ever-cheerful companions of trench and battle fields.

Trudging over some of the older battlefields of the Somme, walking through the trenches and standing in the higher places where the panorama of battle spread below him, Sir Arthur drank in the atmosphere of the war—the meaning of it all. He "saw" the "tanks" in repose and heard them at drill, he stood outside a prison cage and visualized the round-capped Germans within the barbed wire barriers. He asked a guard if any of the prisoners ever attempted to escape.

Glad to Be Commanded.

"Escape, sir!" replied the old sergeant; "why, sir, you couldn't drive 'em away; they likes being prisoners, sir, they does."

The ruined cities of the Somme, Bapaume and Peronne, affected Sir Arthur deeply.

"I wish the whole world—all but the Germans who already know what they have done—could come and stand in the grand squares of these cities as I did today," he exclaimed. "and see and feel the desolation and the wanton destruction. They are ghost-like, these cities of the dead. I knew them on motor trips in other days, when they were alive and I could see, and I could picture the scene today as if I were looking at a painting. The Germans will find, however, the day of reckoning is near at hand. I shall take

Follows It All Keenly.

Entertained by officers of all ranks, Sir Arthur declared his days and nights at the front had been filled to overflowing. No visitor ever followed the workings of the vast British army machine with quicker, keener appreciation and understanding than he. He was gratified to find in the army a similar interest and appreciation in the work at St. Dunstan's for the blinded soldiers and sailors.

Sir Arthur told of the resentment he felt when unthinking people referred to St. Dunstan's as a "home" for the blind as if the blind were to be segregated there for the rest of their days.

"It is not a home for the blind," he protested, "and I do not believe in homes for the blind. St. Dunstan's is an institution where those who are not seen are helped to equip themselves to retake their places in the ordinary walks and affairs of life. Often despondent at first, they are set some simple task and when they find how easily it is done, a spirit of regeneration seems to come over them. They catch the spirit of accomplishment and thereafter nothing is too great for them to attempt."

Back to His Old Trade.

"One of the most despondent men with whom we have had to deal was a blinded 'Tommy,' who had been a sort of steamfitter, or house heating expert. None of the ordinary trades appealed to him and he felt as if he were altogether done for. Suddenly I asked him how he would like to go back to his old job. He shook his head sadly. It couldn't be done. I told him we would see about that. I wrote to his old firm, and one of the partners came to see me. I asked if they would take 'Tommy' back. I was assured the firm would like to do so, but they could not see how a blind man could fill any post in their business. I obtained a promise, however, that if I could assist the soldier to such an extent that I felt he was entitled to a trial they would do so.

"I immediately sent for all the available text books on house heating I could find. I even got two volumes from America. The end of the story was very simple. I had a letter from the firm a few days ago saying 'Tommy' was receiving nearly double his old salary, was of more value to them than he had ever been, or, they believed, ever would have been."

MEXICAN IN TROUBLE.

Mexico City, Aug. 3.—Charges of breach of discipline of the army and of conduct tending to embarrass the foreign policy of Mexico have been made against General Juan Merigo in connection with a statement said to have been made by him which was published in a local paper and in which he was alleged to have advocated that Mexico break with Germany and join the allies. General Merigo asserts in reply to the charges that at the time the statement was made he had resigned from the army and his resignation had been accepted, and that he considered his utterances patriotic rather than likely to involve Mexico to her detriment.

IMPROVING THEIR MANNERS.

Stockholm, Aug. 3.—The special correspondent of a Stockholm paper writes from the German front in France of the treatment meted out to "disrespectful Frenchmen who did not know the correct Prussian method of greeting their superiors." They were brought into a large room and compelled for two hours at a stretch to pass and repass a German officer's stuffed uniform, saluting each time they passed it and saying respectfully, "Bon jour, monsieur l'officier." A sentinel with fixed bayonet stood near to see that the salutations were properly made.

ASSISTANTS ARE NAMED

Physician Members of Draft Board to Have Help in Examination.

STAGE SET FOR TESTS IN THIRD DISTRICT

First Man Up is in Far-Off Virginia With His Family.

Assistants for the examining physicians in each of the city districts for the draft to make up Uncle Sam's new army have been named and will report for duty when the work of making body tests start.

In the Third district Drs. William O. McBride and J. C. Wallace will aid Dr. J. E. McArdle, the member of the examination board. Drs. Max Lehman and H. M. Senseney will assist Dr. L. P. Drayer in the second city section. Dr. Charles Beall will be aided in the examination work in the First district by Drs. Dean Metcalf and A. L. Schneider.

The physicians are planning to increase the speed of their examining work by specializing in their tests. One doctor will examine the subject's eyes and hearing and pass the man on to the next physician, who may seek out other organic defects. In each district the physicians expect to care for nearly twenty men an hour.

Ready for Examinations. Physical examinations will start in the Third district, that section south of the Pennsylvania railroad tracks, on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. The tests will be held in the office of the Hoagland school building. One hundred and two men have been ordered to report for physical examination on Saturday.

The first man to have been called for examination in the Third district is in Virginia. He went to the southern state soon after registration. He will be examined there. He has a family and is expected to be exempt for service. He had No. 258.

Board members have been told that Ralph Edwards Fries, 1619 Green street, jitney driver, and the second man in the district to be called, will also stand a chance for exemption. He has dependents, it is stated.

Board members, who know many of the young men in their district, believe that Mark Baker, 311 Pontiac street, the third man on the list, stands a good chance of being the first Fort Wayne man called for service in the new army. He is apparently physically fit and is not known to seek exemption.

The next two men to appear before the board are also said to be apparent candidates for freedom's host. They are Oscar W. Brungart, 703 Walnut street, and Harman Miller, 2408 John street.

Rules Are Fixed.

Physicians connected with the exemption boards have announced that they will adhere closely to the rules for bodily examination, which have been sent out from Washington and of which each examining doctor has been furnished a copy.

The examining physicians are told to take the word of nobody in regard to ailments and defects but to find out the physical state of the conscripted party by personal test.

First observation of the examining physician will be of the subject's scalp, ears, nose, mouth, face and neck to ascertain general blood conditions and bodily tone. Marked defects will make themselves known at this time.

Men who are below five feet and four inches tall must be of good physique, well developed and muscular to be taken for service. Unless exceptionally well proportioned men who are above six feet and six inches tall will not be accepted.

The table prepared by the surgeon general of the army and which will hold for local examinations sets the minimum weight and chest measurements for the varied heights as follows:

Height.	Weight.	Chest.
Feet.	(Pounds.)	(Inches.)
5-1-12	118	31
5-2-12	120	31
5-3-12	124	31
5-4-12	128	32
5-5-12	130	32
5-6-12	132	32
5-7-12	134	32
5-8-12	141	33
5-9-12	148	34
5-10-12	155	34
5-11-12	162	34
6-1-12	169	34
6-2-12	176	35
6-3-12	183	35
6-4-12	190	36
6-5-12	204	37
6-6-12	211	38

The draft regulations state that a variation from eight to twenty pounds will be allowed if the subject is evidently vigorous and healthy. Variations in weight above the standard are not disqualifying.

Ask Good Heart.

Strenuous test of the heart action is to be taken. The draft subject will be required to leap into the air several times, to stand and broad jump as far as possible a number of times, to run the length of the room several times as rapidly as possible. After each exercise the heart palpitations will be noted. The heart life must be strong and steady if the subject is to enter the army.

The vision will be tested by the use of lettered cards, which must be read at twenty paces. The hearing will be examined by the physicians pronouncing

GOOD NAME WORTH $50 TO BOB SMITH

Did Not Appear for Trial on Charge of Annoying Women.

There is a certain young man who mingles in the social set and who attends the fashionable dances. He has a weakness in being unaccountable for all his acts after he assist the commerce of a few schooners over the foam crested bar. He was in a few saloons Thursday evening.

It was this certain young man who climbed into a stalled automobile at the transfer corner at 19 o'clock Thursday night. Two married women were in the machine. The fellow took a seat between them while they sat in the machine, awaiting for the batteries to gain strength enough to pull the motor.

"Who is he?" inquired Mrs. S. of Mrs. G.

"Who is he?" asked Mrs. G. of Mrs. S.

"You are in wrong. Get out," ordered Mrs. S. of the misplaced social light. The young man said not a word but smiled blandly in only the way that a young man in his tipsy state can grin.

Mrs. S. leaped from the car and called a "cop." The young man also alighted from the machine and was gathered in the assuring arms of a patrolman. At police headquarters the defendant on a disorderly charge gave his name as "Bob Smith." That name sounded better than Jones or Baker or Allen to "Bob."

Friends were called and the young man was released on $50 bond. In police court Friday morning the bailiff called in vain for "Bob Smith." The bond will be forfeited. It is talked about that "Bob Smith" would rather give $50 than appear in court.

Does It Pay?

Honestly, does Good-Samaritanism pay these days?

Wallace Gray, who claims to be a good Samaritan, doubts the benefit of brotherly service. He told in police court that he only stopped to help Buel Hosier, 24, member of the local battery, crank an automobile and much trouble followed. Gray and Hosier will both be in jail for three months.

Ralph Dun, who lives on rural route No. 2, said he saw the young man trying to start his automobile when Dunn came from a meeting in the Aldine hall Thursday night. Dunn got two of his friends and the three men accosted the intruders. Hosier insisted that the machine was his. Police were called and Hosier and Gray were locked up.

Hosier, who had given his name as Ed Hosier had no excuse for attempting to take the car. Gray, a negro, who claims to be a graduate of Missouri state university, said he only stopped to help Hosier. On a charge of attempting to steal an automobile, both defendants were fined $25 and sentenced to ninety days in jail.

Other Police Court Cases.

Charles Smith, laborer, who lives in the part of the city known as Kaiser-ville, pleaded guilty to having stolen water pipes from the city. He had broken up the metal tubes to conceal their identity when Detective Sergeant William P. Pappert was attracted to the case. Smith was fined $1 and costs and given a thirty day suspended jail sentence.

Clarence Shonburg, chauffeur, was fined $15 and costs after he had pleaded guilty to a speeding charge.

Ethel De Long, charged with loitering, was released for the third time by Judge H. W. Kerr. She had been arrested on Wednesday night. Attorney Andrew W. Perry appeared for the defendant.

A. Z. Henander, charged with disorderly conduct, is held under $50 bond for trial on August 7.

Cases of public intoxication were: Frank O'Donald, Fred Krone and Phillip Brady, all released. Dick Brennan is held for authorities from southern Indiana.

ing whispered words at the back of the conscription subject.

Rejections will be given for the following defects:

Mental weakness, chronic skin diseases, abrupt depression of the skull due to fracture, curvature of the spine, bursted ear drums, defective vision, deformities which hinder speech, very bad teeth (there must be four serviceable molar teeth), pronounced goiter, weak lungs and heart, venereal ailments, chronic rheumatism, webbed fingers, total loss of two fingers on either hand, pronounced varicose veins, pronounced knock-knees, club feet, flat feet, webbed toes, bunions, hammertoes.

The defects must be so marked as to clearly make the subject unfit for military service. In case of temporary disablement the young man will be ordered to report later for another test.

Men who are rejected at this time because of physical weakness will be subject to being called back at any time for another examination and possibly to be taken for service. If the war long continues. The examining rule may be modified at any time by the president, the physical test law sets out in its closing paragraph.

SPEAKS AT WEST BADEN.

Judge Samuel M. Hench, department commander of the G. A. R., has had one more date added to his already long schedule of speeches throughout the state. On August 16, the department commander will go to West Baden, there to address a meeting of old soldiers of the Third congressional district.

LABORER GETS JUDGMENT.

Robert Lowery, colored, a laborer, was given a judgment for seven dollars and costs in Justice H. F. Bullerman's court Friday morning against Ben. Michaelson, a merchant.

INDEPENDENCE OF FINLAND IS DENIED

Russian Government Says Russian People Must Be Consulted.

Petrograd, Aug. 2.—(Delayed)—The provisional government has refused to acknowledge Finland's independence law and instead has issued a manifesto dissolving the landtag and appointing a general election on Oct. 1, declaring that the government when the landtag meets will submit its own law regulating Russo-Finnish relations.

The manifesto, which is signed by all ten ministers, expounds the provisional government's contention that Finland enjoys independence only within the limit defined by her constitution, the essential factor of which is the position of the emperor and grand duke, which has now passed to the provisional government. The independence law, the manifesto says, not being submitted for the sanction of the provisional government as the authority invested with the former grand duke's right of sanction is unconstitutional and further declares that the government cannot "recognize the Finnish landtag's right arbitrarily to seize the freedom of will of the constituent assembly."

The fate of Finland can be decided only in agreement with the Russian people, the manifesto declares. The minister for Finland took the manifesto to Helsinki and delivered it to General Stavokovich, who read it to the senate, after which he made a friendly speech in which he said:

"This manifesto is the most democratic action yet performed by the revolutionary government for it makes Finland's people master of their own destinies."

The landtag is expected to decide its course of action tonight. The socialist majority threatens to defy the manifesto and continue its session, while the non-socialists expect to obey it. It is stated that the members of the high council have telegraphed to Helsinki declaring they would refuse to administer any further landtag enactments passed under an unconstitutional independence law.

Truckmen Residing East of City Complain to Sheriff About Roaming Horse.

The old gray mare, she rolled on the cabbage patch. Messrs. Brinkley and Allard, truckmen, residing east of Parnell avenue, said nothing about an old white horse which was roaming about the roads until she turned into their garden and proceeded to enjoy herself by lying down and rolling all over some fine cabbage plants.

They captured old Dobbin and are holding him as damages. They reported the matter to Sheriff George W. Gille Friday morning and inquired what should be done with the horse.

The sheriff told them that the Indiana statutes gave them the privilege of holding the horse until the owner pays the damages. The sheriff issued a public warning several months ago that all people who allowed their animals to roam around on other people's property would be forced to pay the damages inflicted.

JUMPS FROM BRIDGE

AND IS BADLY HURT

Man Giving Name as Clyde Cline and Home at Toledo Attempts Suicide.

A man giving his name as Clyde Cline and his home as Toledo, O., attempted suicide Thursday evening by jumping headfirst from the bridge just west of New Haven on the Lincoln highway. There was but little water in the creek below. His shoulder was broken and two serious wounds were inflicted on his head.

Cline is of unsound mind. Earlier in the evening he had called at a number of places along the road inquiring for physicians and asking for revolvers, shotguns, morphine and similar articles with which to end his life. All persons with whom he talked thought he was intoxicated.

Residents of the vicinity saw him jump from the bridge. He was bleeding and unconscious when they reached him. He was taken to Dr. G. G. Brundage's office in New Haven, where his injuries were dressed and later to the county farm. He is 34 years old.

LOWER RATE MEANS MORE STREET LIGHTS

Work of Putting Up One Hundred Lamps is Started.

One hundred more street lights will be installed in the city as a result of the lowering of the street light rate from $53 to $50 a year. Work of placing the new lights is already started under the direction of Frank Dix, of the light department.

The city budget for next year provides $60,000 for city lighting. The city pays only for the electric current used. The municipal light plant installs the posts, wires and lamps. The lighting budget is sufficient to provide for more than 1,100 lights at the old rate. Under the new cost plan allowed by the state utility commission, more than 1,200 lamps can be paid for.

COST OF SEWERS.

HAVE NEW MOWN HAY.

Park Board Will Sell Dried Grass to Highest Bidder.

Winrows of new mown hay is scenting the air in Foster park. Twenty-five acres of excellent hay have been cut by park workmen and will be offered before the week end. It is the plan of the park board to sell the hay to the highest bidder.

Three teams are at work grading Weissner park. The cellars, where half a dozen houses stood, at the north end of the park, will be filled up before the week-end, it is thought.

Placing of new back steps for the tennis courts is going on in Swinney and Lawton parks. Where the back steps are in good shape the posts and wires are being posted.

Adolph Jaenake, the new park superintendent, is a tennis enthusiast.

"There is no game more healthful for the young folks than tennis," says Jaenake. "I want to see the tennis and ball grounds in every park kept in fine shape."

foots the Foe.

An Atlantic Port, Aug. 3.—An American tank steamship loaded with gasoline was engaged in a running fight with a German submarine on July 10 when near the French coast and escaped destruction by superior speed after a torpedo had been launched and twenty-one shots had been fired from the U-boat's deck gun, according to officers of the vessel on arrival here today.

The submarine appeared after the wake of the passing torpedo had warned the Americans of the presence of an enemy. From a position several miles astern the bombardment took place, but none of the shots reached a mark. The American gunners on the tanker fired sixteen shots in return, but without results so far as could be ascertained. The captain of the tank steamer asserted that the dangerous cargo he carried induced him to seek safety in flight rather than to try for a showdown at close quarters.

FOOD EXPERT SAYS TO KEEP ON CULTIVATING

Best Way to Retain Moisture is to Keep Ground Broken Up.

Farmers and gardeners worried about the continued hot weather and its effect upon corn and other crops, who have been consistently cultivating, are urged to continue to do so by G. W. Gray, food expert, in order that all the moisture in the ground may be retained.

A question seems to have arisen among many as to the best course to pursue, whether to plow the cornfield during the hot weather or leave it as it is. Mr. Gray's answer to the question is that where the ground has been worked, ploughing should continue, but preferably to a depth of two or three inches. The difference of opinion has arisen before, according to Mr. Gray, but the course outlined has been found by experimental tests to be the best one to pursue. The weeds should be kept out and the cultivator should be more diligent now than at any other time, according to Mr. Gray, because weeds turned over now will die, whereas at other times when the heat is not so intense they cannot be so readily stamped out.

The ground should not be cultivated at too great a depth, but the crust formed by the heat should be broken up.

Mr. Gray was not extremely optimistic over the outlook for the potato crop this season. He said, however, that it was his belief that those who planted their potatoes about the first of July would get better results than those who planted them earlier.

POSTMEN NOT TO BE EXEMPT FROM DRAFT

Postmaster Will Not Ask That They Be Excused from Service.

Although it is possible under the decision made relating to the drafting of postoffice employees and others in the service of the federal government, for them to be exempt from the draft if a recommendation is made by the postmaster, President Miller made a statement Friday that he would not ask for the exemption of any of the men employed here. Postmaster Miller's decision will affect about ten men of military age, some of whom possibly having been expecting draft exemption because they are employed by the federal government.

The resolve of the postmaster that he would not ask that any of the local men be excused was probably prompted by the belief that substitutions to fill the vacancies left by drafted men can be readily made. It is believed that these places can be filled in the government service here as well as those that will result in many private concerns.

In a great many cities, it is reported, that the postmasters have already asked that exemptions be made for postal employees, but such a course has not been found necessary here.

CHANGE MADE IN COMMAND

Indianapolis Man Appointed
Captain of Battery B
Over Capt. Clark.

STREET PARADE TO BE GIVEN SUNDAY

Public Will Turn Out to Say
Good-Bye to Local Company.

Like a bolt of lightning out of a clear sky came word Thursday evening from Adjutant General Harry B. Smith of the appointment of Lieutenant Snyder S. Miller, of A Battery, Indianapolis, superseding Captain Harry Clark. Much resentment is felt here over the action.

Captain Clark has had practical experience in artillery work for over ten years. However, it was after much persuasion that he finally accepted to head the local battery. He had closed up his work in Cleveland and had come to Fort Wayne to accompany his men to Fort Benjamin Harrison on Sunday morning. The action of the adjutant general is said to have been wholly unexpected. No explanation has been given for the change.

Telegrams were forwarded over a week ago by Captain Clark to the adjutant general and Col. R. H. Tyndall accepting the command of the local battery. That no action was taken relative to his dismissal until almost on the eve of the battery's departure for Fort Harrison is one of the inexplicable things connected with the unexpected change.

The case is, in many ways, similar to that of Lieutenant Luther Mertz, of Battery D. Lieutenant Mertz, it will be recalled, tendered his resignation shortly after returning from the Mexican border, where he had served with Battery D. The resignation was accepted. Later he was induced to come back into the service and as an inducement was offered the command of Battery D. Later the adjutant general named Lieutenant Mark Dawson, also of Battery A, Indianapolis, as commanding officer, leaving Mertz as senior first lieutenant. After going to Fort Harrison two Indianapolis men also were named as lieutenants in Battery D.

The new commanding officer of Battery B was a sergeant in the battery at the encampment at Fort Benjamin Harrison in May, 1916. When the call came for Mexican border service he was promoted to a lieutenant.

Parade Is Planned.
Battery B will leave Fort Wayne Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, standard time. The Fort Wayne Council for Patriotic Service has promptly responded and all arrangements for a large parade and farewell program have been made.

Dr. A. G. Enrick, who was named chief marshal, has appointed the following as his aides: Capt. W. F. Ranke, Maj. John F. Miller, Maj. Clyde E. Driesbach and Herman Neilsburg.

A platoon of police will lead the parade, followed by the chief marshal and his aides. The marching order of the other organizations are the Elks' band, Company E, Company B, signal corps, Red Cross girls, Camp Fire girls, General Electric lamp works girls, U. S. girls of G. E., Jefferson drum corps, Boy Scout patrol, Bowser military club, General Electric guards, Citizens' band, Spanish war veterans, civil war veterans, Battery B and relatives of the members of Battery B.

drum corps, Boy Scout patrols, Bowser military club and General Electric guard will form on Harrison street, south of Berry. The Spanish war veterans, members of the G. A. R., Battery B and relatives of the departing soldiers will form on Berry street, east of Harrison.

All orders are to be in their places at 9 o'clock. The column will move at 9:30 o'clock over the following line of march: South on Harrison to Jefferson, to Calhoun, to Columbia, to Harrison, to the L. E. & W. station.

At the Anthony hotel from the balcony of the second floor a short program of addresses will be given. The speakers are selected are Judge Samuel M. Hench and Judge John W. Eggeman, of the Allen circuit court.

Battery Mess Fund.
The booster campaign for the fund of Battery B netted this artillery unit $216 from baseball tickets, $40.70 by donations and the social given Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. John A. Hood netted $47.25.

The officers of the battery and men interested in the battery's welfare have inaugurated a campaign for a mess kit fund. It is pointed out that the government is unable at the present time to provide mess kits for all the boys and consequently the donations will be used to purchase mess kits for the members of the battery.

Motor Reserve Responds.
The Fort Wayne motor reserves have been called upon to do some patriotic work. At 10 o'clock Friday morning this organization provided a number of automobiles to take the members of the battery to various parts in the city notifying all members to report to the court house Sunday morning at 8 o'clock promptly. Everyone is asked to bring his baggage with him.

Fifty-six telegrams were sent out to non-resident members of the battery Thursday night. Officers and several men remained at work until 1 o'clock Friday morning.

Tonight is the night at Swinney Park.

MANY SECURE EMPLOYMENT.

Frantic Call of Farmers for Help Has Subsidized.

During the past week the Fort Wayne branch of the free employment bureau was the means whereby 138 men and eight women secured work. The frantic cry for help by the farmers of the county has subsided, according to Fred C. Schmeling, who is in charge of the work.

Those who secured work during the week are listed as follows: Six dishwashers, twelve farm hands, one fireman, 116 laborers, five day workers and three general houseworkers.

Serva, salesmanager of the General Electric works, who was elected president of the Electro-Technic club some time ago, has just issued his report of the election and announced the names of the chairmen of the committees for the 1917-1918 term. The bulletin also instructs the chairmen to go ahead and fill up their committees by making appointments as early as possible and furnish the secretary of the association with a list of the names. The officers of the association are:

President—A. A. Serva.
Vice President—John R. Pulver.
Secretary—S. E. Unclapher.
Treasurer—A. J. Schoenlein.
Member of the Board of Management—Samuel J. Gordon.

Nothing has been done in the way of lecture program, but it is announced that the lost will be the best that can be procured.

ENGINE THROWN ON SIDE.

G. R. & I. Has Rear End Collision at Kendallville.

As the first section of southbound G. R. & I. train was pulling in a siding at Kendallville at an early hour this morning, the second section crashed into the rear of the first, derailing the engine and some cars and throwing engine No. 98, which was pulling the second train, on its side. Fortunately none of the crew was hurt. The Pennsylvania wreck crew was summoned to the scene and soon had the tracks cleared. Trainmaster F. S. Fox and Road Foreman of Engines A. L. Lophshire went to the scene of the wreck.

SPIDGLER RESIGNS POSITION.

Well Known Clerk at G. R. & I. Offices Joins Army.

J. E. Spiegel, clerk for Chief Clerk M. Hoffman of the G. R. & I. division engineer's office, resigned today. He enlisted in the signal corps some time ago and that body has been ordered to mobilize Sunday. His position in the railway office has been given to Miss Mildred Strebe, of Decatur, who will be the second woman clerk in the G. R. & I. offices.

WABASH FEDERATION MEETING.

F. R. Lee, president of the Federated Unions, on the Wabash system, has called a meeting of the shop committees at the division points on the system at Fort Wayne next Tuesday and Wednesday, to review the situation as it affects the organized employees of the company and plan for further improvement in the conditions. These meetings have been frequent in the past, but this is the first time one has been called to be held in Fort Wayne, more centrally located points being preferred. It is said there will be about thirty men present, each being a chairman of the committee he represents. L. D. Miller, of the machinists; Frank J. Schwanz, of the pipiters; Edward Seibold, of the boiler-makers; and Eugene Yehl, of the blacksmiths, representing the various departments of the local shop, will attend the meeting. The Wabash crafts—the blacksmiths, the boiler-makers, the pipiters and the machinists—are said to be more effectively organized than are the same crafts in many of the other shops.

VISITING HIS PARENTS.

Frank Madison, who worked in the Pennsylvania machine shop a quarter of a century ago, is here spending a week or two with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Williams, and his brother-in-law, Mr. H. Morrison. Frank Madison is now foreman of the Southern Pacific machine shop. William Madison, the father, will be 85 years old next Sunday. For many years he was foreman of one of the departments of the Pennsylvania shops, retiring when he reached the age of 70. When Mr. Madison came to Fort Wayne and took employment in the little machine shop on the banks of the canal, between Calhoun and Harrison street, nearly sixty years ago, the city had a population of less than 8,000 and only two railroads.

FOREMEN WILL RETURN SUNDAY.

Art Williams, foreman of the Pennsylvania tool room, and F. Charles Meyers, foreman of the vice department, will return from vacation trips Sunday and will resume their duties at the shops Monday. Mr. Williams has been at Lake Wawasee and Mr. Meyers has been in Kansas, visiting relatives. Mrs. Meyers and Miss Tillie Meyers are with Mr. Meyers and will return home with him.

CLAUDE MOORE IMPROVING.

If the present improvement continues a week or two, Claude W. Moore, a gang foreman at the Pennsylvania paint shop, will resume his work about the latter part of the month. He had one of his feet crushed three or four months ago by a heavy part of a locomotive falling upon it and was laid up for several weeks. He is now able to walk but is not well. W. J. Koch, a painter in the shop, has been working in Mr. Moore's place since the accident.

TO ATTEND LEHNEKE FUNERAL.

The funeral of the late Conductor E. A. Lehneke of the G. R. & I. road, will be under the auspices of the O. R. C., division No. 119, and instructions have been issued to the members to assemble at Unity hall at 1:15 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Thence they will go to the residence, No. 719 Hugh street to hold exercises at 2:30 o'clock standard time. Interment will be in Lindenwood.

SPENT TWO WEEKS WITH SON.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hohman returned from a two weeks' pleasure trip in the east yesterday. They spent the greater portion of the time away with their son, Robert Hohman, who holds a responsible position with a big industrial concern in New York. Mr. Hohman, who is a machinist, reported for duty at the Pennsylvania shops this morning.

PREPARING FOR AN OUTING.

William Wehrs, assistant foreman of the Pennsylvania planing mills, is taking a party of his fishing tackle, which indicates an intention of using it soon. He expects to go to Rome City about the 14th to spend a week catching bluegills and bass.

RECOVERING FROM SHOCK.

Barrett Van Buskirk, of 2312 Bowser avenue, employed at the Bowser works, who received an electric shock in the back yard of his home on July 24, is improving very slowly. He will not be able to work for some time.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

NO TROUBLE TO GET WOMEN IN THE SHOPS

Applicants Intelligent and Industrious—Some from Out of City.

The proposition to employ a number of women at the local Pennsylvania shops promises to solve the labor shortage question in those works. So far Master Mechanic E. E. Griest has about 100 applications on file and is hurrying arrangements for giving the applicants employment, expecting to put 200 or more at work early next week.

Two women began work this morning. They were Mrs. Edith E. McKean and Mrs. Mary M. Belling, both being assigned to the store room, under Division Storekeeper J. B. Fowler, who feels proud of being the first at the Pennsylvania shops to employ women laborers. Both of these ladies are widows and are possessed of more than ordinary intelligence and efficiency in conducting the work of material distributors, the duty assigned them.

Applicants appeared at the master mechanic's office in great numbers today and the names and addresses of most all of them were filed and the women given instructions when and where to report for duty. The mails also brought to Mr. Griest a number of letters from women in other cities, who had read in their home papers the item sent out by the Associated Press from the Sentinel office Wednesday. Six or seven letters came from women living in Indianapolis. One was from a widow who made application for herself and her two daughters. She stated that the daughters were twenty-two and nineteen years old respectively; that both were educated and that the younger one graduated from the Indianapolis high school last June. The mother is a music teacher and at present is connected with the Indianapolis Conservatory of Music, her letter being written stationery from that concern. She also stated that she had considerable business experience and for several months prior to last March had charge of a rural route of twenty-two miles. Other letters were from women at Dayton, Kokomo, Vincennes and other cities, stating that the writers were anxious to come to Fort Wayne and take employment with the Pennsylvania company if desirable work could be secured. The writing indicated that the persons who directed the movements of the pen were educated and apparently used to writing. In none of the letters was the spelling bad and rarely did a grammatical error appear. All these letters will be answered and the writers requested to come and make personal investigation of the proposition to take employment in the shops.

Nothing in recent years has created as much excitement among the employees at the works as has the question of female labor in the shops. There is no cause for alarm, the shop management says, for none of the men will be thrown out of employment. The plant is short on labor of all kinds and will stand at present an addition of 600 to the working force.

Bowser Employees' Outing Will Be Largest Excursion from Those Works.

The annual outing of the employees of S. F. Bowser & Co., with their families, to Winona takes place tomorrow and it will be the greatest of all excursions from that big plant in a numerical way at least. Arrangements have been made for two twelve-car trains over the Pennsylvania. One will leave Fort Wayne at 7:15 and the other at 8 o'clock Saturday morning and returning, will leave Winona at 5 and 6 respectively. As usual, Mr. Bowser has made every preparation for safeguarding the excursionists and for entertaining them on the grounds at Winona. There will be an excellent musical program and all sorts of innocent sports in the grove and on the water and the family groups making up the excursion party will go provided with well filled baskets. And "Bowser pays the freight." He also allows the employees full pay for the day on the shop rolls, which in these times of high cost of living is a very important item.

POWDERLESS GUN, EFFECTIVE AND NOISELESS, NATION'S LATEST WEAPON

Here's the latest contribution of American inventive genius to warfare. Quiet tests of a powderless gun which may revolutionize land attacks and defense have been going on at the Washington navy yard. The gun is revolved at great speed by an electric motor, and is capable of firing hundreds of shots a minute.

The bullets are carried in small cups, which hold them until the gun reaches the proper position for their discharge individually by centrifugal force.

The gun is accurate at five miles, is cheap to operate, and—above all, it is noiseless.

Congressman Dill, of Washington, has introduced an appropriation of $50,000 for the tests.

URGES A PRACTICE OF CONSERVATION

Save Staples by Eating or
Says Government.

Washington, Aug. 3.—"The great abundance of 'war-garden' and truck products in cities and rural communities offers an immediate opportunity for consumers locally to help better the world food situation," says the United States department of agriculture.

"Make fresh vegetables and fruits staple foods. Eat the perishable fresh fruits and vegetables now, while they are most delicious, and can and preserve them for future use."

The following available fresh fruits and vegetables may be classified for this war emergency diet:

Apples, peaches, pears, plums, blackberries, raspberries, beets, carrots, potatoes, onions, beans, peas, sugar corn, tomatoes, cabbage, lettuce, etc.

Right now there is an abundance of these fresh foods ripening in the "war gardens" of many cities and rural districts as well as on the farms of Indiana. Housewives are urged to use those from their own gardens first. If they have no garden, they should purchase from local markets or farmers or neighbors while prices are low and not only serve daily, but can, preserve, pickle and dry for winter use.

Wherever the vegetables named are available abundantly from home gardens or can be purchased cheaply in the markets, or from neighbors, their use in the diet to a greater extent than usual will help food conditions. In general, the more simply vegetables and fruits are prepared for the table the better, but when they are being consumed in especially large quantities it often will be desirable to vary the dishes.

CORN MARKET SHORTS DISPLAY UNEASINESS

Failure of Rain to Give Crop
Assurances Puts Prices Forward.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 3.—Much uneasiness showed itself today on the part of shorts in corn, owing to the fact that with two holidays ahead no relief was in sight from the continued lack of rain and from the scantiness of receipts. Opening quotations were ranged from 1/8¢ to 1 1/8¢ higher, with December at $1.18 1/2¢ to $1.18 1/2¢, and May at $1.16 to $1.16 1/2¢, were followed by slight further upturns and then a moderate reaction.

The close was unsettled at the same as yesterday's close, with December at $1.17 1/2¢ to $1.17 1/2¢, and May at $1.15 1/2¢ to $1.15 1/2¢.

Wheat displayed a tendency to drop back from yesterday's sudden step advance of 13c. After opening 6c down at $2.25, September, the market rallied to $2.30, but soon sagged to $2.29. Big threshing returns had a weakening effect on oats.

The close was unsettled at $2.27 1/2¢ net decline, with September at $2.27 1/2¢.

WALL STREET SHOWS IRREGULAR STRENGTH

Industrial Alcohol Gives
Steels Up Some.

New York, Aug. 3.—Violent fluctuations in industrial alcohol which opened at an advance of 2 1/2 points, followed by a re-action of 4 1/2 featured today's early trading. Elsewhere irregular gains prevailed. Crucible steel rose a large fraction but kindred issues were barely changed.

Irregular strength ruled throughout the forenoon under the influence of short covering. United States steel re-acted slightly, but crucible extended its early advance. Utah was the only prominent copper stock. Investment rails were in better demand. St. Paul and Illinois Central gaining a point and "Socon" preferred 3.

Liberty bonds fell to the low record of 99.32 for full lots.

Nation, in Peril, Must Awaken, Says Senator

Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

Never in the history of the United States, Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, declared in the senate, has the outlook been so serious and menacing as it is today as the result of the complete breakdown of Russia. Mr. Borah made a vigorous plea for some action, which would awaken the country to the peril of the situation.

MAKE COMFORT KITS FOR BATTERY B MEN

Red Cross Workers Engaged in Task for Benefit of Soldiers.

Red Cross workers are doing their share to make the members of Battery B, the Fort Wayne unit which departs for East Harrison Sunday, more comfortable during the stay in the training camp. Ninety-two comfort kits are being made at the headquarters on East Berry street, and these will be completed Friday afternoon. The kits are to be used as carriers of all the necessary utensils in the life of a soldier.

Volunteers are still responding nobly to the call of the Red Cross. Friday morning caddies at the Country club brought in a large amount of tin foil which they had saved, and gave it to be sold for the benefit of the Red Cross. A "gift table" is soon to be placed in the window at the Red Cross headquarters, and persons may deposit all articles there for the aid of the great movement. A glass showcase is one of the new donations to the Red Cross, coming from the Woodward Drug company. Children working at the workrooms Thursday afternoon and Friday morning were Charlotte Doswell, Mary Elizabeth Potts, Franklin Smith, Lucille B. Lapp, Iva Riley and Vera Lipkey.

The Fort Wayne council No. 57, Junior Order of Mechanics, is considering the formation of an auxiliary branch to the Red Cross, and will decide upon the matter at a meeting next week.

Shipments are coming in daily to the central station on Calhoun street. Friday morning large shipments were received from Laporte, Newton county, Jasper county, Blackford and Huntington. Mrs. A. E. Farver, director of the shipping station, has named the following committees to take charge of the work: Inspection of garments—Mrs. W. S. Morris, Mrs. H. G. Keegan, Mrs. Julia Metzger and Mrs. Frank Stouder. Inspection of surgical dressing—Mrs. Ed Riecke, Mrs. Jane Meriwether, Mrs. W. M. Burger, Miss Florence Kemp and Miss Hilda Pranger.

A PLAGUE OF PLANT LICE IN THE STATE

Immense Damage Already is Inflicted on Growing Green Things.

Indianapolis, Aug. 3.—Plant lice or aphides, which have attacked most of the green things in the state this year have already caused thousands of dollars damage, and unless energetic steps are taken at once to control the pests, the damage will be hundreds of thousands of dollars more in spite of the headway against the aphides being made by parasites, according to men in the office of F. N. Wallace, state entomologist, who have been investigating conditions. Although publicity to the damage done and information as to how to fight the lice has aroused many, the fight must be continued, Mr. Wallace says.

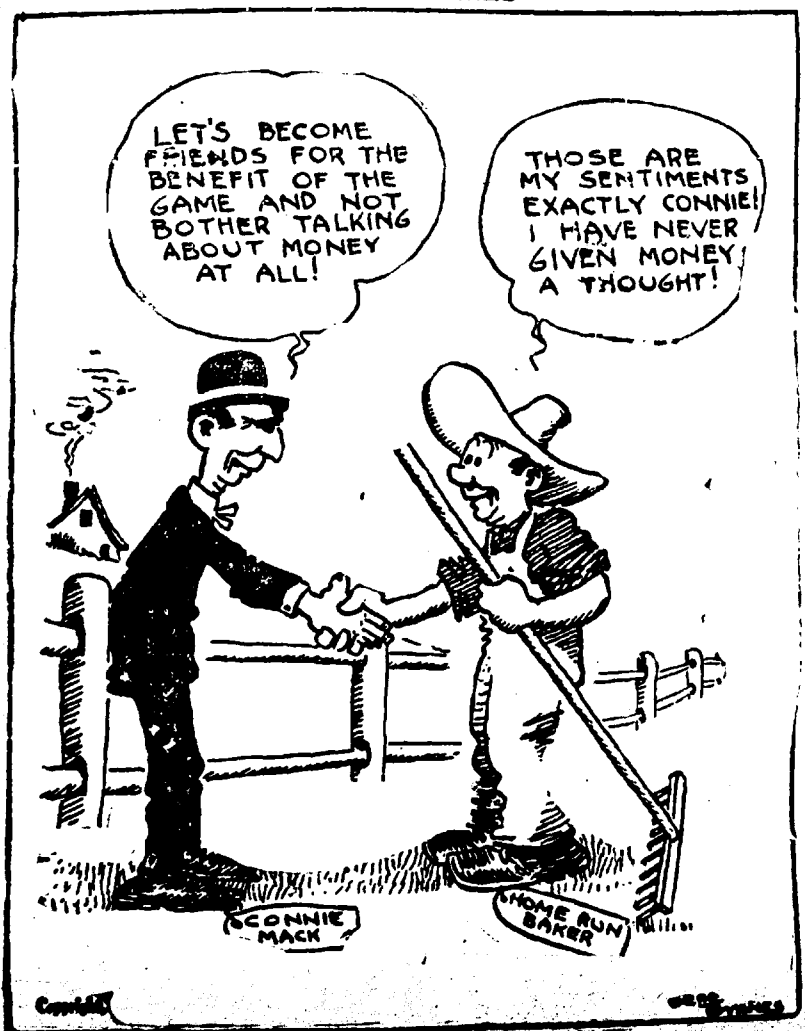

Up until this year the parasites have followed the plant lice and controlled them before the damage has been great. When the lice appeared first this year it was thought the parasites would do their usual work. When the aphides were found on potatoes and other vegetables, however, advice on how to spray with nicotine sulphate, kerosene emulsion or whale oil soap was given. Later it was discovered the parasites were not at work and the agitation against the lice became more intense. If the plants are sprayed until the aphides are reduced to the normal number their natural enemies will control them.

The aphides has its friends among parasites, it has been discovered in this state. The syrphus fly, one of the deadly enemies of the plant lice, appeared in numbers. The two flies are so antagonistic that little headway was made against the aphides by the syrphus fly. Other enemies of the aphides are the lady bug and aphid lion. They now are appearing in numbers but too late to prevent the damage already done.

William Sawyer, from Bluffton, has taken employment with Foreman Benj. O'Brien, of the meter testing department of the General Electric works.

WAR INDUSTRIES OF GERMANY BREAKING

Truth Gets Past Berlin Censor Showing Cause of Kaiser's Worry.

(By BASIL M. MANLY.)
(Staff Special.)

Washington, Aug. 3.—The Kaiser's troops are threatened with shortage of munitions and war supplies. Germany's war industries are slowing down on account of lack of coal, electric current and materials. For weeks her munition plants have been running only part time, producing only a part of the guns, shells and other weapons on which modern military success depends.

This is considered in Washington to be the real underlying cause of Germany's peace moves and the frantic efforts of the Kaiser to obtain decisive results on the Russian front.

This great news comes through a copy of the Frankfurter Zeitung, which has just reached Washington, an obscure paragraph of which tells the whole truth about Germany's critical condition. How it escaped the eagle eye of the censor is a mystery.

In view of the fact that the working of short time is becoming more common in the war industry, on account of shortage of coal, electric current and materials, we demand that the workmen shall everywhere be paid for the time lost.

"The intolerable prices of food and all other necessities compel the workmen to insist upon this demand, as a further deterioration in their living conditions is unbearable."

Analysis of this resolution shows its importance. This is not a local union protesting about conditions that might arise from a transportation tie-up, but the strongest of all the German unions with a pre-war membership of 1,106,003, represented in every industrial city, protesting about the loss of time in war industries generally, demanding that workmen "everywhere" be paid for this time.

The loss of productive time is not due to a deficiency of some one material for which a substitute might be found by German science, but to a shortage of the essentials of industry without which not a wheel can turn—"Coal, electric current and materials."

This shortage is affecting, not the working industry of which the line of manufacture with which Germany could dispense, but the "war industry," without which Hindenburg's millions would be little better than so many tin soldiers.

This loss of time, "becoming ever more common," is not simply a matter of a day or two once in a while, but is so prevalent that this great union, ultra-loyal from the beginning of the war, is at last driven to voice its demands to be paid for this shortage in their pay envelopes.

There can be little doubt the shortage of coal has been caused in part at least by the furious allied attacks on Lens, the great French coal center, but there is reason to believe, as indicated by previous dispatches, that even the German mines are not producing up to capacity on account of lack of able-bodied men.

The shortage of electric current arises from the coal shortage, but it means more than a mere lack of current to operate machines. Shortage of electric current menaces Germany's supply of nitrates, the essential basis of powder and every form of explosive. Germany has no nitrate deposits and is forced to rely upon the fixation of atmospheric nitrogen by electric current.

The vital meaning of this obscure paragraph in a German newspaper is that the German war machine is breaking down and no amount of frenzied drives by the Kaiser or crown prince on Russia or the western front can conceal that fact.

WAR WORK THAT FEW HAVE KNOWLEDGE OF

Laboratory of Indiana's State Chemists is a Busy Place.

Indianapolis, Aug. 3.—Not all war activity is confined to the training of soldiers, actual fighting, preparing bandages and hospital supplies, or making munitions. Some important work is being done in little suspected ways and places.

In a basement room, on the west side of the west corridor of the state house, a room, filled with test tubes, retorts, chemicals and many things mysterious to the average citizen, an important work is going on daily. The room has two unguarded entrances, one from a suite of rooms which the public may enter, and the other, barred with an iron gate, direct from the basement corridor. The casual observer never would suspect that the few men moving about in the room are engaged in an important work. The room has been occupied by the same men and apparatus for years and from all outward appearances is little different than before the war.

The space is part of that occupied by the state department of foods and drugs. In addition to the usual routine work of the department, performed in the laboratory the chemists are experimenting in "war" or "liberty" bread and cake baking. To one side of the room is a small cabinet, old and far from imposing, much in appearance like the old fashioned cupboards in country homes. When the door is opened there are to be seen sacks of flour, made of wheat, rice, corn, oats, peanuts, bananas and many other ingredients. There is a hard, along with many oils extracted from vegetables. The men who do the experimenting—men are employed as the chemists and they do the cooking in the laboratory, the girls employed by the department being stenographers—have a small gas oven in which they bake their mixtures. They are not afraid to taste their own baking, and sometimes may offer a taste to callers. Some recipes have been sent to them but most of such are not available for private use, as they are for batches of baked goods too large for anything but a hotel or large boarding house.

As yet, the chemists say, they have not worked out satisfactorily the things for which they are striving, although some good looking and appetizing baked goods have been turned out. A recent product was a small cake, in appearance like a breakfast muffin, but entirely wheatless. It contained corn flour, oat flour, and a little peanut flour. When baked it was a golden brown, with a good flavor, which it retained for several days. Raisins had been added to the dough just before baking.

Not all of the experimenting is done at the state house. One of the men says he has been doing the baking at his home for some time. He asserts that as yet he can only give out to the public the information that almost any good standard bread recipe may be taken, but instead of all wheat flour, as much as 25 per cent of corn flour may be used without decreasing the food value. The first baking may not be as good as later trials will produce.

EIGHT MEN DIE WHEN LIFEBOATS ARE HIT

German Submarine Crew is Charged With Act of Barbarism.

London, July 6.—(Correspondence.)—Eight men were killed and several wounded by the shelling by a German submarine of the life boats of the Elder Dempster steamer Addah, which was torpedoed on June 15, according to an official version of the affair. One boat was sunk by shrapnel fire from the submarine and the survivors were sprayed with shrapnel while they were in the water waiting for the other boats to pick them up.

The official narrative says that the submarine commander went alongside one of the Addah's life boats and made use of her to send some of the crew of the submarine on board the Addah just before the steamer sunk. When the submarine's crew had been returned to their craft, the officer in command of the life boat was ordered to move away from the submarine.

"By this time," the official statement reads, "the boat commanded by the captain of the Addah which at ready was badly smashed by one of the shells from the submarine, was about three or four hundred yards away from the German craft."

"The submarine again opened fire on the captain's boat with shrapnel, killing eight men and taking the boat's stern off. Even after the boat had been sunk and the men were swimming in the water, the submarine shelled them with shrapnel. When the German thought he had finished everybody who was in the captain's boat, he then opened fire on the chief officer's boat, firing eight shrapnel. Fortunately nobody was killed, but only holing the boat, breaking the oars and wounding several men slightly.

"After this the submarine commander waved to the chief officer to go over to the position where the captain and several people were swimming about to pick them up, and the submarine then went away on the surface.

"The captain and the remainder of the men were then picked up and taken aboard the chief officer's boat, and were eventually picked up by a French patrol steamer.

"This," the statement adds, "is a fine and gallant record for seamen of the nation that claims to be fighting for 'The Freedom of the Seas.'"

WAR ORGANIZED ON
TREMENDOUS SCALE
Vastness of Preparation is

Behind the British Lines in France, July 7. — (Correspondence.) — What makes an indelible impression on the newcomer to the battle front is the tremendous organization back of the actual fighting line, the miles of roadways dotted with transport of war food for men and horses, shells for the guns, ammunition for rifles and machine guns and comforts for the wounded.

The final and most interesting link in this vast organization is the operation of getting the food right up to the men in the trenches. It usually takes place under cover of darkness when the enemy is unable to impede its progress as efficiently as with the aid of daylight. Night after night this goes on. After one recovers from surprise at the quietness with which it is done he is bound to marvel at the clock-like precision of the whole operation—all of which testifies to the efficiency necessary in a war like this.

Intimation that the transport is preparing to move out toward the front line is a clattering of horses' shoes on the cobbles of a French farm yard. Then voices call out orders, water carts are filled; horses are harnessed to the wagons and a few minutes later the whole column is standing ready, silent, the transport men mounted, the quartermaster, transport officer and a sergeant on foot. In another instant a whistle sounds, there is a cracking of whip, then another clatter on the cobbles and the rumble of heavily laden wagons as the whole column moves out toward the trenches.

A few miles ahead the first star-shells shoot up and little sudden pricks of flame come from the enemy's guns, then there is soft burst of shrapnel followed by the deep boom of the heavy guns.

The road is narrow but wide enough for the limbers of other regiments, cookers, ambulances, army service corps lorries laden with tools and trench stores, orderlies on bicycles and wounded men to pass on their way further back of the lines. But not a word is heard as the two columns pass each other along this road. At the column "going in" with the rations moves up closer to the lines the star shells and boom of the big guns becomes more distinct. Suddenly the column halts—shells have burst in the road or on either side of it a little way ahead. When this ceases probably for only a few minutes the word is given to move on again. The column continues to crawl along until it reaches a battered old building beside the road and within a store's throw of the support trenches. Here are left the supplies brought up by this column.

The next sight is a stream of men with picks and shovels and ammunition; a sergeant to see that the rations for the different companies are placed in different piles; a post-corporal hurrying hither and thither in search of D company's letters, which have been mislaid; and the transport officer and quartermaster supervising and controlling everything—always in the most impenetrable darkness, save when a star-shell lights up the white faces, the sweating horses and the roads.

The transport officer gives the word, and the empty wagons jolt out onto the road again to join in the stream that flows back towards billets and sleep.

FEDERAL EXPERT TO URGE FIBRE GROWING

Washington, Aug. 3.—To encourage an extension of production of sisal and other hard fibers in the Philippine Islands the bureau of plant industry of the United States department of agriculture has sent a fiber-crop expert to the islands recently. H. T. Edwards, the representative, will cooperate with the fiber-crop division of the Philippine bureau of agriculture in the work. Fiber crops already are grown to some extent in the islands. World production of the hard fibers, used in the manufacture of binding twine and other materials, is not keeping pace with the increasing demands, according to officials of the department. It is certain that there are large areas in the Philippines which might be utilized to increase the supply substantially.

Summer Complaint.
During the hot weather of the summer months some member of almost every family is likely to be troubled with an unnatural looseness of the bowels, and it is of the greatest importance that this be treated promptly, which can only be done when the medicine is kept at hand. Mrs. F. F. Scott, Scottsville, N. Y., states, "I first used Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy as much as five years ago. At that time I had a severe attack of summer complaint and was suffering in some pain. One dose relieved me. Other members of my family have since used it with like results."—Advertisement.

AMERICANS DUB THE BRITON A NEW TITLE

London, Aug. 3.—American blue-jackets on duty in European waters have a nickname of their own for England's sailors and soldiers. They call them "limeys"; the individual being known as a "lime." The American sailors apply the designation to all English fighters just as the British refer to their soldiers as "Tom-mies."

The sailor from the United States has his nickname for nearly everything he sees. Bluejackets who had served in the Near and Far East first started calling British sailors and soldiers "lime-julcers" because of their fondness for fruit juice and charged water. Now the designation has been shortened down and everything British is "limey." British sailors and soldiers' clubs are known as "limey clubs" and British-brewed beer is commonly spoken of as "limey beer."

Chronic Constipation.
It is by no means an easy matter to cure this disease, but it can be done in most instances by taking Chamberlain's Tablets and complying with the plain printed directions that accompany each package.—Advertisement.

'Red' Ainsworth Lets Chiefs Down With Only Three Hits

The Auburn Haired Twirler Holds Locals Runless—Roberts is Pounded.

Richmond, Ind., Aug. 3.—With Red Ainsworth having Fort Wayne batsmen at his mercy for nine long innings, the husky league infants landed on Roberts for a total of seven markers, the Chiefs being unable to get single marker over the plate. Thirty batters faced Ainsworth in nine innings for a total of three hits. Only two men reached second and the Chiefs had practically no opportunity to break into the run column, while the infants got to Roberts in three frames.

The fireworks started in Richmond's half of the third when Roberts allowed five hits for a total of four runs. Coveleskie started it off with a smashing single. Reilly forced him at second and Ainsworth knocked one past Roberts. Donica bunted and got to first filling the bags. Hauser drew a pass, forcing in Reilly. Gygil hit a slow one to Seigried who caught Ainsworth at the plate. Crouch brought in Donica and Hauser with a long drive over Second Baseman Vandagriff's head. Hoffman made a great try of Rapp's drive but could not quite connect. Gygil scored but Crouch was caught off third, which ended the disaster for the Chiefs in the third and put the game on the ice.

The infants again got busy in the sixth when Gygil singled and stole second, and came in on a double by Crouch who also tallied when Kelly bobbled. A triple by Rapp and a single by Schick gave the locals their last run. With a total of three scattered hits the Chiefs had very little chance to score.

UNKNOWNNS AS BATTING KINGS—CRUISE, ROUSH, FISCHER MAKE THINGS LOOK BLUE FOR OLDER NATIONAL LEAGUE BATSMEN.

When Hal Chase won the National league batting championship last year it was not surprising. Chase had been in major league baseball for years and had seldom fallen out of the select 300 circle.

The leading batsmen of either of the big leagues can usually be guessed at fairly close by knowing the fellows who have been hitting the ball from .325 to .350 in former years. As a general rule it is just a matter of breaks between a few of the best.

In the American league Cobb has held a corner on the honors with the exception of one season for eleven years.

In the National league it used to be Wagner, then Zimmerman grabbed it for a season after which Daubert, Doyle and Chase held the honors.

In no case did these honors ever go to an unknown recruit. Such a thing was unheard of, it "wasn't done."

But lamp over the list of leading batters in the National league this year.

Cruise, Roush, Hornsby, Fischer—looks like the National league, most conservative of baseball organizations, was to establish a brand new precedent in 1917.

Only one of the four now perched at the top has ever before won any recognition as a batter.

Roger Hornsby batted well in 1916, but many believed he was just a "flash in the pan."

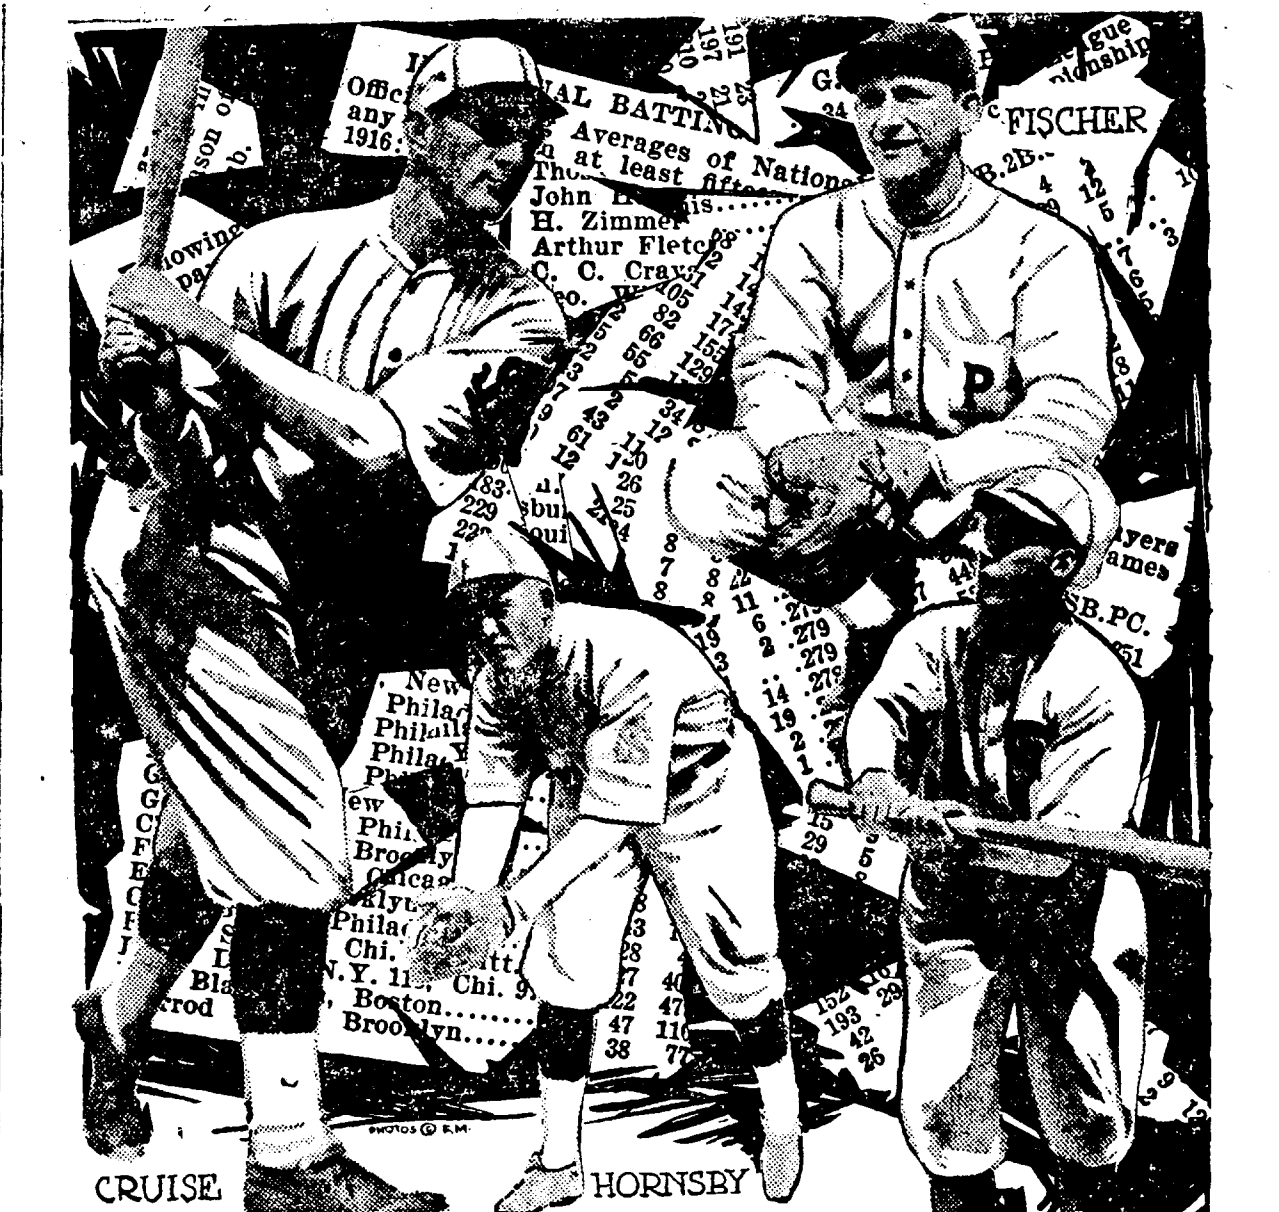

But it isn't Hornsby who has the inside track for National league honors. Unless one or the other strikes a slump it looks like it will be either Cruise, the St. Louis fence buster, or Roush, the Cincinnati demon.

With 100 guesses at the leading batsmen it is unlikely that a recognized baseball critic would have picked either one of the two when the season started.

Cruise was an unknown quantity. He had been with St. Louis while in 1914 and had batted .277, whereupon he was sent back to the minors. The next year he batted .297 with St. Paul and last year .294 with the same club. Who would have picked him as a leading batter against National league pitching?

Roush was better known. Last year he batted .267 with Cincinnati and New York. The year before he hit .298 with the New York Feeds.

When the season started he was no bright prospect for leading batting honors. Anyone who suggested that he would out-

CRUISE ROUSH HORNSBY hit his teammate Chase would have been fighting it out between themselves and only a terrific slump will keep one or the other out of the 1917 hall of fame.

KELLEY FIRST TO GET CALL FROM UNCLE SAM

Chief's First Sacker Leaves for Chicago to Take Examination.

Mike Kelly, the dependable first sacker of the Chiefs, is the first to leave the local baseball club to take up the gentle art of throwing hand grenades for Uncle Sam, forsaking the national pastime. Kelley received his summons while the Chiefs were sojourning at Richmond yesterday, and will leave for Chicago today to take his physical examination.

This is the first instance of the broad on the organized baseball which the draft

BARNEY OLDFIELD'S NEW RACING CONTRAPTION

In the old days Barney Oldfield was over the picturesque daredevil of the automobile racetrack. But now, apparently, our Barney is become cautious. Look at this racing machine in which he now competes, which some one has christened the "Golden Egg," because of its form and color. Racing in a sedan, it looks like to us. But Barney knows that if she ever turns over he'll be safe.

FORMS COSMOPOLITAN BASEBALL CLUB HERE

All Nations Outfit Will Comprise Players of All Nationalities.

Fort Wayne will have a new baseball team in the field which will be an innovation in the national pastime in this part of the country if the plans of Manager Dupree are carried out. The new club will be of its makeup cosmopolitan and will be styled the All-Nations Baseball club. The lineup will be composed of the best players of all nationalities and will meet only the fastest talent which can be booked for games. Neither will the color line be drawn in the selection of talent for the organization, according to Manager Dupree.

Manager Dupree states that among the members of the unique organization will be numbered Indians, Greeks, Frenchmen, Germans, Irish, Italians, Poles and colored men. Already it is stated that a tentative lineup would show a strong aggregation on paper of names familiar in baseball locally.

The outfit, however, is still shy the services of several players and could use a hard-hitting shortstop, first baseman, outfielder and pitchers. Tryouts with the new club may be had by communicating with the manager or G. W. Wilson, 110 West Main street.

GETTING PARK READY FOR SUNDAY GAMES

Preparations Being Made for Contests Between Locals and Garrett Grays.

Jack Raidy is putting League park into condition for next Sunday's big double-header when the Garrett Grays meet the Lincoln Lifers. It has developed that some of the best semi-professional pitching talent in the state will work in these two games. Many of Lankenau's college admirers will be on deck for the twin bills Sunday to watch him work. Among the other players in the line-up who will probably have a strong following will be "Red" Hargrave. New Haven will send over a delegation to pull for "Red." Hargrave's brother, "Bubbles," is now holding down the backstop position with Kansas City, and is going "big" according to "Red."

A date was closed Thursday for a return game with Huntington, Sunday, August 19. The Lincoln Lifers have also booked an engagement with Portland for a game in September which will afford the fans another opportunity to get a line on the pitching ability of Frank Romaine.

Word has been received here that "Lefty" Bowman, who was formerly with the Kendallville Reds, has signed up with Convoys, O.

TRAPSHOOTERS NOT AFFECTED BY OLD AGE

Veterans of 17 Years Ago Are Still Hovering About Top.

A law of sports as immutable as "the laws of the Medes and the Persians" is: "They never come back." Trapshooting shows no exceptions to this rule, but the reason why a trapshooter never comes back is simple—he never goes back.

To settle any question in the matter, all that is necessary is to be at the South Shore Country Club, Chicago, Aug. 20, 21, 22, 23 and 24, where on the flying line will be found many of the old guard of the grand army of clay bird busters.

Among the veterans who will attend the big shoot are: Tom Marshall, Ed Banks, W. R. Crosby, Fred Gilbert and Rolo Helkes, members of the All-American team that invaded the British Isles in 1901 and vanquished the Brits despite the fact that the Englishmen fired "both barrels" in successive attempts to bring down each clay target while the Americans pulverized the saucers in much greater numbers, shooting with "one barrel."

LESSON FOR AUGUST 5.

MANASSEH'S SIN AND REPENTANCE.

LESSON TEXT—II Chronicles 33:1-20.
GOLDEN TEXT—Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon.—Isaiah 55:7.

The reign of Manasseh was the longest of any of the kings of Judah. It is strange that a wicked king should have the distinction of the longest reign. This can be accounted for, perhaps, by the fact that the nation was in such a state that their idolatrous corruption needed to go to its fullest development. It seems to be necessary in a world of free beings, that their actions must go to a certain stage of development. It was so with the inhabitants of Canaan before that land was possessed by Israel. Israel was kept in Egypt until the iniquity of that nation was full. In this case doubtless the Lord permitted this to go on until the idolatrous practices would become extremely obnoxious.

1. Manasseh's Sin (vv. 1-9). Though he had the example of a good father, he with passionate endeavor gave himself up to the imitation of the heathen about him. This shows that grace is not inherited; a good father may have a bad son. It also teaches us that it is absolutely necessary to bring the grace of God into vital touch with our children, for that grace is absolutely essential to their salvation. Only his grace can counteract the downward pull of sin.

1. He restored the high places which had been destroyed by his father (v. 3). It is thus seen that he sought to undo the good work done by his father.

2. He erected altars to Baal (v. 3). The idols worshiped on these altars seem to have been images of licentious appearance, provoking the indulgence of the human passion. Therefore, with this worship was coupled the grossest licentiousness.

3. He introduced the star worship of the Chaldeans and Assyrians (v. 3). He even erected these altars in the house of the Lord, placing them on a level with God himself.

4. He set up Moloch in the Vale of Hinnon (v. 6). He not only encouraged this worship on the part of others, but he even caused his own children to pass through the fire.

5. He practiced magic, witchcraft, and dealt with a familiar spirit (v. 6). So gross were these practices that they did even worse than the heathen whom God had destroyed before the Children of Israel came into the land. 6. He rejected the Lord's testimony (v. 10). Doubtless the prophets had again and again admonished him, but he seems to have turned entirely aside from such remonstrances.

11. Manasseh's Chastisement (vv. 11-18). The Lord in grace used the Assyrians to chastise Manasseh, so as to bring him to see his evil ways. He was captured, perhaps while hiding among the thickets of thorns (v. 11), bound in chains and carried to Babylon. This was most humiliating. His hands were manacled, his ankles fastened together with rings and a bar.

11. Manasseh's Repentance (vv. 12-19). Fortunately, the chastisement had its desired effect. Manasseh was brought to his senses and turned from his evil ways. The steps in his repentance are as follows:

1. Affliction (v. 12). This was most severe. Bound with chains and dragged to Babylon. While this was severe, it was light in comparison with the sins which provoked it.

2. Supplication (v. 12). Manasseh had the good sense to cry out to God in this condition. It is the unmistakable evidence that God's chastisement is accomplishing its purpose. We are instructed in James 5:13 in time of affliction to pray.

3. Humility (v. 12). This is a common characteristic of penitent souls. Those who come under the hand of God always recognize it in their humility. 4. Forgiveness (v. 18). As soon as God sees the signs of penitence, he turns in mercy to the penitent and grants absolution for sin. No one needs to wait long to receive his forgiveness.

5. His kingdom restored (v. 18). Manasseh not only was forgiven, but he was actually restored to his kingdom. Those who truly repent, God will not only forgive, but he will restore (Ps. 32:5).

6. Apprehension of God (v. 13). Through this experience Manasseh came to know God.

IV. Manasseh's Reformation (vv. 14-20). Manasseh was not content with merely receiving God's forgiveness and restoration to his kingdom, but he sought so far as possible to undo the mischief which he had done.

1. He strengthened the fortifications of Jerusalem, so as to make his people safe from the attack of a foreign foe (v. 14).

2. He removed the idols from the House of the Lord (v. 15). Through bitter experience he had come to know that an idol is nothing, that it could avail him nothing in time of deepest need.

Ask Anyone Who Has Used It. There are families who always aim to keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy in the house for use in case it is needed, and find that it is not only a good investment but saves them no end of suffering. As to its reliability, ask anyone who has used it.—Advertisement.

EXPERTS TO KEEP OUR BOYS WELL EQUIPPED

Brains and Business Are as Necessary as Bullets and Bayonets.

(By C. C. LYON.)

With the American Troops in France, Aug. 3.—Bullets bayonets brains and business.

Just now, when thousands of American boys are training within sound of German guns and a million are getting ready to cross the Atlantic, brains and business, organization and efficiency, are demanded as much as guns and munitions. The American soldier can't fight unless he eats; he can't march unless he has shoes; he can't be rushed from one part of France to another unless there are adequate railroad facilities; he can't stand the gas of the trenches unless he is in sound physical condition.

New Way to Remove Hairs Creates Sensation Actually Takes Out the Roots.

What beauty specialists regard as one of the most important discoveries in recent years is the phenol method of removing superfluous hair. Its great advantage, of course, lies in the fact that it actually removes the hair roots. It does this easily, instantly, harmlessly. Sufferers from the affliction named need no longer despair. The actual hair-roots come out before your very eyes, leaving the skin as smooth and hairless as a babe's. Because it offers such complete relief, a stick of phenol is the most inexpensive thing a woman can buy for the removal of hairy growth. For the same reason druggists do not hesitate to sell it under a money-back guarantee. You can use it with entire safety; it is so harmless one could even eat it without any ill effect.—Advertisement.

unless he is in sound physical condition.

"We need, in France, an army of trained business experts as well as fighters," said a high American officer. "Our fighters won't count for much unless there is behind them an organization able to supply them with everything they need, when they need it."

Surrounding General Pershing here are a number of keen, tireless men, working early and late, week days and Sundays.

These men have tackled the problems of how to bring into France every day, one pound of meat for every American soldier landed; a proportionate amount of other foodstuffs; clothing, arms and ammunitions, construction of salvage stations, ice plants, gasoline storage stations; importation of iron and steel; and heating equipment for trench dugouts.

"We need hundreds of more experts," said a chief. "We consider it the patriotic duty of technically trained Americans to offer their services in their particular line."

The American "Sammy" is to be the best fed soldier in the world. He is to have one pound of meat a day, considerably above the allowance of other armies.

Practically every ounce of food for the American army must be brought from America.

Think of the transportation difficulties to be overcome! America must not only help feed her European allies but she must find enough ships to keep her own army supplied.

Oil and gasoline also must come from America. A thousand tons of ice must be manufactured every day to preserve the food of a million fighters.

Heating the American dugouts next winter must be accomplished regardless of cost or difficulties in transporting apparatus from America. For the hundreds and thousands of autos and trucks the Americans will use there must be hundreds of skilled mechanics.

For every division of troops it is figured 4,700 tons of medical supplies and equipment will be needed.

The problems of business, organization and efficiency would not be so difficult for the Americans were they fighting on their own soil where the only transportation difficulties would relate to the railroads.

But American push and energy will surmount all difficulties. I've watched the "business end" of the American army at work and I predict it will not be many months until the American "back of the line" organization will be just as efficient as that of the English and the French who have had three years start of us in experience and organization.

FURNITURE CLEARANCE

AUGUST-

FOR years it has been the custom to hold a Mid-Summer Clearance Sale at Pickard's, in order to provide room for the new stock purchased at the July Furniture Exhibitions. This year there was some doubt about our continuing our custom. Furniture has gone up, and perhaps it is not wise to slash prices the way we are doing during this sale when new stock is costing us more than we are selling it for. However, we are remodeling, and we haven't the floor space for present stock, let alone that which will be coming in shortly. We are putting in a new front which will be the finest in the city if not in the whole state. We are laying new floors and putting in new ceilings on all the upper floors. In addition the entire store is to be repainted. The workmen are ready and stocks must be shifted around to provide room for them—but there's no place to shift to do it. That's the reason we are cutting our prices that are already extremely low considering the present costs—that's why we are slashing things right and left. So take this tip, you will never be able to buy so low as during this present sale at Pickard's. In addition, the Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet manufacturers have authorized a cut in the price of their cabinet. See it by all means!

BEEES TAKE BIRDS' HOUSE.

"Fools rush in where angels fear to tread," was carried out to a nicety at the home of H. J. Doswell, superintendent of Lindenwood cemetery, recently, the fools being represented by a swarm of bees. These took up their home in a box which the superintendent had built for some martins that flock about his home in the spring and summer. The martins refused to take up their abode in the box but the bees eagerly grasped the chance for a new home. Mr. Doswell states that the bees have not as yet paid any rent in honey.

SEVENTEEN OUT OF TWENTY

File Exemption Claims in Jay County Wednesday.

Portland, Ind., Aug. 3.—More interest is manifested here over the work of the Jay county exemption board which is now examining the first conscripts, than over the draft lottery at Washington when the order in which the men are appearing before the board was determined. The board has now called the first 140 men but the results of the examinations, the number of exemptions claimed will not be given out until the three members convene Sunday to render a verdict on the qualifications of the first consignment.

Out of 20 youths examined Wednesday, 17 filed exemption claims, and from this it is estimated that between 600 and 700 will be called before the quota of 107 is secured. The board called the first conscript at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and 40 are to be examined each day until the quota is obtained. At least three weeks' time will be necessary for this.

CALL EXPECTED SOON.

Reception Will Be Given for Members of Hicksville Company.

Hicksville, Ohio, Aug. 3.—Plans are under way here for a reception to be given in honor of the members of Company E, who are expected to be called.

At the physical examination conducted this week the following ten failed to pass: Earl C. Vain, Frank E. Moore, John J. Bullock, Arthur Arnold, Taylor Gingers, Homer E. Paul, Ralph Tester, Douglas Warfield, Ivan Phillips and Edward Fisher. Paul Tutison and Charles Purdy were honorably discharged because they have dependents. The company is now composed of 111 men.

WORK GAME ON FARMERS.

Fakirs Buying Grain, Claiming It Is for the Government.

Garrett, Ind., Aug. 3.—Strangers are said to have been operating in the vicinity of Garrett, representing themselves as government agents. A farmer is visited and offered a certain price for his crops, particularly potatoes and wheat. The farmer is told that he must accept the price inasmuch as the war department demands it. Several farmers are said to have been "worked" in this manner, selling much of their crops at a price greatly below the market quotations.

NEWS FROM HUNTINGTON.

Huntington, Ind., Aug. 3.—The county board of education Wednesday voted to abolish the eighth grade commencement exercises which have been held for several years. The board also decided to start the district schools September 10.—When John Crago told Mrs. Seth Hockensmith that he would be over Monday at midnight to "bug and kiss her" she hurried to a foundry where her husband was working, and told him. When Crago arrived, and it is said, tried to keep his promise, Hockensmith jumped from a hiding place and sent several leaden pellets after the fleeing Crago. One of them struck Crago, but the authorities knew nothing of it until Tuesday night, when the wounded man sought the aid of a physician. Hockensmith was arrested on charge of assault and battery with intent to kill, and was released on bond. He will not be prosecuted unless Crago dies, which is not probable.—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Parks, of Andrews, had a remarkable escape from death Tuesday evening, when their automobile stalled on the track of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana interurban line. The motorman of an approaching car succeeded in checking the car so that it barely pushed the automobile off the track before stopping.

VOTE IS TAKEN.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 3.—In an effort to settle a controversy in which much angry feeling was engendered, a vote was taken at the Christian church on the question of retaining Rev. S. R. Hawkins as pastor. One hundred and sixty-one ballots were cast, resulting in 91 favoring the retaining of the pastor and 70 demanding his dismissal. The church has been divided into two factions, resulting a short time ago in one faction battering in the church door, which had been locked by the other faction to prevent their opponents from entering.

Mrs. Yarger was 30 years old last January.

MEXICO SUPPRESSES GERMAN PROPAGANDA

Gives Evidence of Good Faith in Maintenance of Neutrality.

Washington, Aug. 3.—The semi-official Mexican news bureau today published the following to show that German propaganda is being put down by the Mexican government: "It recently came to the knowledge of the officials that a shipment of several hundred cases of arms and ammunition had been made to the port of Salina Cruz, on the Pacific side of the Isthmus of Tehuantepec, and consigned to certain private parties who were suspected of being engaged in pro-German intrigues in the state of Chiapas. The shipment was ordered to be seized which was done immediately upon its arrival.

"The local authorities of the city of Guadalupe recently became cognizant of a plan on the part of certain German agents in that city to hold a meeting or festival in one of the leading theatres for the purpose of 'advancing the cause of the Hohenzollerns against the civilized nations of Europe' as the local newspapers phrased it. The authorities let it be understood that this prospect would be regarded unfavorably, whereupon the promoters of the movement changed the announced purpose and character of the meeting to one for the benefit of the poor children of the city."

A Vest Pocket Kodak

It is monotony, not bullets, that our soldier boys dread. No fear, when the time comes, they will uphold bravely the traditions that are dear to every loyal American heart. But in the training camps and during the months of forced inaction there are going to be some tedious, home-sick days—days the Kodak can make more cheerful.

Pictures of comrades and camp life, pictures of the thousand and one things that can be photographed without endangering any military secret will interest them, and will doubly interest the friends at home. Tens of thousands of brave lads in the camps and trenches of France are keeping their own Kodak story of the war—a story that will always be intense to them because it is history from their viewpoint. And when peace comes it will make more vivid, more real, their story of their war as they tell it again and again to mother and sister, and wife and little ones.

The nation has a big job on its hands. It's only a little part, perhaps, but a genuine part of that job to keep up the cheerfulness of camp life, to keep tight the bonds between camp and home. Pictures from home to the camp and from camp to the home can do their part.

There's room for a little Vest Pocket Kodak in every soldier's and sailor's kit. The expense is small, six dollars. The cheerfulness it may bring is great. They are on sale at

CORRESPONDENT MANLY FINDS IT EASIER TO LEARN TO FLY
A MILITARY AIRPLANE THAN TO LEARN TO RUN AUTOMOBILE

Sees War Eagles Turned Out in Four Hours—Remarkable Curtiss Training Machine, With Dual Control, is Responsible for Speed.

By BASIL M. MANLY.

Mineola, N. Y., Aug. 3.—It's easier to learn to fly a warplane than to learn to run an automobile.

"That's what I learned at Mineola, the eagle's aerob—the nesting place of the great American bird, king of the skies.

For Uncle Sam's great Mineola aviation field is the school where the eagle's young are taught to sweep over the fields of France, carrying terror to German vultures.

Easier to learn to fly than to learn to run an auto! How long did it take you or your neighbor to gain the confidence of his machine? Well, at Mineola, mere boys become expert pilots, ready for the finishing touches of instruction in war combat, in four hours.

Most autoists stay out of the downtown traffic congestion for four weeks, to say nothing of four days. And as for auto mastery in four hours—unheard of!

"That boy is one of our best graduate airmen."

I followed the gesture of my officer-guide to a figure in khaki.

Then like a jolt in the ribs came from the officer:

"He learned in four hours. He is ready for France."

I had turned my gaze back to the sky. Things had seemed interesting there. Half a dozen huge planes were circling, passing and re-passing. I had been thinking a collision was about due.

But—"Became a star air pilot in four hours!" I studied the boy—yes, boy, apparently about 20, slim, cool, no swagger, just plain American boy.

I had made a mistake craning my neck upward. A—er that I kept my eyes closer to the ground.

And the most important thing I learned at Mineola "was that the men, the soul of the eagle, were more worth watching than the air, the element they conquered, or the planes, their wings.

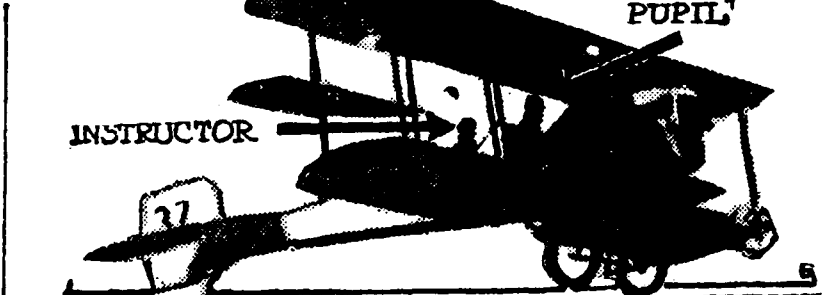

"Then, as officers, after a little time at an advance school, here or in France, learning to handle fast machines, aerial gunnery and bomb-dropping, they are ready for their first air battle."

The remarkable Curtiss JN machine, greatest training airplane in the world, adopted by the British, is responsible. It is a dual-control machine—just as if an automobile had two steering wheels, two gear shift levers, two fuel controls, so the instructor could at any time check or correct the learner without interfering with him.

There are two seats, one directly behind the other. In front of each is a complete set of controls, interlocked. The pupil climbs into the front seat. He keeps his feet and hands on the controls to learn the "feel of it." The instructor, in the rear, manipulates them.

An auto steering wheel, turning from left to right for sideways direction, and swinging backward and forward for up-and-down direction, a steering bar on the floor operated with the feet like the steering bar of your old sled, and the engine throttle—these are the controls.

The second time up for his thirty-minute lesson the pupil does the flying, and if he makes a false move the instructor's hand—checks him. The fourth or fifth time up the instructor doesn't expect to do much checking. He's there for safety only.

And "Safety First" is the motto all over the aerob. One broken strand of wire, out of a woven cord of twenty strands, means repairs. Every machine is thoroughly overhauled before every flight.

Here's what Captain Boyriven, French air dean, formerly head of the largest French army flying school, has to say about the American eagle's aerob.

"The Curtiss JN machine is the best training plane in the world.

"You already produce first-class pilots in as short a time as we can in Europe.

"Your young men make superb flyers—so intelligent, so quick, so sporty.

"In France we lost hundreds through accidents. I have been here weeks, and have not seen a single accident.

to keep your pupils from taking things too easy.

"A Mineola graduate, fifteen days behind the lines in France, is ready to bag his first German.

"If Germany could see your pilots, way ahead of her own present product, she would stop and take heed."

Declares Russia and Austria are Near a Peace

SOCIALIST LEADER SAYS NATIONS NEAR AN UNDERSTANDING

Belgian Secretary of International Conference Authority for Statement That Peace Comes.

BRITISH REGAIN GROUND IN FLANDERS

London, Aug. 3.—Camille Huysmans, the Belgian secretary of the international socialist conference, in an interview today with a correspondent of a Dutch newspaper, Handelsblad, declared that Russia and Austria-Hungary were on the verge of coming to an understanding, according to a dispatch from Copenhagen to the Exchange Telegraph company.

REGAIN LOST GROUND.

London, Aug. 3.—British troops, according to the official statement issued today by the British war department, already have regained part of the ground lost when the Germans penetrated the British frontlines on Infantry hill to the east of Monchy-le-Preux last night.

GERMANS ARE REPULSED.

Paris, Aug. 3.—Troops of the Crown Prince, after an intense artillery bombardment last night, delivered several violent attacks against the French positions near Cerney in the Aisne region along a front of about 1,500 yards. The French official statement issued this afternoon says that all the attacks were repulsed. On the Belgian front the bad weather continues.

GERMAN REPORTS CONSTRAINED

Copenhagen, Aug. 3.—German newspapers of Thursday morning contain no details of importance on the battle in Flanders beyond the official reports. German war correspondents are as yet observing the battle from a safe distance, near Charleville, several hundred kilometers behind the front line, endeavoring to give the news from the scanty material supplied by the military censor. That the correspondents observed instructions is evidenced in all the newspapers by the heading, "Specials From the Front," and all state that the German artillery was able to hold its own with the Anglo-French in the preliminary bombardment. All of the accounts emphasize the mass character of the British and French attacks and all claim the preliminary victory, explaining, however, that the heavy fighting has not ended and may continue for weeks.

ALLIES HOLD POSITIONS.

British front in France and Belgium, Aug. 2.—(Delayed.)—(By the Associated Press.)—The British and French and the Germans along the front of the battle in Flanders still held their positions late today in a bogland, produced by torrential rains which have been deluging the battle line from Tuesday evening until today, when it showed signs of moderating. Beyond artillery operations which are continuing with great intensity, there is little action with the exception of one or two points, and the French and British were resting in consolidated and strongly organized positions commanding the territory which they captured from the Germans in the first few hours' onslaught.

St. Julien today continued to be a storm center, the artillery of both sides "pounding" steadily their opponent's positions about this place.

Take Front Again.

The British were again in possession of the 300 yards front just north of Prenezberg, which the Germans wrested from them in a counter attack late yesterday. In a sharp drive against the British forced the Germans from this strong position and have held it since. This was the only counter attack of any importance delivered by the Germans since late Wednesday. Detailed reports of Tuesday's battle show that the front between Hollebeke and Labassees Ville, was the scene of some of the heaviest fighting of the day, the Australians and English charging along this line swept over large numbers of Germans lying in shell holes which were overlooked in the semi-darkness.

Immediately after the British troops had gone beyond these holes, the Germans began sniping at the rear of the advancing forces. These snipers were eventually dealt with and the shell holes cleared. The morale of the German troops in this section is said to have been good and they made a stiff fight for the positions which they finally had to relinquish.

Entered by Tunnels.

In the ruined village of Hollebeke the British were faced with large numbers of concrete dugouts which had no surface entrances but which were approached by tunnels. The attacking troops forced their way into these dugouts, which contained large numbers of men and blew them to pieces with bombs. This underground tunnel is still filled with German bodies. Just north of Hollebeke two strongly held German positions were occupied without a stop.

On the ground overlooking Wytschaete the British encountered shell holes, camouflaged with wire netting and hedges which had been interlarded with barbed wire. This delayed their progress somewhat but did not save the Germans. Fierce fighting occurred here and the Australians who were conducting the offensive carried the positions with bayonets, killing large numbers of the enemy.

Took It With the Bayonet.

One notable incident of the day's progress was the capture of a German soldier who was found with a bayonet fixed to his belt.

ALLIED CAUSE IS PRECARIOUS

North German Gazette Sees the Signs in British Attitude.

STURDY SUPPORT OF FRANCE LOOKS BAD

Says England is Trying by Appeal to Avarice to Revive France.

Berlin, Aug. 3.—(Via London.)—The North German Gazette sees in British interest in the fulfillment of French war aims an indication of a precarious condition of the entente allied cause. It says:

"A notable indication of the precarious condition of the entente allies is found in England's study championing of French lust for Alsace-Lorraine and English interest in the fulfillment of French wishes."

"A perusal of the text of Balfour's speech, as it has come to hand, would seem to indicate that this interest is only valid, if, as he assumes, the war will end favorably for England. So long as the entente prospered and French war fervor required no stimulant, England appeared wholly unconcerned regarding French war aims."

"Now that France is revealing signs of exhaustion, England is endeavoring to save this ally by revivifying its avarice. In keeping with her unscrupulous politics, England hopes to continue to benefit from dismembered continental Europe. Such politics, however, will suffer shipwreck on the rocks of the free German empire which did not provoke the war in contrast to the entente nations fighting for conquest and enslavement."

ANOTHER SCRAP OF PAPER.

Copenhagen, Aug. 3.—The Vossische Zeitung, under a Stockholm date, prints an interview given by Camille Huysmans, secretary of the International socialist conference, containing hard words against Germany. M. Huysmans is quoted as saying that the reichstag resolution remains a scrap of paper unless converted into deeds.

Berlin, Aug. 3.—Czernowitz, the capital of Bukowina, has been captured by the Teuton forces, according to the official statement issued today by the German staff.

Vienna, Aug. 3, via Amsterdam.—Austro-Hungarian troops have entered Czernowitz, the capital of the crownland of Bukowina.

MORALE IS RESTORED.

London, Aug. 3.—The Times' correspondent at Russian headquarters on the southwest front under date of July 31 confirms reports of improvement in morale in the Russian army as a consequence of measures against desertions and panics. The correspondent says that disaffected Russian regiments have returned to the front.

Emperor William and Field Marshal von Mackensen, according to the same dispatch, made a triumphant entry into Tarnopol. The weight of the German offensive, the dispatch adds, appears to be directed toward Kaments Podolsky, en route to Odessa.

HAD ULTIMATUM OF AUSTRIA FOR AN ENTIRE DAY

Foreign Secretary Zimmermann, Says Washington, Admits Berlin Had Knowledge of Decision.

GERMAN DEPUTY COHEN IS CONFIRMED

Washington, D. C., Aug. 3.—Germany had possession of Austria's ultimatum to Serbia fourteen hours before it was delivered to Belgrade, according to positive information which has reached officials here and which was made public today for the first time.

It was stated that former Foreign Secretary Zimmermann admitted this himself, when pressed very closely as to Germany's foreknowledge of the action of her ally, which precipitated the European war.

Germany has maintained consistently in all her public documents that she was not consulted by Austria as to the ultimatum which practically denied Serbia's independence and that she did not even have knowledge of the step.

Foreign Secretary Zimmermann's admission, however, is interpreted here to show that Germany had full knowledge of the note in time to stop action if she felt it essential. Her inaction, however, is felt to have proved her an accomplice of Austria, whom she had already told she would support in any decision she might make.

The admission was stated here to have been made when Zimmermann was pressed very closely as to Germany's knowledge of the Austrian ultimatum. For a considerable time it was stated, he maintained Germany had known nothing at all about it, but finally when certain information and facts were presented Zimmermann admitted Germany had had the text for fourteen hours before its delivery. This, he seemed to think, was a purely negligible time, which did not allow the possibility of action.

This fact fits in very closely with the recent statements, first advanced by Deputy Cohen in the reichstag and since adopted by the allied government, that German and Austrian leaders held a war council at Potsdam, on July 5, in which it was practically decided to plunge Europe into conflict. The interpretation placed on this council has been that Germany had full knowledge of all Austria's plans and stood unreservedly behind her. Germany, however, has repeatedly denied the holding of such a conference.

CHALLENGES THE GOVERNMENT.

Amsterdam, Aug. 3.—The Deutsche Tages Zeitung challenges the German government to prosecute Dr. Cohen, socialist member of the reichstag, for his alleged revelations regarding the crown council held at Potsdam, July 5, 1914. The newspaper says it knows abroad as a sign of weakening of the German people. Peace would be brought no nearer, he said, by such things, adding that the government would continue its efforts for peace, but would avoid early mistakes.

Chancellor Michaelis intimated that the prospects for a speedy peace were not bright, but that unexpected developments might at any moment bring the question to a head and produce tangible results. He appealed for unity and declared that the entire German press must back the government in all vital questions.

FUNERAL TO BE A SHOW

Burial of Victim of the Butte Vigilantes Will Be I. W. W. Display.

Butte, Mont., Aug. 3.—The funeral of Frank H. Little, national executive board member of the Industrial Workers of the World who was lynched Wednesday will be made the occasion for a large demonstration next Sunday if the police will permit the striking miners to march, according to plans announced today by Tom Campbell, head of the Metal Mine Workers union.

Burial of Little will be either in Chicago or Fresno, Cal., dependent on the wishes of relatives. Excitement as a result of the lynching of Little has largely subsided and there is little of the tense feeling in evidence which was present on the day of his death.

While several investigations are in progress looking to the apprehension of the men who took Little's life, Attorney General S. C. Ford, who spent yesterday here, announced "it would be improbable if the men will ever be brought to justice."

SPARTAN MOTHER OF CHICAGO HAS GIVEN UP THREE

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 3.—This war is "God's laundry," Mrs. Mary J. Lamb, who has given three of her four sons to the army and navy, said in a letter which was before a local exemption board today.

"I asked for a special permit for my sixteen-year-old son who was in college and enlisted him in the marine corps on April first," wrote Mrs. Lamb. Another son is also in the marine corps and a third in the army.

"A fourth son's greatest sorrow is that he is too young and only a quartermaster in the Seaton cadets of Notre Dame university."

"It makes me disgusted with womanhood to hear so many selfish mothers voice their terror. No mother loves her family more than I do, but I look upon this war as God's laundry."

MOBILIZATION OF STATE COLLEGES TO AID THE WAR

Indianapolis, Aug. 3.—Horace Ellis, state superintendent of public instruction and chairman of the educational section of the state council of defense, today summoned every president or the head of every higher educational institution in the state to a conference at his office at 1 o'clock tomorrow, when a whirlwind educational campaign will be organized in the interests of the boys' working reserve, U. S. A. The conference is to carry out the purpose of Governor Goodrich's proclamation, which set aside Aug. 9 as "decision day."

COMPERS GAINS PRAISE FROM A LONDON EDITOR

London, Aug. 3.—The cable message from Samuel Compers, president of the American Federation of Labor to M. Joubaux, of the General Federation of Labor, and W. Appleton, of the General Federation of Trade Unions, refusing to participate in the international socialist conference, is welcomed by the Post. In an editorial the Post describes Mr. Compers' message as admirable in sense and delivered with admirable emphasis, adding:

"Once again the allies have to thank America for timely lead."

While our ministers have not the courage to act on their convictions, Compers has. Assuredly an international conference without America would be too feeble to justify any further cringing to Ramsey MacDonald and his confederates."

GERMANY MUST NOT SHOW NERVES NOW, SAYS CHANCELLOR

Copenhagen, Aug. 3.—According to a published account of conversations in Dresden Chancellor Michaelis said that while he was ready to accept any opportunity given him to secure an honorable peace, the requirement of the hour for Germans was to avoid any manifestations of nervousness and prove to their opponents that Germany's might was unweakened.

Germany's opponents, Dr. Michaelis said, had been greatly encouraged by the exhibition of nerves in the latest German crisis and by the German long-ing for peace, which was interpreted

WOMAN POSED AS MAN; DREADED THE DRAFT

"Dr. Ackerman," Toledo, Who Drowned Self, Did Not Register June 5.

Toledo, Aug. 3.—Authorities believe the army draft examinations just begun here was the cause of the suicide of "Dr. Samuel Ackerman," whose body, found yesterday, was discovered by an undertaker to be that of a woman. Detectives investigating the conscription registration records found that "Dr. Ackerman," 38, within the conscript age, failed to register. Arrest and physical examination would have revealed the secret maintained for many years. The body was found floating in the Maumee river yesterday. The first physical examinations of registered men were then in progress. The authorities have ascertained that several years ago, even then posing as a man, Ackerman married. The wife soon obtained a divorce.

GERMANS PLACE FINE ON LIEGE THAT REGISTERED

Amsterdam, Aug. 3.—According to the Echo de Belge, the city of Liege has been fined 500,000 francs for disobeying an order given by the German authorities to demolish buildings damaged by fire on the quai des Pecheurs.

Liege, capital of the Walloon district, is the Belgian city which offered such determined resistance to the Germans at the outbreak of the war, when they invaded Belgium for the purpose of avoiding the French forts from Verdun to Belfort and of outflanking the French northern and eastern armies. The twelve forts of Liege were repeatedly attacked by the Germans in massed formation from Aug. 4 to Aug. 13, when they finally were reduced by great 16.4-inch howitzers.

The quai des Pecheurs skirts the right bank of the river Meuse, which flows through the center of the town.

SOLDIERS ABLE TO OBTAIN MAIL IN ENCAMPMENT

Washington, Aug. 3.—American soldiers at the front now are receiving their mail without interruption as a result of the establishment of the United States postal agency in France, Postmaster General Bursell announced today.

A corps of experienced workers, under the direction of Marcus H. Bunn, is handling mail matter at the base postoffice and at branches established at Paris, the training camps and at the American port of disembarkation. At present all letters sent to or received from soldiers must bear the regular domestic rate of postage. The postmaster general, however, has asked congress to grant troops free postage for letters sent home. The agency, in addition to receiving and transmitting letters and parcel post, is doing money order business. The French government recently promulgated an order admitting free of duty all parcel post matter for American troops.

Summary of the Day's War News

Although Russia's southern armies apparently are now offering determined resistance to the Austro-German advance, the Teutonic drive seems to have attained such an impetus that the Russians are not yet able to cope with it. The Russian forces are now back on their own soil along a wide section of the front opposite the Galician border and are fast being driven out of Bukowina. Czernowitz, the capital of this Austrian crownland, yesterday was occupied by Austrians.

FINDS FAULT WITH FINANCING OF WAR

Head of American Publishers Takes Congress to Task Severely.

New York, Aug. 3.—Hopewell L. Rogers, of Chicago, president of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, has issued a statement here in behalf of his organization criticizing congress for the "haphazard manner" in which it has undertaken to finance America's part in the war. He declared that the business which is getting a special benefit from the war should pay the greater portion of the taxes.

He advocated the form of taxation suggested by the commander in chief of the United States, "which would remove the necessity of taxation on any special industry and at the same time would place the burden on those many businesses which are making special profits due to war conditions."

Congress, Mr. Rogers said, seems unwilling to consider this method but apparently is endeavoring to tax in a hand-to-mouth fashion by putting a special fixed tax on munitions and certain other businesses in addition to taxes on profits, making more or less of a muddle of the whole matter. He asserted that this muddled condition applies more particularly to the newspaper business than any other because "the haphazard method of congress seems to be an endeavor to punish the newspapers, or the public through them, with several special discriminatory taxes," in spite of otherwise unfavorable conditions.

There should be no special taxes on a few lines of business, the statement said, but rather an excess profits tax put on in an increasing ratio.

Czernin Pleads for Peace by a Treaty

Reiterating that Austria-Hungary was ready to accept an honorable peace, but that the dual monarchy in conjunction with its allies would fight to the last extremity if the entente powers declined to enter negotiations on the basis of a peace by understanding, as recently outlined by the German chancellor and the reichstag Count Czernin, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, discussed peace possibilities at length.

Skin Easily Peeled Off

The freckling, discoloring or roughening to which most skins are subject at this season, may readily be gotten rid of. Mercolized wax, spread lightly over the face before retiring and removed in the morning with soap and water, completely peels off the discolored skin. Get an ounce of the wax at any druggist's. There's no more effective way of banishing tan, freckles or other cutaneous defects. Little skin particles come off each day, so the process itself doesn't even temporarily mar the complexion, and one soon acquires a brand new, spotless, girlishly beautiful face. Wrinkles caused by weather, worry or illness, are best treated by a simple solution of powdered exfolite, one ounce, dissolved in one-half pint witch hazel. Bathing the face in this produces a truly marvelous transformation.—Advertisement.

Chaux de Fonds, Switzerland, Aug. 3.—Louis Pindy, the man who set fire to the Hotel de Ville in Paris in May, 1871, and who was one of the last four members of the Paris commune executed in Switzerland, has just died at the age of 77. The remaining three are Protot, who was minister of justice in the government of the commune, with Loucheux and Gerardon, two inconspicuous members of the commune.

Pindy was in command at the Hotel de Ville. He declared that, if obliged to quit the building, he would leave it in flames, and kept his word.

Condemned to death for that act of incendiarism, he hid ten months in the rue Saint Maur, manufacturing jewelry meanwhile, ennobled by his partner, he escaped to Switzerland by way of Mulhausen and settled at Chaux de Fonds, where he was employed for forty-four years by the same firm making watches.

SHOULD MAKE A PROTEST.

The persistence with which the military department of the Indiana state government is kicking out the Fort Wayne officers of Fort Wayne companies in the national guard and replacing them with Indianapolis men needs looking into. Both Fort Wayne batteries have been deprived of their commanders. In each instance Adjutant-General Harry B. Smith has extinguished a captain's commission and issued one to an Indianapolis man. Two outsiders were also chosen for lieutenancies in one battery.

It is time for the citizens of Fort Wayne to join together in protest against this political administration of the affairs of Indiana's national guard. Captain Harry B. Clark, who is one of the seasoned artillery officers of the Indiana national guard, has just been put down to make room for an Indianapolis man now appointed to the captaincy of Battery B. It was but a few weeks ago that Captain J. C. Scheffer turned over his command to an Indianapolis man on orders from Adjutant-General Smith. Fort Wayne has one other unit of the guard and the call for it will come shortly. The fate of its commander will be awaited with interest.

Unless it can be clearly shown that military and not political reasons have operated to dictate these changes the displacement of Fort Wayne officers of Fort Wayne companies should not be tolerated in silence. The national guards will be incorporated in the federal service soon and the war department at Washington and not the adjutant-general's office at Indianapolis will have authority to make selections. We believe that if the people of Fort Wayne will carry these matters before Secretary of War Baker he will take the interest to see that justice is done to the officers and men of the local units of the guard.

It will not be disputed that incompetent or otherwise unfit men should officer the troops in this war, but we are satisfied that nothing can be shown to prove these Fort Wayne officers incompetent or unfit. The thing looks like a rather bad mess cooked up by the adjutant-general to advance his favorite soldier friends in his home town. The people of Fort Wayne should not view this with unprotesting silence, nor do we believe they will do so.

JOKER IS SUSPECTED.

It doubtless is just as well that action on the resolution for a national prohibition amendment has been postponed in the house. The resolution, as adopted by the senate, is said to be nullified by the provision that the federal amendment must be ratified by three-fourths of the states within a period of six years. Capable lawyers express the opinion that such a qualification is not constitutional and that the amendment if approved by the states could have no effect.

It has been stated that the advocates of the amendment and their supporters in the senate accepted the six-year stipulation because it served to expedite the adoption of the resolution and gave them no concern as being likely to wreck the amendment through failure of a constitutional majority of the states to ratify, having confidence that six years afforded ample latitude of time within which to accomplish that. It now appears that the six-year clause is a cunning joker of the type that might be looked for in the adroit and delicate work of an Indiana legislature, though hardly the sort of game one expects to find in the handwork of the senate of the United States. Still, there is no reason to suppose that the well-known rum power and its statesmen friends would esteem as beneath them in the national congress the resources and expedients that frequently serve so well in a state legislature.

The friends of prohibition appear to have awakened to the potential danger of leaving in doubt any matter relating to so important a thing as amending the federal constitution and have sidetracked the prohibition amendment to a more convenient day when there may be less of the distractions of war legislation to confuse and bedevil the situation. The fight in the senate may have to be fought over again, but it will be worth while to make sure that the resolution is not decorated with a joker. To let the procedure go on with what might in the end turn out to be a fatal disability would set national prohibition back for perhaps a decade. A few months of delay is worth while as gaining full assurance. Safety first is a good precept when amending the constitution of the United States.

ALMOST A FOOD CONTROL LAW.

After three months of more painstaking efforts than have been bestowed upon any federal legislation since the republic was a baby, congress has got a food control bill fashioned so that it doubtless can be enacted. Not much is left of the measure as it stood when its fair young life was launched, but it has had a scintillant career and if something has been lost by the way that is no matter of astonishment.

The kaiserists in the house, the reservists in the senate and the faithful retainers of many special interest in both august bodies, as well as their friends and sympathizers outside, cannot see much use of a food bill and would no doubt gladly consign the measure to the scrap heap back of the capitol, but there must be something and what has been turned out may perhaps be considered to have been suitably denaturalized. Attempts to emasculate food control entirely by providing for a commission instead of a director and to hamstring the country in war by the appointment of a committee to interfere with the executive branch of the government were allowed to pass away because the senate did not have quite the nerve to go far enough with the president, but that has been made up for to some extent in other ways.

The measure will come full-fledged from congress about six weeks behind the latest day that it was prudent to delay the law, if food control were to be really effectual, but it will serve to some good ends, not the least of which is that it will stand as a marker to the diligence, wisdom and patriotism of a congress of the United States in the midst of a war that threatens the existence of the nation. It has drawn into the clear light some few men in both house and senate of whom the country should make note and for whom the country should reserve proper appreciation and reward.

As a food control bill the measure that has been agreed upon falls far short of the need and the expectation, but in the capable and experienced hands of a man like Herbert C. Hoover backed by a thoroughly determined and unafraid person like Woodrow Wilson, perhaps more can be got out of it than is now looked for. In any event, it is refreshing to behold that congress is practically at the end of one of the most arduous tasks that has ever sizzled the brains of statesmen or alarmed the apprehensions of their clients.

Such shortcomings as the food control law may be proved to have can be remedied for next year, for the prospect is flattering that we shall need its beneficent protections for some time.

If those exposed gasoline tanks are a commercial necessity and a public benefit and patently harmless, there is no reason to refer the matter to the state fire marshal. If they do add anything to fire hazards or the risks of human life then, nothing that the marshal of the state may say for or against the gasoline tanks, will alter the morals of the situation or mitigate the public duties of the council. There is not much uncertainty about what the fire marshal will rule as respecting the installation of these exposed tanks and the council doubtless had abundant reason for the confidence with which it passed the buck to the state official. If, however, that confidence has been misplaced, it will provide the council with no warrant for undoing the safe practice that has stood here uniformly for a quarter of a century.

Soldiers off to the war need a good many things that the government does not provide. Men could get along without them, of course, but they make up just about the trifling sum of luxury that ever is allowed to enter into the life of a soldier on war duty. The families of many of the soldiers supply these things to their boys in the army, but there are boys who have no families to consider them and other boys whose families are giving just about all in giving the boys themselves. Just at present Battery B needs a mess kit and small contributions of money from a few hundreds of people will supply it. After that inquire what little things that soldiers need which are not supplied by the government and make some young fighter's life in camp and field a bit easier by supplying them.

The greatest battle of the war ran into a rainstorm and suspended operations for clear weather—in which respect it differs from the greatest show on earth and other enterprises, which exhibit rain or shine.

ARMY HEALTH.

(Springfield, Mass., Republican.)

It is good to have Surgeon-General Gorgas remind the country to what extent the old terrors of army life have been forced to surrender to science. Typhoid fever, which used to be the worst scourge of troops, is now eliminated by vaccine, and the same is true of various lesser diseases. Freedom from dysentery, the surgeon-general credits to an intelligent handling of water supplies. Scarlet fever and the measles, which used to visit large camps, are taken care of by the methods of quarantine now enforced in the armies. So far has a new face been placed on the old situation that the man at the head of the army's health work holds that the men who serve in this war and who escape wounds will be, on the whole, in better physical condition when they come out than when they went into the army. "I think this," he adds, "in spite of the hardships peculiar to trench warfare, because of the life of the men in the open air and their scientifically selected, wholesome food."

America's Part in the War

(Review of Reviews.)

In recent months there has been a great accession of German confidence based upon the submarine and the Russian revolution; there has been a new hope that Germany might win the war, after all. But these hopes have gone glimmering with the return of the Russians to the attack, the unsatisfactory harvest of the submarine, which discloses the fact that it cannot win the war this year or next, at the present rate, and, finally, the entrance of the United States into the war and the arrival of American troops in France.

The echo of all this we hear in the present crisis in Berlin. It is no part of the task of the military reviewer to discuss military events. We have not yet any satisfactory evidence as to the true meaning of the passing of Bethmann-Hollweg and the pending changes in the German government or system, but it is plain that these changes are the fruit of military disappointments and are manifestly consequences of a growing recognition in Germany of the fact that the war cannot be won and may be lost.

We shall have a real measure of the German spirit when there emerges from the fog some definite statement of German peace proposals. Unless these proposals accept unequivocally the Russian view of no annexations and no indemnities, it is safe to conclude that they will be thrust aside by the nations now fighting Germany. Even if they do make such proposals, the allies will infallibly demand a German agreement to a settlement of the Alsace-Lorraine question in favor of France, of the Italian Irredenta in favor of Italy and the reconstitution of the Balkans in favor of Serbia, insuring that state a seaboard on the Adriatic and an increase of Serb lands at the expense of Austria.

That an evidence on the part of Germany—and of her allies, of willingness to open these questions might lead to an agreement to settle colonial questions about the green table and to negotiate on the question of German interests in Central Africa, seems to me quite likely. But this is mere speculation. Germany must first renounce conquest, second consent to sacrifices; until these things happen there can be no peace conference this year, or before a campaign of 1918.

Yet recognizing all this it seems to me plain that we are entering the last year of the war. For my own part I am convinced that if the war lasts until the fourth anniversary, we shall then be within two steps of peace and my conviction is that peace will come before that anniversary. The temper in Austria, the change wrought in the near East by Russian renunciation of annexations in Turkey, the growing clearness of perception in Germany that victory is impossible and that disaster lies in future prolongation of the struggle are for me clear indications that we are on the edge of a change in the whole situation, a change which will make military events from now on of less importance than political.

In all this it seems to me the United States has a very clear mission. We must first of all continue to send men and supplies and munitions to Europe, because I believe that the arrival of American troops in France has already been an unmistakably powerful influence in bringing a change in Germany. The more troops we send to France the less chance there will be that we shall have heavy losses and long casualty lists. The fact that we mean to go on will, I believe, be a great force for peace, the first sign that we were slowing down might act as did the Russian revolution to arouse a German hope that the war might be won.

A few weeks ago, when Russian soldiers were quitting the front and there was still no suggestion of an American army in France, Germany believed she could win the war and adopted a policy of extreme rigor. Her statesmen and publicists proclaimed victory in sight and asserted that this victory would mean the real world domination of Germany. But the Russian soldiers returned to the battle and an American army arrived in Europe with results that are plain. There has been a profound change in German expectation and this change has shown itself in unmistakable ways.

The submarine, the separate peace with Russia, the impotence of America—these have all proven illusions. But, on the other hand, if Russia again pauses, if the United States consents itself with sending only a first expedition to France, German hope may revive and German determination to fight on may return. Then we shall lose many lives, both of soldiers now in France and soldiers who will ultimately have to be sent from this country, if the war takes on a new and bitter phase.

Belgian government toward Germany. Germany is not coming as an enemy into Belgium, it is only through the force of circumstances that she has had, owing to the military measures of France, to take the grave decision of entering Belgium and occupying Liege as a base for her further military operations. Now that the Belgian army has upheld the honor of its arms by its heroic resistance to a very superior force, the German government has the king of the Belgians and the Belgian government to spare Belgium further horrors of war. The German government are ready for any compact with Belgium which can be reconciled with their conflicts with France. Germany once more gives her solemn assurance that it is not her intention to appropriate Belgian territory to herself and that such an intention is far from her thoughts. Germany is still ready to evacuate Belgium as soon as the state of war will allow her to do so.

"Of course we were loath to present anything of the sort, but the thing had to be handled carefully. After some pow-wow-ing I went over to the foreign office with the message and saw Baron van der Elst. I carried portion of the house."

told him seriously that we had received a very remarkable telegram which purported to contain a message from the German government; that it bore no marks of authenticity, and that we were not sure as to its source; but that we felt that we should be lacking in frankness if we did not show him what we had received. He seized the message and read it through, his amazement and anger growing with each line. When he had finished he gasped for a minute or two, and then led me into the next room to the minister for foreign affairs, M. Davignon, to whom he translated the telegram aloud. When they had finished discussing the message and I had a pretty clear idea as to the Belgian attitude toward the proposal—not that I had any real doubt—I asked him: "If the American minister had delivered this message what would have been its reception?" Without an instant's hesitation M. Davignon replied: "We should have resented his action and should have declined to receive the communication."

FROM THE SENTINEL PAGES 25 YEARS AGO

The heavy rainfall last night was welcomed by everybody.

The democrats will have a pole-raising on Broadway, opposite McCulloch park, this evening.

Dr. K. K. Wheelock purchased the McCulloch homestead on West Superior street, yesterday for $3,800.

Mrs. John Porter will let the contract this evening for the erection of a house on Columbia avenue, the building to cost in the neighborhood of $2,500.

Last night at the Episcopal residence Father Quinlan invited in marriage Mr. Frank Reed and Miss Emma Voirel, daughter of Frank Voirel, the jeweler. The attendants were Louis Voirel and Miss Mary Beuret, of Auburn. The young couple will reside at 144 Fairfield avenue.

There was a jolly coaching party to Maysville Tuesday, in honor of Miss Grace Munson, of Cleveland. Those in the party were the Misses Lillie Pyke, Grace White, Kate McDougall and Messrs. Shambaugh, R. B. Hanna, B. F. Harper and Irwin Randall. They took supper at the Stall house and returned by moonlight.

A meeting was held last evening at the home of T. W. Blair, at 220 East Wayne street, for the purpose of organizing a republican male quartet for the campaign now about to open. It will be known as the Union club quartet and the members are T. W. Blair, first tenor; W. F. Geller, second tenor; H. E. Woolsey, first bass, and Ed C. Close, second bass.

During the electrical shower last evening considerable damage was done by the lightning. John Duclow, the well known dairyman at 149 Wells street, had his twelve cows pastured in a field just west of the Bloomingdale mills. This morning when he went to drive them in from pasture, he was surprised to find four of the animals dead, killed by a stroke of lightning. A current of electricity traveled down the chimney at the street, and stunned a young man who was boarding there, but he soon recovered. The roof was torn from the

the County Agents

County agents in northeastern Indiana have forwarded the following weekly reports to Purdue university:

A. Z. Archart, DeKalb county: "A labor committee chairman has been appointed in each township, each one to keep in touch with the county agent's office as a medium of exchange to distribute labor. A number of men have been located in positions on farms. The demand is especially heavy just now for harvest labor and not enough men to fill the places."

Harry Gray, Wells county: "The location of good wheat fields in the county was a matter of first importance during the week. Letters were mailed to members of our agricultural committee in all parts of the county in order that the very best fields might be listed for seed purposes. Effort will be made to supply the farmers of the county and other counties so far as possible with wheat of good quality."

free from disease and with varieties of known value."

H. R. Smalley, Steuben county: "Had a meeting with the township trustees in regard to plans for the county wheat campaign. The seed wheat selection was started by appointing each trustee a committee of one to select the field in his township."

COLLEGE ATHLETICS

WILL BE CONTINUED

National Association in

Upon That.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 3.—College athletics will be continued during the war, according to a decision of the National Collegiate Athletic association in conference here. Most of the representatives of the eastern and western colleges participated. The action was prompted mainly by the recommendation of Secretary of War Baker who, in addressing the delegates, urged that athletic competition be encouraged to fit college men for military service.

All of the larger schools, except Yale, Harvard, Princeton and possibly Virginia, will be represented this fall in intercollegiate football. The latter institutions are said to lack material.

The conference adopted resolutions recommending that all students participate in competitive sports, that pre-season coaching and training stables be abolished and that eligibility standards be not relaxed.

MAN WAS BURIED ALIVE.

Cave-in of a Sewer Results in Hurried Run by Police Patrol.

Four men were engaged in the digging of a sewer at the rear of the house at 1310 Home avenue, Thursday afternoon, when a cave-in resulted. Three of the men escaped, but the other, Bert Jackson, of 225 West Superior street, was caught. He was completely buried. The patrol made a hurried run to the scene, but upon his arrival his fellow workmen had him practically unearthed. He was taken to his home, but was able to resume work Friday.

THIS SHOULD SETTLE DISPUTED QUESTION

A mistake has been rectified through the efforts of Charles L. Biedersdorf, secretary and manager of the Commercial club, and further conclusive proof been given that Fort Wayne is the second city in the Hoosier state, a fact which all citizens of Fort Wayne freely admit despite any claims to the contrary by Evansville.

Through some error Bradstreet's file did not get the correct figures on the relative populations of Fort Wayne and Evansville. An edition of the rating books gave the southern city the best end of it which moved Secretary Biedersdorf to make an inquiry which resulted in a reply to the effect that the estimates had been revised and showed Fort Wayne to have a population of 78,140 and Evansville 76,981.

HEAD OF ARMOUR & CO.

ENLISTS ALL FOR WAR

Chicago, Aug. 3.—J. Ogden Armour, president of Armour and company, has returned here from attending war supply conferences in the east. He was at the daily council of packers at the yards when he was asked what he thought of the situation.

"I'll tell you what I think," he replied. "The government of the United States can have Armour and company."

"The government of the United States can have any man or any group of men of Armour and company."

"There will be no request for exemptions. When a man is irreplaceable the government will be so notified and it can take its choice of where it wants him to serve."

"Whether it is patriotism or selfishness that moves us counts little in the actual outcome. We may no all realize it as a nation and as free men; we have staked all and shall win or lose all."

"That's what I think about the situation."

SWITZERLAND TAKES CROPS.

SOCIETY

Following the work and demonstrations in canning food which were given in this city recently under the management of the food relief committee and the home economics department of the Woman's Club league, the public library has on display the food canned by the Purdue expert, who was here, and also bulletins issued by the department of agriculture regarding canning and drying of vegetables and fruits. There are bulletins at the library from the United States department of agriculture free for anyone who wants them, describing the method of canning and drying fruits and vegetables and the librarians are only too glad to lend any help they can. Posters are up urging the women to work for their country by conserving food. The library is still receiving books to send to Indiana soldiers and volumes of standard works are as welcome as any of the later publications of the "best seller" class.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Shoaff and children have gone to Leland, Mich., for an outing.
Miss Veta Afock, of Rockhill street, has gone to Detroit, Mich., to remain a month.
Miss Desdemona Hale has gone to Maclewa Park, Mich., for an outing of several weeks.
Miss Mabel Moran, of Chicago, who had been visiting Miss Bertha Young, has returned home.
Mrs. W. A. Brown and children have returned to their home in Canal Dover, Ohio, after a two months' visit with Mrs. Brown's mother, Mrs. Thomas Williams, of Eliza street.

A LATE SUMMER FASHION OF SIMPLE LINES AND QUITE EFFECTIVE STYLE

It is never too early to begin to plan one's wardrobe for the coming season. The black moon-glo crepe utilized in this gown needs very little trimming to enhance it beyond the bead motif and the buttons made of the crepe. The simple lines make it an effective style for the average figure, and the pleated overskirts and the pointed cuffs add to the general effect.

White Blackbird Feature of Party

BY BETTY BROWN.

water and boil for one hour. Drain, add fresh boiling water and simmer until tender. Serve with butter, bacon drippings or white sauce.

Salted Sweet Corn.
Cut the corn from the cob and mix it with salt, allowing one pint of salt to one gallon of corn. Put the corn in a sterilized cheesecloth bag, pack in a crock and cover with a plate. Before cooking soak one hour in fresh water, drain and cover with boiling water, boil one hour, drain, add more boiling water, and when the corn is tender, serve with melted butter.

Pickled Corn and Beans.
Cooks who like sauerkraut often prepare corn and beans by a pickling process. Put whole ears of corn, or corn cut from the cob, or string beans into a clean sack and suspend in a barrel of brine. The corn ferments and gives an acid product.

ELDERLY WOMEN SHOULD BANISH BLACK WEAVES.

Even though fashion strayers, dress critics and the yuppy ones cry out against the young duds, who will say they are not an improvement upon the dismal, draggy, drab draping with which grandma of the past clothed herself? The old-fashioned grandmother regarded as unseemly anything that displayed the slightest element of sartorial gaiety. At 30 she put on black, and in these dismal breadths she lived until her great grandchildren arrived—and even then she didn't reform.

Elderly women most particularly need an extravagant use of white in the formulas of their wardrobes, and black should be banished like an enemy. Certain shades of rose, luscious deep blues, like Copenhagen, are the orchidee and mauve tints are like tonic to the white-haired sisterhood. A droopy hat with a facing of cherry-colored red satin transforms grandma into a beautiful dear, casting a blush over the clear, velvety skin and tucking the white locks with glints and

Kitchen Economies Food Conservation

Housewives have their own definitions of kitchen economy. Now comes war and rolls them all into one. And war allows no exemptions from service in the cause of food conservation.

But many housewives who have always had the habit of doing their best, which means their utmost, find it a bit difficult to discover new ways of saving. Recipes for canning tomatoes fail to interest them, but they delight in new, odd and uncommon economies.

Almost any nice cook appreciates a "vegetable roast" as a novelty. It is a winter dish made by canning a mixture of vegetables.

Vegetable Roast.
Prepare corn, lima beans, tomatoes, string beans, okra, squash and eggplant as for canning separately. Mix these in varying proportions, letting the corn predominate. Add two or three medium-sized onions to each quart of the mixture, run through a food chopper and stir until completely mixed. Pack into glass jars and sterilize. To prepare for serving, next winter, mix a portion with an equal amount of bread crumbs, a piece of butter, and one egg, season with salt and pepper, pack in a round baking dish and bake until brown. Serve in slices with drawn butter sauce. The mixture may be added to soup stock.

Salted String Beans.
String the beans as for cooking, pack in stone jars, a layer of beans and a sprinkling of salt. Pack tightly, cover, and put a weight on top. To cook next winter, soak the beans over night in cold water, pour off and add boiling pretty lights. We are again the silly styles for middle age, but are even furnish the funeral trappings of the past. If a woman has the dress sense well developed and sufficient money to buy beautiful attire, old age finds half its terrors gone.

THEY HAD THE RIGHT IDEA.

Childish mistakes often border ludicrously on the truth. Two little Indianapolis girls were talking seriously of affairs in general. "My mother has gone to a food conservation meeting," said one. "What is that?" asked her companion. "Why don't you know?" replied the first. "It's a meeting where they talk about things to eat, and table manners I s'pose."

And in a way she was right, for never was there a time when women have talked as much of food as they do today, and it might as well be called "food conservation." Only they do not confine their efforts to talking. In the national movement to persuade the housewife to cook less, waste less and buy less, an effort is being made to enlist every man, woman and child in the country. On one of the attractive posters advertising the movement are the words: "Food—buy it with thought, cook it with care, serve just enough, save what will keep, eat what will spoil; home-grown is best." All of which is very practical "food conservation."

You can Eat Cereals to Reduce Food Cost

The most practical means of reducing table expenses without decreasing the wholesomeness and adequacy of the diet lies in increased use of cereal foods, especially boiled grains, mushes and breads made of corn meal and cereals other than wheat.

Cereals contain most of the important food elements which the body needs and yet are comparatively inexpensive. They are primarily a source of starch, needed by the body to yield energy. They furnish also considerable quantities of protein, one of the most important and usually one of the most expensive food elements, needed to build the body and keep it in repair. In addition, cereals furnish mineral matter, fats, fibre and, especially if part of the bran is left in, little known substances which regulate body activities.

Cereals, therefore, may be used as the relatively inexpensive basis for meals. It then becomes necessary only to eat with them comparatively small quantities of higher priced foods to make up a proper balance among the needed elements. When animal foods or other nutritious foods, fruits and vegetables also are used in the diet, the various grains may be interchanged freely as availability, cost, or preference dictates. The starch of all the cereals is practically the same. Protein, fat and mineral matter vary somewhat in the different kinds but so slightly that the difference need not be considered in the ordinary mixed diet. In such a diet, therefore, corn or oatmeal, for example, may be satisfactorily substituted for wheat when the latter is scarce, without detracting from the wholesomeness of the meals.

REGULAR BED HOUR BEST WAY FOR INDUCING SLEEP

Regular habits for retiring must be considered one of the best methods for securing good sleep. The human body has a wonderful periodicity in all its spontaneous actions, and by studying these much of the machinery of health may be made to work smoothly.

Witness one habit of waking at a certain hour to which we have been accustomed. Regularity in eating is most important for health. The digestive tract will respond at regular times just as other habits will repeat themselves.

Proper food properly digested will do much for one's health and happiness.

It is a mistake to eat too much. We should try and enjoy our meals by paying attention to the taste of food. Do not gulp it down. It should be masticated and tasted so as to stimulate those nerves which reflect their sense on the other nerves controlling the glands of digestion.

When you feel indigestion after eating a meal note the ingredients eaten, and should it repeat itself, dismiss the guilty food from your dietary.

Don't make eating a taste but make it a pleasure, so that the food will digest and be assimilated and applied to the different necessities of the activities of life.

Youth demands a greater variety and quantity of food than does old age and especially does it require much protein and meat.

Learning what foodstuffs best suit is one of the great educational tasks man has before him, for he no longer has the intuition of the lower animals.

BABY HAS ONLY SENSE OF TASTE AT ITS BIRTH.

You are born with a sense of taste and make good use of it at once. It is not until you reach the age of six weeks that you could focus your eyes and really get a clear vision. Smelling and hearing come along together when you are about one week old. A sense of touch comes when you are about two weeks old.

While the baby sees things early, in all probability vision is not completely developed much before the baby is three or three and one-half months old. Many authorities insist that the new-born baby is completely deaf for the first twenty-four or forty-eight hours of its life, and some authorities maintain that the baby is deaf for several days.

When objects are brought close to the eyes of the new-born baby it does not wink or close them and it is usually not before the sixth week that the baby will quickly shut the eyes if something is moved rapidly toward them.

JAPAN READY WITH HER SHIPS AND MEN

Willing to Help Beat the U-Boat if America Pays Price.

(Staff Special.)
Washington, D. C., Aug. 3.—When the Japanese war mission arrives in this country, the best and wildest Nipponese diplomatic brains will be pitted against Uncle Sam in one of the greatest bargaining matches in history. Upon the outcome will largely depend not only the future of hitherto troubled relations between the United States and Japan, but the stabilizing of the Russian war front, the greater participation of Italy in the war, the circumvention of the German U-boat campaign and, possibly, the very decision of the war itself.

The Japanese will have two great trump cards to play. They have a merchant marine of nearly 2,500,000 tons and a magnificently trained army of more than 2,000,000 men.

The Japs have made money out of the war, so much so that they are now a creditor instead of a debtor nation. They are willing to continue making money by selling ammunition and artillery to Russia.

But they want something more than money for their ships and their troops. They would like to have a settlement with this country over the land and immigration questions in the Pacific coast states. And even more important from their viewpoint, they would like to have Uncle Sam agree to their having a free hand with China. "The American policy in China has been the open door. If Japan is given her way, the door will not only be closed, it will be shut with a reverberating bang."

Every impulse of the American statesman will be to insist upon the open door. But just about that time European statesmen, representing our allies, will point out what Japan can do for the cause. She can send several hundred thousand men into Russia by the Siberian line and these trained and perfectly equipped troops would help stiffen the Russian troops facing the Germans and Austrians.

But even more vital are Japan's ships. Italy has over 4,000,000 men, but not enough ammunition, because she lacks steel and coal. She has troops to spare if she can get these commodities. Japanese ships could carry American steel and coal to Italy and food to the allies.

To pour Japan's tremendous merchant marine through the Panama canal, load it at American ports, and send it across the ocean convoyed by American, Japanese and allied destroyers would be in a large measure to defeat German U-boat plans until the American shipping board could construct its tremendous number of ships.

The only question at issue is whether Uncle Sam will pay the price in money, in immigration laws and in a closed China.

GERMANY SPREADING OUT.

Copenhagen, Aug. 3.—Germany is believed to be making preparations for the establishment in Denmark and Sweden of a large number of branches of well known German factories and industrial firms, says the Svenska Dagbladet. These plans, if carried out, would be very detrimental to neutral trade since the countries of the allies would be naturally suspicious of all neutral firms which might be serving German interests. The paper suggests a combination of industry and finance to offset this German influence.

LITTLE DAB OF BUTTER AT YOUR ELBOW MAKING NEW KINGS IN MID-WEST; RESPECT THAT DAB!

J. A. Long, Who Began Buying Little Dabs 40 Years ago, Now Makes 5,000,000 Pounds a Year and Plans to Be World's Biggest Producer.

Staff Special.

Union City, Mo., Aug. 3.—Note well the tiny dab of butter at your elbow. Pour little thing! It is lying there obscurely among the dinner dishes—the bashful, timid, Cinderella of the dinner table.

You could never tell by its looks that there are millions in it, mister, millions!

Even while the world is being made safe for democracy, it is creating a new line of middle-western kings—Butter Kings who think the day lost that doesn't produce for each of them from 40,000 to 50,000 pounds of butter, at least.

Last year they produced more than one billion pounds of it. Respect that tiny dab of butter at your elbow!

Why, for the purpose of making a photograph there were piled up at the local creamery of J. A. Long & Co.—one of the largest in the country—40 odd firkins of butter, representing a value of $1,500.

Fifteen hundred dollars all in one eye!

And it represented only about one-twelfth of the day's production in this creamery which works day and night.

If as the $1,500 worth of firkins were posing for their picture, the price of butter had advanced only one cent—as it often does nowadays—their value would have gone up $35 as you looked.

Ah, little dab of butter, you're some dab!

That's how quickly money is made among the butter magnates.

The butter works for them while they sleep. One of them may have in transit 800,000 pounds. And if, while the butter is thus on the way, the market price goes up one cent per pound, the butter at its destination is worth $3,000 more than when it left the factory.

These firkins of butter, posing for their picture, contain $1,500 worth of "little dabs," and they're only twelfth of one factory's daily output. Inset is M. F. Knudson, Danish manager of big J. A. Long & Co. factory at Union City, Ind.

But it works the other way, too.

One day, according to Long's Danish manager, M. F. Knudson, they had 300,000 pounds on hand and there was a drop of 7 cents.

"That made a different story," he said. But he smiled in a manner that indicated it ended happily.

Long started buying and selling butter, eggs and chickens in a small way about forty years ago. In those days butter was made in the old family churn. It was a pretty way, with a lot in her neat gingham sunbonnet presiding. It was picturesque, but not efficient, nor always sanitary, nor highly profitable.

Today the farmers sell their cream to Long, who makes 5,000,000 pounds of butter a year out of it. His ambition is to make 10,000,000 pounds, and to that end he is building a new factory. He will then, it is said, have the largest butter industry in the world, making Union City the butter capital.

Ma would take the cream as it was, germs and all. The creamery today sterilizes it first. Long has 300 field stations to which farmers bring their cream to be tested for butter fats. The farmer sees the test made and gets his cash immediately.

Long uses about 25,000 gallons of cream each day and last year there accrued to him as a by-product $20,000 worth of butter-milk.

Last year there was shipped out of this town—population of 3,209, according to the last census—$2,000,000 worth of butter to all parts of the world, including Japan and Russia.

Yes, timid little dab of butter, you have your romance.

back words of great cheer to the men at St. Dunstan's."

Follows It All Keenly.

Entertained by officers of all ranks, Sir Arthur declared his days and nights at the front had been filled to overflowing. No visitor ever followed the workings of the vast British army machine with quicker, keener appreciation and understanding than he. He was gratified to find in the army a similar interest and appreciation in the work at St. Dunstan's for the blinded soldiers and sailors.

Sir Arthur told of the resentment he felt when unthinking people referred to St. Dunstan's as a "home" for the blind as if the blind were to be segregated there for the rest of their days.

"It is not a home for the blind," he protested, "and I do not believe in 'homes' for the blind. St. Dunstan's is an institution where those who cannot see are helped to equip themselves to take their places in the ordinary walks and affairs of life. Often dependent at first, they are set some simple task and when they find how easily it is done, a spirit of regeneration seems to come over them. They catch the spirit of accomplishment and thereafter nothing is too great for them to attempt."

Back to His Old Trade.

"One of the most despondent men with whom we have had to deal was a blinded 'Tommy,' who had been a sort of steamfitter, or house heating expert. None of the ordinary trades appealed to him and he felt as if he were altogether done for. Suddenly I asked him how he would like to go back to his old job. He shook his head sadly. It couldn't be done. I told him we would see about that. I wrote to his old firm, and one of the partners came to see me. I asked if they would take 'Tommy' back. I was assured the firm would like to do so, but they could not see how a blind man could fill any post in their business. I obtained a promise, however, that if I could assist the soldier to such an extent that I felt he was entitled to a trial they would do so."

"I immediately sent for all the available text books on house heating I could find. I even got two volumes from America. The end of the story was very simple. I had a letter from the firm a few days ago saying 'Tommy' was receiving nearly double his old salary, was of more value to them than he had ever been, or, they believed, ever would have been."

MEXICAN IN TROUBLE.

Mexico City, Aug. 3.—Charges of breach of discipline of the army and of conduct tending to embarrass the foreign policy of Mexico have been made against General Juan Merigo in connection with a statement said to have been made by him which was published in a local paper and in which he was alleged to have advocated that Mexico break with Germany and join the allies. General Merigo asserts in reply to the charges that at the time the statement was made he had resigned from the army and his resignation had been accepted, and that he considered his utterances patriotic rather than likely to involve Mexico to her detriment.

IMPROVING THEIR MANNERS.

Stockholm, Aug. 3.—The special correspondent of a Stockholm paper writes from the German front in France of the treatment meted out to "disrespectful Frenchmen who did not know the correct Prussian method of greeting their superiors." They were brought into a large room and compelled for two hours at a stretch to pass and repass a German officer's stuffed uniform, saluting each time they passed it and saying respectfully, "Bon jour, monsieur l'officier." A sentinel with fixed bayonet stood near to see that the salutations were properly made.

LISTENS TO THE BATTERIES.

Sir Arthur was deeply impressed by the work of the guns. He remained with some of the batteries for a long time and listened to their noisy mutterings with a keen apprehension of all that was going on about him. He was particularly delighted to hear above the reverberating echoes the songs of larks—always to be remembered by the soldiers on this front as their ever-cheerful companions of trench and battle fields.

Trudging over some of the older battlefields of the Somme, walking through the trenches, and standing in the higher places where the panorama of battle spread below him, Sir Arthur drank in the atmosphere of the war—the meaning of it all. He "saw" the "tanks" in repose and heard them at drill, he stood outside a prison cage and visualized the round-capped Germans within the barbed wire barriers. He asked a guard if any of the prisoners ever attempted to escape.

Glad to Be Confined.

"Escape, sir!" replied the old sergeant; "why, sir, you couldn't drive 'em away; they likes being prisoners, sir, they does."

The ruined cities of the Somme, Bapaume and Peronne, affected Sir Arthur deeply.

"I wish the whole world—all but the Germans who already know what they have done—could come and stand in the grand squares of these cities as I did today," he exclaimed, "and see and feel the desolation and the wanton destruction. They are ghost-like, these cities of the dead. I knew them on motor trips in other days, when they were alive and I could see, and I could picture the scene today as if I were looking at a painting. The Germans will find, however, the day of reckoning is near at hand. I shall take

ASSISTANTS ARE NAMED

Physician Members of Draft Board to Have Help in Examination.

STAGE SET FOR TESTS IN THIRD DISTRICT

First Man Up is in Far-Off Virginia With His Family.

Assistants for the examining physicians in each of the city districts for the draft to make up Uncle Sam's new army have been named and will report for duty when the work of making body tests start.

In the Third district Drs. William O. McBride and J. C. Wallace will aid Dr. J. E. McArdle, the member of the examination board. Drs. Max Lohman and H. M. Sensensy will assist Dr. L. P. Drayner in the second city section. Dr. Charles Beall will be aided in the examination work in the first district by Drs. Dean Metcalf and A. L. Schneider.

The physicians are planning to increase the speed of their examining work by specializing in their tests. One doctor will examine the subject's eyes and hearing and pass the man on to the next physician, who may seek out the organic defects. In each district the physicians expect to care for nearly twenty men an hour.

Ready for Examinations. Physical examinations will start in the Third district, that section south of the Pennsylvania railroad tracks, on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. The tests will be made in the office of the Hoagland school building. One hundred and two men have been ordered to report for physical examination on Saturday.

The first man to have been called for examination in the Third district is in Virginia. He went to the southern state soon after registration. He will be examined there. He has a family and is expected to be exempt for service. He had No. 258.

Board members have been told that Ralph Edward Fries, 1619 Green street, jitney driver, and the second man in the district to be called, will also stand a chance for exemption. He has dependents, it is stated.

Boards members, who know many of the young men in their district, believe that Mark Baker, 311 Pontiac street, the third man on the list, stands a good chance of being the first Fort Wayne man called for service in the new army. He is apparently physically fit and is not known to seek exemption.

The next two men to appear before the board are also said to be apparent candidates for freedom's host. They are Oscar W. Brungart, 703 Walnut street, and Harman Miller, 2408 John street.

Rules Are Fixed. Physicians connected with the examination boards have announced that they will adhere closely to the rules for bodily examination, which have been sent out from Washington and of which each examining doctor has been furnished a copy.

The examining physicians are told to take the word of nobody in regard to ailments and defects but to find out the physical state of the conscripted party by personal test.

First observance of the examining physician will be of the subject's scalp, ears, nose, mouth, face and neck to ascertain general blood conditions and bodily tone. Marked defects will make themselves known at this time.

Men who are below five feet and four inches tall must be of good physique, well developed and muscular to be taken for service. Unless exceptionally well proportioned men who are above six feet and six inches tall will not be accepted.

The table prepared by the surgeon general of the army and which will hold for local examinations sets the minimum weight and chest measurements for the varied heights as follows:

Height.	Weight.	Chest.
Feet.	(Pounds.)	(Inches.)
4-12	113	31
5-0	120	31
5-3	124	31
5-6	128	32
5-9	130	32
5-12	132	32 1/2
6-0	134	33
6-3	141	33 1/2
6-6	148	34 1/2
6-9	155	35
6-12	162	35 1/2
7-0	169	36
7-3	176	36 1/2
7-6	183	37
7-9	190	37 1/2
8-0	197	38
8-3	204	38 1/2
8-6	211	39

The draft regulations state that a variation from eight to twenty pounds will be allowed if the subject is evidently vigorous and healthy. Variations in weight above the standard are not disqualifying.

Ask Good Heart. Strenuous test of the heart action is to be taken. The draft subject will be required to jump into the air several times, to stand and broad jump as far as possible a number of times, to run the length of the room several times as rapidly as possible. After each exercise the heart palpitations will be noted. The heart life must be strong and steady if the subject is to enter the army.

The vision will be tested by the use of lettered cards, which must be read at twenty paces. The hearing will be examined by the physicians pronounce-

GOOD NAME WORTH $50 TO BOB SMITH

Did Not Appear for Trial on Charge of Annoying Women.

There is a certain young man who mingles in the social set and who attends the fashionable dances. He has a weakness in being unaccountable for all his acts after he assist the commerce of a few schooners over the corner erected bar. He was in a few saloons Thursday evening.

It was this certain young man who climbed into a stalled automobile at the transfer corner at 10 o'clock Thursday night. Two married women were in the machine. The fellow took a seat between them while they sat in the machine, awaiting for the batteries to gain strength enough to pull the motor.

"Who is he?" inquired Mrs. S. of Mrs. G.

"Who is he?" asked Mrs. G. of Mrs. S.

"You are in wrong. Get out," ordered Mrs. S. of the misplaced social light. The young man said not a word but smiled blandly in only the way that a young man in his tipsy state can grin.

Mrs. S. leaped from the car and called a "cop." The young man also alighted from the machine and was gathered in the assuring arms of a patrolman. At police headquarters the defendant on a disorderly charge gave his name as "Bob Smith."

That name sounded better than Jones or Baker or Allen to the police.

Friends were called and the young man was released on $50 bond. In police court Friday morning the bailiff called in vain for "Bob Smith." The bond was forfeited. It is talked about that "Bob Smith" would rather give $50 than appear in court.

Honestly, does Good-Samaritanism pay these days?

Wallace Gray, who claims to be a good colored Samaritan, doubts the benefit of brotherly service. He told in police court that he only stopped to help Buel Hosier, 24, member of the local battery, crank an automobile and much trouble followed. Gray and Hosier will both be in jail for three months.

Ralph Dunn, who lives on rural route No. 2, said he saw the two young men trying to start his automobile when Dunn came from a meeting in the Aldine hall Thursday night. Dunn got two of his friends and the three men accosted the intruders. Hosier insisted that the machine was his. Police were called and Hosier and Gray were locked up.

Hosier, who had given his name as Ed Hosier had no excuse for attempting to take the car. Gray, a negro, who claims to be a graduate of Missouri state university, said he only stopped to help Hosier. On a charge of attempting to steal an automobile, both defendants were fined $25 and sentenced to ninety days in jail.

Other Police Court Cases. Charles Smith, laborer, who lives in the part of the city known as Kalserville, pleaded guilty to having stolen water pipes from the city. He had broken up the metal tubes to conceal their identity when Detective Sergeant William P. Pappert was attracted to the case. Smith was fined $1 and costs and given a thirty day suspended jail sentence.

Clarence Shonburg, chauffeur, was fined $15 and costs after he had pleaded guilty to a speeding charge. Ethel De Long, charged with loitering, was released for the third time by Judge H. W. Kerr. She had been arrested on Wednesday night. Attorney Andrew W. Perry appeared for the defendant.

A. Z. Henander, charged with disorderly conduct, is held under $50 bond for trial on August 7. Cases of public intoxication were: Frank O'Donald, Fred Krone and Phillip Brady, all released. Dick Brennan is held for authorities from southern Indiana.

ing whispered words at the back of the conscription subject.

Rejections will be given for the following defects:

Mental weakness, chronic skin diseases, abrupt depression of the skull due to a fracture, curvature of the spine, bursted ear drum, defective vision, deformities which hinder speech, very bad teeth (there must be four serviceable molar teeth), pronounced gitter, weak lungs and heart, venereal ailments, chronic rheumatism, webbed fingers, total loss of two fingers on either hand, pronounced varicose veins, pronounced knock-knees, club feet, flat feet, webbed toes, bunions, hammertoes.

The defects must be so marked as to clearly make the subject unfit for military service. In case of temporary dismemberment the young man will be ordered to report later for another test.

Men who are rejected at this time because of physical weakness will be subject to being called back at any time for another examination and possibly to be taken for service, if the war long continues. The examining rule may be modified at any time by the president, the physical test law sets out in its closing paragraph.

SPEAKS AT WEST BADEN.

Judge Samuel M. Hench, department commander of the G. A. R., has had one more date added to his already long schedule of speeches throughout the state. On August 15, the department commander will go to West Baden, there to address a meeting of old soldiers of the Third congressional district.

LABORER GETS JUDGMENT.

Robert Lowery, colored, a laborer, was given a judgment for seven dollars and costs in Justice H. F. Bullerman's court Friday morning against Ben Michaelson, a merchant.

INDEPENDENCE OF FINLAND IS DENIED

Russian Government Says Russian People Must Be Consulted.

Petrograd, Aug. 2.—(Delayed)—The provisional government has refused to acknowledge Finland's independence law and instead has issued a manifesto dissolving the landtag, appointing a general election on Oct. 1, declaring that the government when the landtag meets will submit its own law regulating Russo-Finnish relations.

The manifesto, which is signed by all ten ministers, expounds the provisional government's contention that Finland enjoys independence only within the limits defined by her constitution, the essential factor of which is the position of the emperor and grand duke, which has now passed to the provisional government. The independence law, the manifesto says, not being submitted for the sanction of the provisional government as the authority invested with the former grand duke's right of sanction is unconstitutional and further declares that the government cannot recognize the Finnish landtag's right arbitrarily to seize the freedom of will of the coming constituent assembly.

The fate of Finland can be decided only in agreement with the Russian people, the manifesto declares.

The minister for Finland took the manifesto to Helsinki and delivered it to General Stakovich, who read it to the senate, after which he made a friendly speech in which he said:

"This manifesto is the most democratic action yet performed by the revolutionary government for it makes Finland's people master of their own destinies."

The landtag is expected to decide its course of action tonight. The socialist majority threatens to defy the manifesto and continue its session, while the non-socialists expect to obey it. It is stated that the members of the high council have telegraphed to Helsinki declaring they would refuse to administer any further landtag enactments passed under an unconstitutional independence law.

Saloon Licenses Renewed. Licenses for thirteen liquor dealers in the city were renewed by the county commissioners, with the date of expiration as April 2, 1918, when Indiana prohibition begins.

Those who were granted renewals are: John Maxwell, Albert Weber, Joseph and Henry Luley, Val Jerski, Francis O. Court, Minnieh & Hoffman, Andrew J. Thiene, Frank Belch, Bruno Colmer, Perry L. Stahl, William Almsworth, Paul Frankenstein and Henry Bunsche.

Visited Dangerous Crossings. County Commissioners accompanied by Neal Johnson, superintendent of maintenance of way of the Wabash railroad, visited the eighteen dangerous crossings on the Butler division. It has been agreed that the company will fill up the roadbeds, eliminating the dangerous places.

Petition for Open Drain. Rebecca Knight et al. through Attorneys Sturgis & Sime, of Bluffton, have filed a petition asking that an open drain be established which will start in the southeastern part of Allen county, cut through the northwest part of Wells county and empty into the Eight Mile ditch in Huntington county.

Gets Money for Injury. Joseph B. Johnson, a former employee of the Bass country, has been awarded a lump sum equal to seventy-five weeks' wages as settlement for an injury sustained while at work. The case was before the state industrial board at its last meeting.

Caso Is Continued. The case of Kilbourne & Perry against Brentlinger and English, which was begun in superior court before Special Judge John Morris Thursday, was continued Friday morning until August 8.

Cases Dismissed. Two divorce cases were dismissed from the dockets of the superior court Friday. They were: Clara Russell from Albert Russell and Flynn Smith from Clarence E. Smith.

Henry Kotting has filed suit against Mendal and Anna Hurowitz to foreclose a mechanic's lien. He asks for $125 damages.

August Wolf has sued Adam Siger for $120, alleging that the defendant is indebted to him for some sand and gravel.

JUMPS FROM BRIDGE AND IS BADLY HURT

Man Giving Name as Clyde Cline and Home at Toledo Attempts Suicide.

A man giving his name as Clyde Cline and his home as Toledo, O., attempted suicide Thursday evening by jumping headfirst from the bridge just west of New Haven on the Lincoln highway. There was but little water in the creek below. His shoulder was broken and two serious wounds were inflicted on his head.

Cline is of unsound mind. Earlier in the evening he had called at a number of places along the road inquiring for physicians and asking for revolvers, shotguns, morphine and similar articles with which to end his life. All persons with whom he talked thought he was intoxicated.

Residents of the vicinity saw him jump from the bridge. He was bleeding and unconscious when they reached him. He was taken to Dr. G. G. Brundage's office in New Haven, where his injuries were dressed and later to the county farm. He is 34 years old.

COULD NOT FIND BODY.

The diver who worked part of the day Thursday endeavoring to find the body of Edward Huber, who drowned in Lake James Sunday, was unable to find the body and sent to Chicago for more apparatus. Late Friday afternoon his efforts had availed nothing.

OLD GRAY MARE ROLLS ALL OVER THE CABBAGE

Truckmen Residing East of City Complain to Sheriff About Roaming Horse.

The old gray mare, she rolled on the cabbage patch. Messrs. Drinkley and Allard, truckmen, residing east of Farrell avenue, said nothing about an old white horse which was roaming about the roads until she turned into their garden and proceeded to enjoy herself by lying down and rolling all over some fine cabbage plants.

They captured old Dobbin and are holding him as damages. They reported the matter to Sheriff George W. Gillie Friday morning and inquired what should be done with the horse.

The sheriff told them that the Indiana statutes gave them the privilege of holding the horse until the owner pays the damages. The sheriff issued a public warning several months ago that all people who allow their animals to roam around on other people's property would be forced to pay the damages inflicted.

REPORT IS UNFAVORABLE.

Viewers on Holsapple Road, in Jackson Township, Finish Work.

Fred Boerger, Herman Franke and William Hockemeyer, who were named as viewers on the Holsapple road, in Jackson township, filed their report with the auditor Friday morning. The report was unfavorable to the petitioners. The viewers set forth that it would be impossible to accomplish the purpose of the petition. The viewers state that in re-establishing the road the big ditch could not be avoided.

JUMPS FROM BRIDGE AND IS BADLY HURT

Man Giving Name as Clyde Cline and Home at Toledo Attempts Suicide.

A man giving his name as Clyde Cline and his home as Toledo, O., attempted suicide Thursday evening by jumping headfirst from the bridge just west of New Haven on the Lincoln highway. There was but little water in the creek below. His shoulder was broken and two serious wounds were inflicted on his head.

Cline is of unsound mind. Earlier in the evening he had called at a number of places along the road inquiring for physicians and asking for revolvers, shotguns, morphine and similar articles with which to end his life. All persons with whom he talked thought he was intoxicated.

Residents of the vicinity saw him jump from the bridge. He was bleeding and unconscious when they reached him. He was taken to Dr. G. G. Brundage's office in New Haven, where his injuries were dressed and later to the county farm. He is 34 years old.

COULD NOT FIND BODY.

The diver who worked part of the day Thursday endeavoring to find the body of Edward Huber, who drowned in Lake James Sunday, was unable to find the body and sent to Chicago for more apparatus. Late Friday afternoon his efforts had availed nothing.

LOWER RATE MEANS MORE STREET LIGHTS

Work of Putting Up One Hundred Lamps is Started.

One hundred more street lights will be installed in the city as a result of the lowering of the street light rate from $53 to $50 a year. Work of placing the new lights is already started under the direction of Frank Dix, of the light department.

The city budget for next year provides $60,000 for city lighting. The city pays only for the electric current used. The municipal light plant installs the posts, wires and lamps. The lighting budget is sufficient to provide for more than 1,100 lights at the old rate. Under the new plan allowed by the state utility commission, more than 1,200 lamps can be paid for.

COST OF SEWERS.

Contracts are awarded by Board of Public Works.

Contracts for the construction of six sewers were awarded Thursday evening by the board of public works as follows: In alley between Erie and Wayne streets, from Hanover street to the Weller addition, to Anton Rieg, at $1.60 per linear foot; along a line 118 feet west of Anthony boulevard, from Hartman acre addition to Hough's outlots, to the Moellering Construction company, at $1.73 per linear foot; in alley between Clay and Warsaw streets, from Gumpner avenue to Oxford street, to the Moellering Construction company, at $1.71 per linear foot; in the alley between Clay and Warsaw street, from Gumpner avenue to McKinney street, to the Moellering Construction company at $1.81 per linear foot; in alley between Packard and Organ avenues, from the alley east of Hoagland avenue to Webster street, to Anton Rieg, at $1.47 per linear foot; along the south side of the New York Central railroad, from Coombs street to Canal street, to the Moellering Construction company, at $1.52 per linear foot.

HAVE NEW MOWN HAY.

Park Board Will Sell Dried Grass to Highest Bidder.

Winnows of new mown hay is scenting the air in Foster park. Twenty-five acres of excellent hay have been cut by park workmen and will be stacked before the week end. It is the plan of the park board to sell the hay of hay to the highest bidder.

Three teams are at work grading Weisner park. The cellars, where half a dozen houses stood, at the north end of the park, will be filled up before the week-end, it is thought.

Placing of new back stops for the tennis courts is going on in Swinney and Lawton parks. Where the back stops are in good shape the posts and wires are being painted. Adolph Jaenake, the new park superintendent, is a tennis enthusiast.

"There is no game more healthful for the young folks than tennis," says Jaenake. "I want to see the tennis and ball grounds in every park kept in fine shape."

Jaenake has seen to it that the ball diamond in Foster park is made ready for use. Weeds have been cut from the outfield and the infield has been placed in "fast work" shape.

Building Permits. Building for August was given a flying start by the recording of the permit for the new African M. E. church to stand at the corner of Francis and Wayne streets. The brick structure will cost $15,000. It is to be modern in every respect.

A second permit on Friday was issued to William Wolker, who will build a private garage on Washington street at a cost of $2,375.

TANK STEAMER HAS BRUSH WITH U-BOAT

Escapes Torpedo and Shell Fire and Finally Out-foots the Foe.

An Atlantic Port, Aug. 3.—An American tank steamship loaded with gasoline was engaged in a running fight with a German submarine on July 10 when near the French coast and escaped destruction by superior speed after a torpedo had been launched and twenty-one shots had been fired from the U-boat's deck gun, according to officers of the vessel on arrival here today.

The submarine appeared after the wake of the passing torpedo had warned the Americans of the presence of an enemy. From a position several miles astern the bombardment took place, but none of the shots reached a mark. The American gunners on the tanker fired sixteen shots in return, but without results so far as could be ascertained.

The captain of the tank steamer asserted that the dangerous cargo he carried induced him to seek safety in flight rather than to try for conclusions at close quarters.

FOOD EXPERT SAYS TO KEEP ON CULTIVATING

Best Way to Retain Moisture is to Keep Ground Broken Up.

Farmers and gardeners worried about the continued hot weather and its effect upon corn and other crops, who have been consistently cultivating, are urged to continue to do so by G. W. Gray, food expert, in order that all the moisture in the ground may be retained.

Mr. Gray's answer to the question is that where the ground has been worked, ploughing should continue, but preferably to a depth of two or three inches. The difference of opinion has arisen before, according to Mr. Gray, but the course outlined has been found by experimental tests to be the best one to pursue. The weeds should be kept out and the cultivator should be more diligent now than at any other time, according to Mr. Gray, because weeds turned over now will die, whereas at other times when the heat is not so intense they cannot be so readily stamped out.

The ground should not be cultivated at too great a depth, but the crust formed by the heat should be broken up.

Mr. Gray was not extremely optimistic over the outlook for the potato crop this season. He said, however, that it was his belief that those who planted their potatoes about the first of July would get better results than those who planted them earlier.

MIZPAH PICNIC AT ROBISON PARK TODAY

Nearly 500 people left the interurban station in special cars Friday at 2 o'clock, bound for Robison park, where the annual picnic of the Mizpah temple, Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine was held. An excellent program had been arranged for the outing, including athletic events and a band concert by the Mizpah band. The athletic events started at 3 o'clock. Special provisions were made for the children, including free riders on the merry-go-round, free peanuts and so on. Supper was to be served at 6 o'clock, with dancing at 8 o'clock.

One feature of the outing was a drill by the Arab patrol under Capt. E. H. Kilbourne.

Five hundred letters will be sent out into the district explaining the new campaign. The major states that he will be able to recruit Battery D to war strength within seventy-two hours time.

POSTMEN NOT TO BE EXEMPT FROM DRAFT

Postmaster Will Not Ask That They Be Excused from Service.

Although it is possible under the decision made relating to the drafting of postoffice employees and others in the service of the federal government, for them to be exempt from the draft if a recommendation is made by the postmaster, President Miller made a statement Friday that he would not ask for the exemption of any of the men employed here. Postmaster Miller's decision will affect about ten men of military age, some of whom possibly having been expecting draft exemption because they are employed by the federal government.

The resolve of the postmaster that he would not ask that any of the local men be excused was probably prompted by the belief that substitutions to fill the vacancies left by drafted men can be readily made. It is believed that these places can be filled in the government service here as well as those that will result in many private concerns.

In a great many cities, it is reported, that the postmasters have already asked that exemptions be made for postal employees, but such a course has not been found necessary here.

HOME LODGE PICNIC.

Our Home lodge, No. 831, I. O. O. F., will hold their annual basket picnic at Foster park next Sunday.

CHANGE MADE IN COMMAND

Indianapolis Man Appointed
Captain of Battery B
Over Capt. Clark.

STREET PARADE TO BE GIVEN SUNDAY

Good-Bye to Local Company.

Like a bolt of lightning out of a clear sky came word Thursday evening from Adjutant General Harry B. Smith of the appointment of Lieutenant Snyder S. Miller, of a Battery, Indianapolis, superseding Captain Harry Clark. Much resentment is felt here over the action.

Captain Clark has had practical experience in artillery work for over ten years. However, it was after much persuasion that he finally accepted to head the local battery. He had closed up his work in Cleveland and had come to Fort Wayne to accompany his men to Fort Benjamin Harrison on Sunday morning. The action of the adjutant general is said to have been wholly unexpected. No explanation has been given for the change. Telegrams were forwarded over a week ago by Captain Clark to the adjutant general and Col. R. H. Tyndall accepting the command of the local battery. That no action was taken relative to his dismissal until almost on the eve of the battery's departure for Fort Harrison is one of the inexplicable things connected with the unexpected change.

The case is, in many ways, similar to that of Lieutenant Luther Mertz, of Battery D. Lieutenant Mertz, it will be recalled, tendered his resignation shortly after returning from the Mexican border, where he had served with Battery D. The resignation was accepted. Later he was induced to come back into the service and as an inducement was offered the command of Battery D. Later the adjutant general named Lieutenant Mark Dawson, also of Battery A, Indianapolis, as commanding officer, leaving Mertz as senior first lieutenant. After going to Fort Harrison two Indianapolis men also were named as lieutenants in Battery D.

The new commanding officer of Battery B was a sergeant in the battery at the commencement at Fort Benjamin Harrison in May, 1916. When the call came for Mexican border service he was promoted to a lieutenant.

Parade Is Planned.
Battery B will leave Fort Wayne Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, standard time. The Fort Wayne Council for Patriotic Service has promptly responded and all arrangements for a large parade and farewell program have been made.

Dr. A. G. Enrick, who was named chief marshal, has appointed the following as his aides: Capt. W. F. Ranke, Maj. John F. Miller, Maj. Clyde E. Driesbach and Herman Nilsen.

A platoon of police will lead the parade, followed by the chief marshal and his aides. The marching order of the other organizations are the Elks' band, Company E, Company B, signal corps, Red Cross girls, Camp Fire girls, General Electric lamp works girls, U. S. girls of G. E. Jefferson drum corps, Boy Scout patrol, Bowser military club, General Electric guards, Citizens' band, Spanish war veterans, civil war veterans, Battery B and relatives of the members of Battery B.

All other organizations who wish to march are asked to notify either Charles A. Niebergall or George A. Christen.

The police marshal and aides, Elks' band, Company E and signal corps unit will form on Harrison street, north of Berry. Red Cross girls, Camp Fire girls, General Electric lamp works girls and Uncle Sam girls will form on West Berry, west of Harrison street. The Jefferson drum corps, Boy Scout patrol, Bowser military club and General Electric guard will form on Harrison street, south of Berry. The Spanish war veterans, members of the G. A. R., Battery B and relatives of the departing soldiers will form on Berry street, east of Harrison.

All orders are to be in their places at 9 o'clock. The column will move at 9:30 o'clock over the following line of march: South on Harrison to Jefferson, to Calhoun, to Columbus, to Jefferson, to the L. E. & W. station.

At the Anthony hotel from the balcony of the second floor a short program of addresses will be given. The speakers as selected are Judge Samuel M. Bench and Judge John W. Egeman, of the Allen circuit court.

Battery Mess Fund.
The booster campaign for the fund of Battery B netted this artillery unit $216 from baseball tickets, $10.70 by donations and the social given Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. John A. Hood netted $47.25.

The officers of the battery and men interested in the battery's welfare have incorporated a campaign for a mess kit fund. It is pointed out that the government is unable at the present time to provide mess kits for all the boys and consequently the donations will be used to purchase mess kits for the members of the battery.

Motor Reserve Responds.
The Fort Wayne motor reserves have been called upon to do some patriotic work. At 10 o'clock Friday morning this organization provided a number of automobiles to take the members of the battery to various parts in the city notifying all members to report to the court house Sunday morning at 8 o'clock promptly. Everyone is asked to bring his baggage with him.

Fifty-six telegrams were sent out to non-resident members of the battery Thursday night. Officers and several men remained at work until 1 o'clock Friday morning.

Tonight is the night at Swinney Park.
MANY SECURE EMPLOYMENT.
Frantic Call of Farmers for Help Has Subsidized.

During the past week the Fort Wayne branch of the free employment bureau was the means whereby 138 men and eight women secured work. The frantic cry for help by the farmers of the county has subsidized, according to Fred C. Schmeling, who is in charge of the work.

Those who secured work during the week are listed as follows: Six dishwashers, twelve farm hands, one fireman, 116 laborers, five day workers and three general houseworkers.

A. A. Serva, salesmanager of the General Electric works, who was elected president of the Electro-Technic club some time ago, has just issued his report of the election and announced the names of the chairmen of the committees for the 1917-1918 term. The bulletin also instructs the members to go ahead and fill up their committees by making appointments as early as possible and furnish a list of the names. The officers of the association are:

President—A. A. Serva.
Vice President—John R. Pulver.
Secretary—S. E. Uncapher.
Treasurer—A. J. Schoenlein.
Member of the Board of Management—Samuel J. Gordon.
Chairmen of Committees—Membership, P. C. Duryee; entertainment, H. W. Baas; literary, J. R. Mills; athletic, C. J. Loughlin; educational, W. J. Hockett.

Notice has been done in the way of lecture program, but it is announced that the best will be the best that can be procured.

ENGINE THROWN ON SIDE.

G. R. & I. Has Rear End Collision at Kendallville.

As the first section of southbound G. R. & I. train was pulling in a siding at Kendallville at an early hour this morning, the second section crashed into the rear of the first, derailing the engine and some cars and throwing engine No. 98, which was pulling the second train, on its side. Fortunately none of the crew was hurt. The Pennsylvania wreck crew was summoned to the scene and soon had the tracks cleared. Trainmaster F. S. Fox and Road Foreman of Engines A. L. Loughlin went to the scene of the wreck.

SPIEGEL RESIGNS POSITION.

Well Known Clerk at G. R. & I. Offices Joins Army.

J. E. Spiegel, clerk for Chief Clerk M. Hoffman, of the G. R. & I. division engineers' office, resigned today. He enlisted in the signal corps some time ago and that body has been ordered to mobilize Sunday. His position in the railway office has been given to Miss Mildred Strebe, of Dagatur, who will be the second woman clerk in the G. R. & I. offices.

WABASH FEDERATION MEETING.

F. R. Lee, president of the Federated Unions, on the Wabash system, has called a meeting of the shop committees at the division points on the system at Fort Wayne next Tuesday and Wednesday, to review the situation as it affects the organized employees of the company and plan for further improvement in the conditions. These meetings have been frequent in the past, but this is the first time one has been called to be held in Fort Wayne, more centrally located points being preferred. It is said there will be about thirty men present, each being a chairman of the committee he represents. L. D. Miller, of the machinists; Frank J. Schwanz, of the pipelayers; Edward Seibold, of the boiler-makers; and Eugene Yehl, of the blacksmiths, representing the various departments of the local shop, will attend the meeting. The Wabash crafts—the blacksmiths, the boiler-makers, the pipelayers and the machinists—are said to be more effectively organized than are the same crafts in many of the other shops.

VISITING HIS PARENTS.

Frank Madison, who worked in the Pennsylvania machine shop a quarter of a century ago, is here spending a week or two with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Madison, and his brother-in-law, Mr. H. Morrison. Frank Madison is now foreman of the Southern Pacific machine shop. William Madison, the father, will be 85 years old next Sunday. For many years he was foreman of one of the departments of the Pennsylvania shops, retiring when he reached the age of 70. When Mr. Madison came to Fort Wayne and took employment in the little machine shops on the banks of the canal, between Calhoun and Harrison street, nearly sixty years ago, the city had a population of less than 8,000 and only two railroads.

FOREMEN WILL RETURN SUNDAY.

CLAUDE MOORE IMPROVING.

If the present improvement continues a week or two, Claude W. Moore, a gang foreman at the Pennsylvania paint shop, will resume his work about the latter part of the month. He had one of his feet crushed three or four months ago by a heavy part of a locomotive falling upon it while laid up for several weeks. He is now able to walk but is not well. W. L. Koch, a painter in the shop, has been working in Mr. Moore's place since the accident.

NO TROUBLE TO GET WOMEN IN THE SHOPS

Applicants Intelligent and Industrious—Some from Out of City.

The proposition to employ a number of women at the local Pennsylvania shops promises to solve the labor shortage question in those works. So far Master Mechanic E. E. Griest has about 100 applications on file and is hurrying arrangements for giving the applicants employment, expecting to put 200 or more at work early next week.

Two women began work this morning. They were Mrs. Edith E. McKean and Mrs. Mary M. Bellins, both being assigned to the store room, under Division Storekeeper J. B. Fowler, who feels proud of being the first at the Pennsylvania shops to employ women laborers. Both of these ladies are widows and are possessed of more than ordinary intelligence and efficiency in conducting the work of material distributors, the duty assigned them.

Applicants appeared at the master mechanic's office in great numbers today and the names and addresses of most all of them were filed and the women given instructions when and where to report for duty. The mails also brought to Mr. Griest a number of letters from women in other cities, who had read in their home papers the item sent out by the Associated Press from the Sentinel office Wednesday.

Six or seven letters came from women living in Indianapolis. One was from a widow who made application for herself and her two daughters. She stated that the daughters were twenty-two and nineteen years old respectively; that both were educated and that the younger one graduated from the Indianapolis high school last June. The mother is a music teacher and at present is connected with the Indianapolis Conservatory of Music, her letter being written on stationery from that concern. She also stated that she had considerable business experience and for several months prior to last March had charge of a rural route of twenty-two miles.

Other letters were from women at Dayton, Kokomo, Vincennes and other cities, stating that the writers were anxious to come to Fort Wayne and take employment with the Pennsylvania company if desirable work could be secured. The writing indicated that the persons who directed the movements of the pen were educated and apparently used to writing. In none of the letters was the spelling bad and rarely did a grammatical error appear. All these letters will be answered and the writers requested to come and make personal investigation of the proposition to take employment in the shops.

Nothing in recent years has created as much excitement among the employees at the works as has the question of female labor in the shops. There is no cause for alarm, the shop management says, for none of the men will be thrown out of employment. The plant is short on labor of all kinds and will stand at present an addition of 600 to the working force.

OVER 2,000 GOING TO WINONA SATURDAY

Bowser Employees' Outing Will Be Largest Excursion from Those Works.

The annual outing of the employees of S. F. Bowser & Co., with their families, to Winona takes place tomorrow and it will be the greatest of all excursions from that big plant in a numerical way at least. Arrangements have been made for two twelve-car trains over the Pennsylvania. One will leave Fort Wayne at 7:15 and the other at 8 o'clock Saturday morning and returning, will leave Winona at 5 and 6 respectively. As usual, Mr. Bowser has made every preparation for safe-guarding the excursionists and for entertaining them on the grounds at Winona. There will be an excellent musical program and all sorts of innocent sports in the grove and on the water and the family groups making up the excursion party will go provided with well filled baskets. And "Bowser pays the freight." He also allows the employees full pay for the day on the shop rolls, which in these times of high cost of living is a very important item.

MARRIES INTO FAMILY ACQUAINTED WITH TOIL

Kingdon Gould's New Wife's Brother is a Plain Workingman.

(Staff Special.)
San Francisco, Aug. 2.—Romualdo Lucci, 44, cement contractor here, smiled broadly when he read in the newspapers recently that Kingdon Gould, of the New York Gould family, had married Annunziata Camilla Maria Lucci, former governess in the home of Gould's parents. It was interesting news to Lucci, for it meant that he had acquired a millionaire brother-in-law with no effort at all on his part. Romualdo and Annunziata, the bride, are brother and sister.

The new relative of Kingdon Gould lives "over in North Beach," the San Francisco ghetto. He is 47 years old and "works with his hands"—makes his living that way. He has a family of three children in Arizto, Italy.

Lucci was rather non-committal about his sister's marriage to a prominent eastern millionaire. Of course, he was glad for Annunziata's sake that she had done so well. He emphasized the fact that young Gould was fortunate to choose and win so fine a girl.

"My sister, she had the best of everything all the time," said Lucci proudly. "She got the finest education Italy can give. In the college at Pisa she learned the arts and the refinements. She always lived among the best people. Then she went to Paris as companion of a very rich French woman and was in fine society. After that she went to New York. Ah! Maria, she is a very fine girl, yes.

"I don't know Mr. Gould, but his mother, I have met her. A very nice woman, yes. Four years ago I went to New York to see my sister. I bought a new hat and a new suit. I wished not to shame my sister. Mrs. Gould, she shook hands with me. She is a fine lady. The two little Gould girls, too, are nice. They speak Italian like I do myself.

"Our father, Annunziata's and mine, he was a great engineer of Tuscany. We have one other brother, Antonio, who is a contractor, like me, but in Marselles, not here.

"My sister, she is the baby of our family. I am very glad she is happy."

HERE COMES THE GROOM.

Dear tear-moistened little book, you see as where I get off at.

Dear little book, you are the only one that understands me as I've told you a thousand and then some times before. This morning when I came home Lena, as per usual, commenced her nagging.

"What do you mean by coming home at this hour?" was her greeting and between sobs I eked out, "Lena, my dear, don't be so harsh; I didn't want to come home but the boys just dragged me along."

Dear book, "sawful, she doesn't get me a-tall. Then she put up a holler about the way I spend my money, but you know me, little book, I never have any and am kinda lucky for falling in on treats.

Yesterday I won the baseball pool of $3.00 and I put it in my vest pocket with the toothpicks and I know I didn't lose it, because on the way home this a. m. I reached for a toothpick and it was still there. It must have fell out when I tripped over the hall carpet.

Lena had on a new shirtwaist tonight at supper I never saw before. Don't mind the tears falling on your pages, dear little book, but I must have my little cry and you alone understand.

WIVES ARE SO IMPOSSIBLE.

Dear little book, do not weary of my emotions. Today, I am very happy. Lena hasn't spoken to me since the night of the hackdrivers' stag.

When I came home from work I was convinced again of her fleeting love for me. I ought to see the layout of ties and shirts she dragged away from some invalid sale, that I'm supposed to wear.

Little book, it's the principle of the thing, that hurts. Not a whoop does she care for me. She'll scoot downtown to a sale and come marching home with a pair of blue pajamas for me that were marked down from 79c to 68c, then she'll conscript half of next week's salary to purchase herself a crepe de chine nightgown that was actually being given away for $14.

And do I get a new pair of shoes? Nit, little book, nit! To the shoe-maker's with 'em, for heel plates and half-soleing. Lena parts with 10 simoleons for a pair of cardboard soled kicks, that a walk around the block wears more ventilating space in them than a pair of sandals.

The first bomb dropping balloons were humble enough and equally futile. Balloons had been used in war as early as the siege of Maubeuge by the Austrians for observation purposes. The first talk of bomb dropping was in 1812, when the Russians were said to have had a huge balloon for that purpose; but nothing was done with it. In 1847, however, the Austrians, when attacking Venice, sent up paper fire balloons, which were to drop bombs into the town. But they forgot to allow for contrary wind current and, drifting back over the Austrian line, bombed them, instead of Venice.

STORY WRITER: ENDS LIFE.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 3.—Walter Kerr, novelist and short story writer, was found dead last night in his apartment. A bottle which the police said, had contained poison was found near the body. A note stated he took his life because of despondency over the inability to sell his stories during the war. Kerr had written under the pen names of "H. H. Whoperton" and "Francis F. France."

PLAN NEW ROADS TO CRISS-CROSS STATE

Indiana Commission Will Have Four Market Highways Built.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 3.—Routes for four market highways, totalling about 900 miles in length, were decided upon today at a meeting of the state highway committee. The plans called for one extending north and south through the center of the state and three extending from the eastern to the western boundary of the state, one through the northern, one through the central portion and the other through the south part of the state. The north-south road will touch South Bend on the north and extend through Plymouth, Rochester, Kokomo, Tipton, Noblesville, Indianapolis, Columbus, Seymour, Scottsbluff, New Albany and Jeffersonville. The route across the northern part of the state will follow the Lincoln highway, including Fort Wayne, Goshen, South Bend and Valparaiso; the central market highway will take the route of the old National road, which enters the state from the east at Richmond, passes through Indianapolis and leaves the state on the west through Terre Haute, and the southern road across the state will begin at Lawrenceburg, touch North Vernon, Seymour, Bedford on to the Illinois line, the last section of the road not having been definitely determined.

PRESIDENT STATES UTMOST CONFIDENCE

Pays High Tribute to the American Citizen of German Blood.

Washington, Aug. 3.—President Wilson, in a letter to Representative Dyer of Missouri, today reiterated his confidence in the loyalty of the great body of American citizens of German blood.

Representative Dyer complained that federal officials had discharged, without hearing and simply on statements or affidavits, citizens of German blood in St. Louis, whose loyalty had been questioned, and that government officials there, in assuming the attitude of determining what is patriotism, had insulted some of the best people in the city simply because of their German origin or affiliations.

"I am sure that they need no further assurance from me of my confidence in the entire integrity and loyalty of the great body of our citizens of German blood. You know that not once but many times in my public addresses I have expressed this confidence. I do not like to make another occasion to express it, simply because it would seem to indicate on my part a doubt as to whether the country had believed my previous assurances to be sincere.

"May not I very respectfully suggest that it would be easy to make use of the passages I have referred to from my former addresses to do something. I hope not a little to offset the evil influences that are at work."

REVENTLOW SAYS PENFIELD WAS A READY PLOTTER

Amsterdam, Aug. 3.—Count von Reventlow, in an article in the Tages Zeitung, referring to Arthur J. Balfour's speech in the house of commons, in which he spoke of the nationalities of Austria-Hungary determining their own course of future development, tells his readers of widespread machinations of American agents in Austria-Hungary started by former Ambassador Penfield long prior to the Austro-American breach. The article says that a messenger who left Austria soon after their breach talked confidentially to neutrals of "impending complete political isolation of Germans in Austria, while in Hungary also secret organization of entente nations and America soon would bear fruit." Both predictions have been fulfilled, says Count Reventlow, who darkly adds: "How long the former ambassador to Constantinople, Elkus, remained in Vienna, or whether he is still there, we do not know."

Balfour's idea, says Count von Reventlow, is the dissolution of the Austro-Hungarian monarchy, which squares exactly with the aims of the Czech Poles.

SEEK REHEARING ON NEW CONSTITUTION

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 3.—Eli Stansbury, states attorney general, filed a petition for a rehearing in the constitutional convention case with the state supreme court today. The court a short time ago held that the law, passed by the last session of the state legislature providing for a convention to draft a new state constitution is unconstitutional. The attorney general's action is a legal formality.

BERLIN BURGOMASTER SPEAKS MIND FREELY

Demands an End of Nonsense With Political Reform for Something Real.

Amsterdam, Aug. 3.—Burgomeister Reiche, of Berlin, hits out with remarkable bluntness in passing judgment on the internal situation of Germany in an article in Monday's Berliner Zeitung Am Mittag, which has just reached here. Replying to question as to whether Germany after three years of war was able to register gains internally, as well as externally, Berlin's chief magistrate said:

"The answer is but a hesitating affirmative. We seem to have become a nation of profiteering hucksters. Those who are not corrupted by the mammon chase are haunted with a fear lest, after all, the country is slipping back into the rut of officialism.

"We still are kept in leading-strings; we are not really a free people. * * * We call for the benefit of the counsels of a dozen workmen but the word is quietly passed from the government table. These fellows cannot be told all. Just treat them like children."

"What is wanted is a parliament that has power, not a mere legislative machine and a government of men who are not educated to believe that a bureaucrat necessarily knows better than an ordinary mortal. Let us be a free people, but not merely free on paper."

Carolina is Robbed.

Carolina White, grand opera prima donna, singing at a Chicago amusement park, announces $10,000 worth of jewels have been stolen from her. Carolina is the first stage star to use the "jewel robbery" stunt as a publicity getter in many years. It was all the fashion of a decade ago.

POWDERLESS GUN, EFFECTIVE AND NOISELESS, NATION'S LATEST WEAPON

Here's the latest contribution of American inventive genius to warfare. Quiet tests of a powderless gun which may revolutionize land attacks and defense have been going on at the Washington navy yard. The gun is revolved at great speed by an electric motor, and is capable of firing hundreds of shots a minute. The bullets are carried in small cups, which hold them until the gun reaches the proper position for their discharge individually by centrifugal force.

The gun is accurate at five miles, is cheap to operate, and—above all, it is noiseless. Congressman Dill, of Washington, has introduced an appropriation of $50,000 for the tests.

URGES A PRACTICE OF CONSERVATION

Save Staples by Eating or Canning Perishables Says Government.

Washington, Aug. 3.—"The great abundance of 'war-garden' and truck products in cities and rural communities offers an immediate opportunity for consumers locally to help better the world food situation," says the United States department of agriculture. "Make fresh vegetables and fruits save staple foods. Eat the perishable fresh fruits and vegetables now, while they are most delicious, and can and preserve them for future use."

The following available fresh fruits and vegetables may be classified for this war emergency diet: Apples, peaches, pears, plums, blackberries, raspberries, beets, carrots, potatoes, onions, beans, peas, sugar corn, tomatoes, cabbage, lettuce, etc. Right now there is an abundance of these fresh foods ripening in the "war gardens" of many cities and rural districts as well as on the farms of Indiana. Housewives are urged to use those from their own gardens first. If they have no garden, they should purchase from local markets or farmers or neighbors while prices are low and not only serve daily, but can, preserve, pickle and dry for winter use. Wherever the vegetables named are available abundantly from home gardens or can be purchased cheaply in the markets, or from neighbors, their use in the diet to a greater extent than usual will help food conditions. In general, the more simply vegetables and fruits are prepared for the table the better, but when they are being consumed in especially large quantities it often will be desirable to vary the dishes. "Although fresh vegetables ordinarly are eaten by most persons in relatively small amounts with more concentrated foods such as meats, eggs, cheese, etc.," declared a food expert of the department today, "they may, when eaten in large quantities, take the place of the more concentrated foods to a certain extent. Because of the present large production of perishable fruits and vegetables, this partial substitution is especially desirable during the next six weeks or two months."

SEVEN TONS OF WHAT?

Washington, Aug. 3.—The extent of the congressional "franking privilege," as a burden on the mails, was disclosed today as an incident to a house committee's investigation of charges that postal inspectors have tampered with letters of congressmen. They send free of postage every day seven tons of matter.

WAR TAX BILL COMPLETED.

Washington, Aug. 3.—The war tax bill, increased from $1,672,000,000 to approximately $2,002,000,000, virtually was completed today by the senate finance committee and will be reported to the senate tomorrow or Monday.

WALL STREET SHOWS IRREGULAR STRENGTH

Industrial Alcohol Gives Market Feature, With Steels Up Some.

New York, Aug. 3.—Violent fluctuations in industrial alcohol which opened at an advance of 2 1/2 points, followed by a re-action of 2 1/2 featured today's early trading. Elsewhere irregular gains prevailed. Crucible steel rose a large fraction but kindred issues were barely changed.

Irregular strength ruled throughout the forenoon under the influence of short covering. United States steel reacted slightly, but crucible extended its early advance. Utah was the only prominent copper stock. Investment rails were in better demand, St. Paul and Illinois Central gaining a point and "Steel" preferred 3. Liberty bonds fell to the low record of 99.32 for full lots.

Never in the history of the United States, Senator William E. Mr. Borah made a vigorous plea for some action which would awaken the country to the seriousness of the situation.

Petrograd today admits a further success for the Austro-German columns operating along the Dniester, chronicling the evacuation of the western bank of the Zbrocz at its confluence with the Dniester near Chotin. The Zbrocz here marks the Russian boundary.

The Teutonic advance in Bukovina threatens to imperil the Russo-Rumanian front down the western Moldavian border, while the drive down the Dniester bids fair if kept up to cut a slice off northern Moldavia. It is ended by

ONLY GAME YOUNG FRANCE KNOWS HOW TO PLAY

For the French children along the fighting region there are no games except war games. Every childish activity reflects the great struggle of their elders. Here is a group at play with an improvised "75" in the ruins of their once happy village. The children take their war games as seriously as their elders take the grimmer war game on which hangs the life of world democracy.

MAKE COMFORT KITS FOR BATTERY B MEN

Red Cross Workers Engaged in Task for Benefit of Soldiers.

Red Cross workers are doing their share to make the members of Battery B, the Fort Wayne unit which departs for Fort Harrison Sunday, more comfortable during the stay in the training camp. Ninety-two comfort kits are being made at the headquarters on East Berry street, and these will be completed Friday afternoon. The kits are to be used as carriers of all the necessary utensils in the life of a soldier.

Volunteers are still responding nobly to the call of the Red Cross. Friday morning caddies at the Country club brought in a large amount of tin foil which they had saved, and gave it to be sold for the benefit of the Red Cross. A "gift table" is soon to be placed in the window at the Red Cross headquarters, and persons may deposit all articles there for the aid of the great movement. A glass showcase is one of the new donations to the Red Cross, coming from the Woodworth Drug company. Children working at the workrooms Thursday afternoon and Friday morning were Charlotte Doswell, Mary Elizabeth Patis, Franklin Smith, Lucille B. Lapp, Iva Riley and Vera Lipkey.

The Fort Wayne council No. 57, Junior Order of Mechanics, is considering the formation of an auxiliary branch to the Red Cross, and will decide upon the matter at a meeting next week.

Shipments are coming in daily to the central station on Calhoun street. Friday morning large shipments were received from Laporte, Newton county, Jasper county, Blackford and Huntington. Mrs. A. E. Fauts, director of the shipping station, has named the following committees to take charge of the work: Inspection of garments—Mrs. W. S. Morris, Mrs. H. G. Keegan, Mrs. Julia Metzger and Mrs. Frank Stouder. Inspection of surgical dressing—Mrs. Ed Riecke, Mrs. Jane Meriwether, Mrs. W. M. Burger, Miss Florence Kemp and Miss Hilda Pranger.

A PLAGUE OF PLANT LICE IN THE STATE

Immense Damage Already is Inflicted on Growing Green Things.

Indianapolis, Aug. 3.—Plant lice or aphides, which have attacked most of the green things in the state this year, have already caused thousands of dollars damage, and unless energetic steps are taken at once to control the pests, the damage will be hundreds of thousands of dollars more in spite of the headway against the aphides being made by parasites, according to men in the office of F. N. Wallace, state entomologist, who have been investigating conditions. Although publicity to the damage done and information as to how to fight the lice has aroused many, the fight must be continued, Mr. Wallace says.

Up until this year the parasites have followed the plant lice and controlled them before the damage has been great. When the lice appeared first this year it was thought the parasites would do their usual work. When the aphides were found on potatoes and other vegetables, however, advice on how to spray with nicotine sulphate, kerosene emulsion or whale oil soap was given. Later it was discovered the parasites were not at work and the agitation against the lice became greater. If the plants are sprayed until the aphides are reduced to the normal number their natural enemies will control them.

The aphides has its friends among parasites, it has been discovered in this state. The syrphus fly, one of the deadly enemy of the plant lice, appeared in numbers. The two flies are so antagonistic that little headway was made against the aphides by the syrphus fly. Other enemies of the aphides are the lady bug and aphid lion. They now are appearing in numbers but too late to prevent the damage already done.

WAR INDUSTRIES OF GERMANY BREAKING

Truth Gets Past Berlin Censor Showing Cause of Kaiser's Worry.

(By BASIL M. MANLY,
Staff Special.)

Washington, Aug. 3.—The Kaiser's troops are threatened with shortage of munitions and war supplies. Germany's war industries are slowing down on account of lack of coal, electric current and materials. For weeks her munition plants have been running only part time, producing only a part of the guns, shells and other weapons on which modern military success depends.

This is considered in Washington to be the real underlying cause of Germany's peace moves and the frantic efforts of the Kaiser to obtain decisive results on the Russian front.

This great news comes through a copy of the Frankfurter Zeitung, an obscure paragraph of which tells the whole truth about Germany's critical condition. How it escaped the eagle eye of the censor is a mystery. "In view of the fact that the working of short time is becoming more common in the war industry, on account of shortage of coal, electric current and materials, we demand that the workmen shall everywhere be paid for the time lost."

"The intolerable prices of food and all other necessities compel the workmen to insist upon this demand, as a further deterioration in their living conditions is unbearable."

Analysis of this resolution shows its importance. This is not a local union protesting about conditions that might arise from a transportation tie-up, but the strongest of all the German unions with a pre-war membership of 1,106,003, represented in every industrial city, protesting about the loss of time in war industries generally, demanding that workmen "everywhere" be paid for this time.

The loss of productive time is not due to a deficiency of some one material for which a substitute might be found by German science, but to a shortage of the essentials of industry without which not a wheel can turn—"Coal, electric current and materials."

This shortage is affecting not the wood working industry or some other line of manufacture with which Germany could dispense, but the "war industry," without which Hindenburg's millions would be little better than so many tin soldiers.

This loss of time, "becoming ever more common," is not simply a matter of a day or two once in a while, but is so prevalent that this great union, ultra-loyal from the beginning of the war, is at last driven to voice its demands to be paid for this shortage in their pay envelopes.

There can be little doubt the shortage of coal has been caused in part at least by the furious allied attacks on Lens, the great French coal center, but there is reason to believe, as indicated by previous dispatches, that even the German mines are not producing up to capacity on account of lack of able-bodied men.

The shortage of electric current arises from the coal shortage, but it means more than a mere lack of current to operate machines. Shortage of electric current menaces Germany's supply of nitrates, the essential bases of powder and every form of explosive. Germany has no nitrate deposits, and is forced to rely upon the fixation of atmospheric nitrogen by electric current.

The vital meaning of this obscure paragraph in a German newspaper is that the German war machine is breaking down and no amount of frenzied drives by the Kaiser or crown prince on Russia or the western front can conceal that fact.

The News Censor Who Is in Trouble Again

Copyright Underwood & Underwood. The censorship is in a worse muddle than ever. Indecision and a lack of co-operation are the most glaring defects in the system which has resulted from the plan of appointing George Creel to exercise two functions, those of a publicity agent and a censor. On all sides the demand is for a strong man picked from either the army or the navy to exercise the functions of a censor on military matter independent of Mr. Creel's publicity organization.

WAR WORK THAT FEW HAVE KNOWLEDGE OF

Laboratory of Indiana's
State Chemists is a Busy Place.

Indianapolis, Aug. 3.—Not all war activity is confined to the training of soldiers, actual fighting, preparing bandages and hospital supplies, or making munitions. Some important work is being done in little suspected ways and places.

In a basement room, on the west side of the west corridor of the state house, a room filled with test tubes, retorts, chemicals and many things mysterious to the average citizen, an important work is going on daily. The room has two unguarded entrances, one from a suite of rooms which the public may enter, and the other, barred with an iron gate, direct from the basement corridor. The casual observer never would suspect that the few men moving about in the room are engaged in an important work. The room has been occupied by the same men and apparatus for years and from all outward appearances is little different than before the war.

The space is part of that occupied by the state department of foods and drugs. In addition to the usual routine work of the department, performed in the laboratory, the chemists are experimenting in "war" or "liberty" bread and cake baking. To one side of the room is a small cabinet, old and far from imposing, much in appearance like the old fashioned cupboards in country homes. When the door is opened there are to be seen sacks of flour, made of wheat, rice, corn, oats, peanuts, bananas and many other ingredients. There is a large, along with many oils extracted from vegetables. The men who do the experimenting—men are employed as the chemists and they do the cooking in the laboratory, the girls employed by the department being stenographers—have a small gas oven in which they bake their mixtures. They are not afraid to taste their own baking, and sometimes may offer a taste to callers. Some recipes have been sent to them but most of such are not available for private use, as they are for batches of baked goods too large for anything but a hotel or large boarding house.

As yet, the chemists say, they have not worked out satisfactorily the things for which they are striving, although some good looking and appetizing baked goods have been turned out. A recent product was a small cake, in appearance like a breakfast muffin, but entirely wheatless. It contained corn flour, oat flour, and a little peanut flour. When baked it was a golden brown, with a good flavor, which it retained for several days. Raisins had been added to the dough just before baking.

Not all of the experimenting is done at the state house. One of the men says he has been doing the baking at his home for some time. He asserts that as yet he can only give out to the public the information that almost any good standard bread recipe may be taken, but instead of all wheat flour, as much as 25 per cent of corn flour may be used without decreasing the food value. The first baking may not be as good as later trials will produce.

AUGUST FURNITURE SALE

YOU who have never enjoyed the benefits in savings of our Semi-Annual Sales would probably be interested in knowing just why we offer such big discounts during this month of August.

It has been the custom of the Indiana store for years to conduct these Semi-Annual Discount Sales. We think it good business to take a generous slice off our year around low prices to turn this otherwise dull month of the year into our busiest one. This is not a sale of odds and ends—it's a sale of the Best Furniture and Rugs on the market and you purchase during this month for Cash or on our LAY-AWAY PLAN any article in our stock at a saving of 20% or more—We do not need to urge our many customers who have benefited by these sales, they'll be here; but we urge you who have never attended to come and compare our prices now—with others.

WAR ORGANIZED ON TREMENDOUS SCALE

Vastness of Preparation is
comer.

Behind the British Lines in France, July 7. — (Correspondence.) — What makes an indelible impression on the newcomer to the battle front is the tremendous organization back of the actual fighting line, the miles of roadways dotted with transport of war food for men and horses, shells for the guns, ammunition for rifles and machine guns and comforts for the wounded.

The final and most interesting link in this vast organization is the operation of getting the food right up to the men in the trenches. It usually takes place under cover of darkness when the enemy is unable to impede its progress as efficiently as with the aid of daylight. Night after night this goes on. After one recovers from surprise at the quietness with which it is done he is bound to marvel at the clock-like precision of the whole operation—all of which testifies to the efficiency necessary in a war like this.

Intimation that the transport is preparing to move out toward the front line is a clattering of horses' shoes on the cobbles of a French farm yard. Then voices call out orders, water carts are filled; horses are harnessed to the wagons and a few minutes later the whole column is standing ready, silent, the transport men mounted, the quartermaster, transport officer and a sergeant on foot. In another instant a whistle sounds, there is a cracking of whip, then another clatter on the cobbles and the rumble of heavily laden wagons as the whole column moves out toward the trenches.

A few miles ahead the first star-shells shoot up and little sudden pricks of flame come from the enemy's guns, then there is soft burst of shrapnel followed by the deep boom of the heavy guns.

The road is narrow but wide enough for the limbers of other regiments, cookers, ambulances, army service corps lorries laden with tools and trench stores, orderlies on bicycles and wounded men to pass on their way further back of the lines. But not a word is heard as the two columns pass each other along this road. As the column "going in" with the rations moves up closer to the lines the star shells and boom of the big guns becomes more distinct. Suddenly the column halts—shells have burst in the road or on either side of it a little way ahead. When this ceases probably for only a few minutes the word is given to move on again. The column continues to crawl along until it reaches a battered old building beside the road and within a stone's throw of the support trenches. Here are left the supplies brought up by this column.

The next sight is a stream of men with picks and shovels and ammunition; a sergeant to see that the rations for the different companies are placed in different piles; a post-corporal hurrying hither and thither in search of D company's letters, which have been mislaid; and the transport officer and quartermaster supervising and controlling everything—always in the most impenetrable darkness, save when a star-shell lights up the white faces, the sweating horses and the roads.

The transport officer gives the word, and the empty wagons jolt out onto the road again to join in the stream that flows back towards billets and sleep.

FEDERAL EXPERT TO URGE FIBRE GROWING

Washington, Aug. 3.—To encourage an extension of production of sisal and other hard fibers in the Philippine Islands the bureau of plant industry of the United States department of agriculture has sent a fiber-crop expert to the islands recently. H. T. Edwards, the representative, will co-operate with the fiber-crop division of the Philippine bureau of agriculture in the work. Fiber crops already are grown to some extent in the islands. World production of binding twine and other materials, is not keeping pace with the increasing demands, according to officials of the department. It is certain that there are large areas in the Philippines which might be utilized to increase the supply substantially.

Summer Complaint.
During the hot weather of the summer months some member of almost every family is likely to be troubled with an unnatural looseness of the bowels, and it is of the greatest importance that this be treated promptly, which can only be done when the medicine is kept at hand. Mrs. F. F. Scott, Scottsville, N. Y., states, "I first used Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy as much as five years ago. At that time I had a severe attack of summer complaint and was suffering intense pain. One dose relieved me. Other members of my family have since used it with like results."—Advertisement.

PENSIONS CONFRONT MEXICO.

Mexico City, Aug. 3.—The department of war has determined to appoint a commission to investigate all claims for pensions due to soldiers or soldiers' families since 1910. Part of the duties of the commission will be to make a census of the men invalided from the army since the first Madero revolt.

AMERICANS DUB THE BRITON A NEW TITLE

London, Aug. 3.—American bluejackets on duty in European waters have a nickname of their own for England's sailors and soldiers. They call them "limeys;" the individual being known as a "lime." The American sailors apply the designation to all English fighters just as the British refer to their soldiers as "Tommies."

The sailor from the United States has his nickname for nearly everything he sees. Bluejackets who had served in the Near and Far East first started calling British sailors and soldiers "lime-jerkers" because of their fondness for fruit juice and charged water. Now the designation has been shortened down and everything British is "limey." British sailors' and soldiers' clubs are known as "limey clubs" and British-brewed beer is commonly spoken of as "limey beer."

Chronic Constipation.
It is by no means an easy matter to cure this disease, but it can be done in most instances by taking Chamberlain's Tablets and complying with the plain printed directions that accompany each package.—Advertisement.

AUGUST-

FOR years it has been the custom to hold a Mid-Summer Clearance Sale at Pickard's, in order to provide room for the new stock purchased at the July Furniture Exhibitions. This year there was some doubt about our continuing our custom. Furniture has gone up, and perhaps it is not wise to slash prices the way we are doing during this sale when new stock is costing us more than we are selling it for. However, we are remodeling, and we haven't the floor space for present stock, let alone that which will be coming in shortly. We are putting in a new front which will be the finest in the city if not in the whole state. We are laying new floors and putting in new ceilings on all the upper floors. In addition the entire store is to be repainted. The workmen are ready and stocks must be shifted around to provide room for them—but there's no place to shift to do it. That's the reason we are cutting our prices that are already extremely low considering the present costs—that's why we are slashing things right and left. So take this tip, you will never be able to buy so low as during this present sale at Pickard's. In addition, the Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet manufacturers have authorized a cut in the price of their cabinet. See it by all means!

No More When These Are Gone

The Hoosier Company has consented to let us offer this drastic reduction as a special August drawing card.

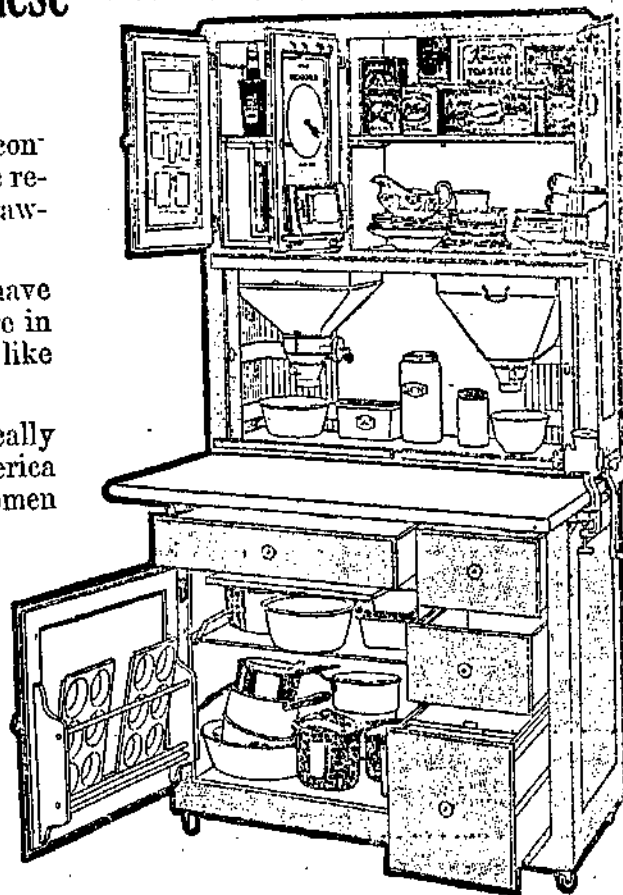

Only once before in history have they authorized us or any store in America to make a cut in price like this.

On that occasion practically every Hoosier Special in America was quickly taken. Many women could not be supplied at all.

It seems without doubt that this will happen again. Thousands of women want the Hoosier and have planned to get it.

So don't blame us if you come too late. Our allotment is limited and the factory has written us this:

"When you sell your stock of Hoosier Specials you are to stop your sale immediately."

BEES TAKE BIRDS' HOUSE.

"Fools rush in where angels fear to tread," was carried out to a nicety at the home of H. J. Doswell, superintendent of Lindenwood cemetery, recently, the fools being represented by a swarm of bees. These took up their home in a box which the superintendent had built for some martins that flock about his home in the spring and summer. The martins refused to take up their abode in the box but the bees eagerly grasped the chance for a new home. Mr. Doswell states that the bees have not as yet paid any rent in honey.

SEVENTEEN OUT OF TWENTY

File Exemption Claims in Jay County Wednesday.

Portland, Ind., Aug. 3.—More interest is manifested here over the work of the Jay county exemption board which is now examining the first conscripts, than over the draft lottery at Washington when the order in which the men are appearing before the board was determined. The board has now called the first 140 men but the results of the examinations, the number of exemptions claimed will not be given out until the three members convene Sunday to render a verdict on the qualifications of the first consignment.

Out of 29 youths examined Wednesday, 17 filed exemption claims, and from this it is estimated that between 600 and 700 will be called before the quota of 107 is secured. The board called the first conscript at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and 40 are to be examined each day until the quota is obtained. At least three weeks' time will be necessary for this.

CALL EXPECTED SOON.

Reception Will Be Given for Members of Hicksville Company.

Hicksville, Ohio, Aug. 3.—Plans are under way here for a reception to be given in honor of the members of Company E, who are expected to be called.

At the physical examination conducted this week the following ten failed to pass: Earl C. Vain, Frank E. Moore, John J. Bulack, Arthur Arnold, Taylor Glingery, Homer E. Paul, Ralph Tester, Douglas Warfield, Ivan Phillips and Edward Fisher. Paul Tutson and Charles Purdy were honorably discharged because they have dependents. The company is now composed of 111 men.

WORK GAME ON FARMERS.

Fakirs Buying Grain, Claiming It is for the Government.

Garrett, Ind., Aug. 3.—Strangers are said to have been operating in the vicinity of Garrett, representing themselves as government agents. A farmer is visited and offered a certain price for his crops, particularly potatoes and wheat. The farmer is told that he must accept the price inasmuch as the war department demands it. Several farmers are said to have been "worked" in this manner, selling much of their crops at a price greatly below the market quotations.

NEWS FROM HUNTINGTON.

Huntington, Ind., Aug. 3.—The county board of education Wednesday voted to abolish the eighth grade commencement exercises which have been held for several years. The board also decided to start the district schools September 10.—When John Crago told Mrs. Seth Hockensmith that he would be over Monday at midnight to "hug and kiss her" she hurried to a foundry where her husband was working, and told him. When Crago arrived, and it is said, tried to keep his promise, Hockensmith jumped from a hiding place and sent several leaden pellets after the fleeing Crago. One of them struck Crago, but the authorities knew nothing of it until Tuesday night, when the wounded man sought the aid of a physician. Hockensmith was arrested on charge of assault and battery with intent to kill, and was released on bond. He will not be prosecuted unless Crago dies, which is not probable.—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Parks, of Andrews, had a remarkable escape from death Tuesday evening, when their automobile stalled on the track of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Interurban line. The motorman of an approaching car succeeded in checking the automobile off the track before stopping.

VOTE IS TAKEN.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 3.—In an effort to settle a controversy in which much angry feeling was engendered, a vote was taken at the Christian church on the question of retaining Rev. S. R. Hawkins as pastor. One hundred and sixty-one ballots were cast, resulting in 51 favoring the retaining of the pastor and 70 demanding his dismissal. The church has been divided into two factions, resulting a short time ago in one faction battering in the church door, which had been locked by the other faction to prevent their opponents from entering.

TOSIN WOMAN DEAD.

Bluffton, Ind., Aug. 3.—Mrs. Clement Yarger, of Tosin, passed away at her home last evening at 7 o'clock after suffering many weeks with various ailments, the direct cause of her death being dropsy and Bright's disease. Mrs. Yarger was 30 years old last January.

The beer was taken in charge by the sheriff.

ORDERED TO WASHINGTON.

C., left Wednesday evening for Washington, where he has been ordered to report immediately for a special course in trench warfare. ## CHANGE IN COMMAND.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 3.—Major Carl Beyer has received word from the office of the adjutant general at Indianapolis stating that he would be placed in command of the third battalion of the third regiment instead of the first, as he was notified some time ago. The companies included in the battalion are those from the cities of Plymouth, Auburn, Rensselaer and Valparaiso.

SUCCESSOR APPOINTED.

Defiance, Ohio, Aug. 3.—J. T. Miller, of Milford township, has been appointed auditor of Defiance county to succeed Roger Daoust, who has resigned. Mr. Daoust's resignation was effective August 1. ## MEXICO SUPPRESSES GERMAN PROPAGANDA

Gives Evidence of Good Faith in Maintenance of Neutrality.

Washington, Aug. 3.—The semi-official Mexican news bureau today published the following to show that German propaganda is being put down by the Mexican government:

"It recently came to the knowledge of the officials that a shipment of several hundred cases of arms and ammunition had been made to the port of the Salina Cruz, on the Pacific side of the isthmus of Tehuantepec, and consigned to certain private parties who were suspected of being engaged in pro-German intrigues in the state of Chiapas. The shipment was ordered to be seized which was done immediately upon its arrival.

"The local authorities of the city of Guadalajara recently became cognizant of a plan on the part of certain German agents in that city to hold a meeting or festival in one of the leading theatres for the purpose of advancing the cause of the Hohenzollerns against the civilized nations of Europe as the local newspapers phrased it. The authorities let it be understood that this project would be regarded unfavorably, whereupon the promoters of the movement changed the announced purpose and character of the

A Vest Pocket Kodak

It is monotony, not bullets, that our soldier boys dread. No fear, when the time comes, they will uphold bravely the traditions that are dear to every loyal American heart. But in the training camps and during the months of forced inaction there are going to be some tedious, home-sick days—days the Kodak can make more cheerful.

Pictures of comrades and camp life, pictures of the thousand and one things that can be photographed without endangering any military secret will interest them, and will doubly interest the friends at home. Tens of thousands of brave lads in the camps and trenches of France are keeping their own Kodak story of the war—a story that will always be intense to them because it is history from their viewpoint. And when peace comes it will make more vivid, more real, their story of their war as they tell it again and again to mother and sister, and wife and little ones.

The nation has a big job on its hands. It's only a little part, perhaps, but a genuine part of that job to keep up the cheerfulness of camp life, to keep tight the bonds between camp and home. Pictures from home to the camp and from camp to the home can do their part.

There's room for a little Vest Pocket Kodak in every soldier's and sailor's kit. The expense is small, six dollars. The cheerfulness it may bring is great. They are on sale at

CORRESPONDENT MANLY FINDS IT EASIER TO LEARN TO FLY
A MILITARY AIRPLANE THAN TO LEARN TO RUN AUTOMOBILE

By BASIL M. MANLY.

Mineola, N. Y., Aug. 3.—It's easier to learn to fly a warplane than to learn to run an automobile!

That's what I learned at Mineola, the eagle's acre—the testing place of the great American bird, king of the skies.

For Uncle Sam's great Mineola aviation field is the school where the eagle's young are taught to swoop over the fields of France, carrying terror to German vultures.

Easier to learn to fly than to learn to run an auto! How long did it take you or your neighbor to gain the confidence of his machine? Well, at Mineola, mere boys become expert pilots, ready for the finishing touches of instruction in war combat, in four hours.

Most autoists stay out of the downtown traffic congestion for four weeks, to say nothing of four days. And as for auto mastery in four hours—unheard of!

"That boy is one of our best graduate airmen."

I followed the gesture of my officer-guide to a figure in khaki.

Then like a bolt in the ribs came from the officer:

"He learned in four hours. He is ready for France."

I had turned my gaze back to the sky. Things had seemed interesting there. Half a dozen huge planes were circling, passing and repassing. I had been thinking a collision was about due.

But—"Became a star air pilot in four hours!" I studied the boy—yes, boy, apparently about 20, slim, cool, no swagger, just plain American boy.

I had made a mistake craning my neck upward. A'er that I kept my eyes closer to the ground.

And the most important thing I learned at Mineola was that the men, the soul of the eagles, were more worth watching than the air, the element they conquered, or the planes, their wings.

"Just tell me," I said to the officer piloting me past hangars, tents and barracks, "how they do it."

He matched my surprise. "Why," with a shrug, "they learn to fly alone in two hours. If they can't fly alone in ten hours they leave, so they won't waste our time. After twenty hours of actual flying they are ready to become officers—or cadets. They must have passed all the test stunts—cross-country flights, triangular flights, accurate landings on fixed marks, and so on.

"Then, as officers, after a little time at an advance school, here or in France, learning to handle fast machines, aerial gunnery and bomb-dropping, they are ready for their first air battle."

The remarkable Curtiss JN machine, greatest training airplane in the world, adopted by the British, is responsible. It is a dual-control machine—just as if an automobile had two steering wheels, two gear shift levers, two fuel controls, so the instructor could at any time check or correct the learner without interfering with him.

There are two seats, one directly behind the other. In front of each is a complete set of controls, interlocked. The pupil climbs into the front seat. He keeps his feet and hands on the controls to learn the "feel of it." The instructor, in the rear, manipulates them.

An auto steering wheel, turning from left to right for sidewise direction, and swinging backward and forward for up-and-down direction, a steering bar on the floor operated with the feet like the steering bar of your old sled, and the engine throttle—these are the controls.

The second time up for his thirty-minute lesson the pupil does the flying, and if he makes a false move the instructor's hand checks him. The fourth of fifth time up the instructor doesn't expect to do much checking. He's there for safety only.

And "Safety First" is the motto all over the aerie. One broken strand of wire, out of a woven cord of twenty strands, means repairs. Every machine is thoroughly overhauled before every flight.

Here's what Captain Boyliven, French air dean, formerly head of the largest French army flying school, has to say about the American eagle's aerie.

"The Curtiss JN machine is the best training plane in the world."

"You already produce first-class pilots in as short a time as we can in Europe."

"Your young men make superb flyers—so intelligent, so quick, so sporty."

"In France we lost hundreds through accidents. I have been here weeks, and have not seen a single accident."

"Flying as you teach it is almost too safe. You should get some fast planes to keep your pupils from taking things too easy."

"A Mineola graduate, fifteen days behind the lines in France, is ready to bag his first German."

"If Germany could see your pilots, way ahead of her own present product, she would stop and take heed."

RETRIBUTION LONG COMING

Serbian Regicides at Last Are Brought Under the Whip of Justice.

SOME EXECUTED; SOME TO PRISON

Slayers of King Alexander and Queen Draga Are Hunted Down.

Corfu, Island of Corfu, July 10.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Fate has at last fallen on that band of military regicides who some fifteen years ago broke into the royal palace at Belgrade at night and assassinated King Alexander and the Serbian Queen Draga. Three high officers have recently been shot after a military court martial. Three more are awaiting death sentence, seven officers including a general have received life sentences and some thirty officers have received lesser sentences of from one to five years.

While the outside world was shocked, the band of assassins enjoyed at home a certain immunity and even glory for having rid the country of a dissolute ruler and his plebeian Gypsy queen, for the name of Draga had been well known in the concert halls of Emolus before she had the luck to win a king and crown. The plain people of Serbia who are simple and honest, revolted at the crime. But the army clique which carried out the murders, carried the upper classes with them and by terrorizing and intrigue became one of the dominant forces of Serbia.

Weighted Upon King Peter. King Peter felt the incubus of this murder clique through the early years of his reign. He abhorred the crime and had nothing to do with it. And yet the return of his family dynasty to power and his kingship after years of waiting in exile were dependent to some extent on the work of this army clique. While condemning their action, the king tolerated them.

The policy was to draw a veil over the crime and let it be forgotten. As a result, little has been heard of the crime in recent years. England, sent back her minister, and the Balkan wars gave Peter a firm hold on his people.

All this time, however, the murder clique had been working. It was so powerful in the army councils that all officers who disapproved the crime were retired from active service and placed in the reserve. This went on for years with the murder clique occupying the chief commands and all officers excluded from service or advancement.

Change With Regency. But all this changed about a year ago when the vigorous young prince, Alexander, became regent, owing to the age of King Peter, and his infirmity from his terrible exposure in the exodus before the German-Bulgarian invasion of Serbia. One of Alexander's first acts was to restore to active service the great number of officers retired and disqualified by the murder clique. He declared that all army appointments and advancements would be impartial, without regard to the old line drawn between cliques.

The regicide element deeply resented this action. They appealed to Alexander, even suggesting that his royal power resulted from their act. After Prince Regent. When Alexander was firm the clique revived their watch word of former murder, "Union or Death." This time their designs were aimed at the prince regent and a plot to assassinate him was to have been carried out on Aug. 23 of last year. Fortunately the plot was discovered and wholesale arrests followed of all those officers who had so long enjoyed immunity and power by reason of the murder of Alexander and Draga.

More than forty high officers were gathered in the net. Their trial by military court martial has been proceeding for months. Those condemned to death include Colonels Dimitriyevich, Milanovitch, Touzovitch, Lazitch, Lieut. Col. Vesnich and Commander Vulovitch. Gen. Pohovitch heads the list of those condemned to life imprisonment. The others are colonels and captains who have been high in power until now.

RUSSIA'S NATIONAL DEBT.

Petrograd, Aug. 4.—Russia's national debt, which at the beginning of the war was 9,000,000,000 of rubles, is now estimated at 50,000,000,000, according to a report of the Imperial bank. Its statement shows that the money in circulation is 13,646,000,000 rubles against 1,633,000,000 at the beginning of the war.

RETIRED OFFICER SLAYS WIFE.

Boston, Aug. 4.—Major William A. Hoffman, 78, U. S. A., retired, shot and killed his wife with a revolver today and then turned the weapon on himself, dying instantly. The shooting took place in the Hoffman home. Police officials were unable to determine the reason for the act. Major Hoffman was a veteran of the civil war.

CANADA GETS CONSCRIPTION.

Ottawa, Aug. 4.—The Canadian senate last night advanced to second reading the conscription act, thereby insuring its passage through parliament and making certain that it will become law. A motion by the opposition that the act should not take effect until after a general election was defeated 44 to 34.

CAPITALIZE FOR $200,000

Farmers' Trust Company is New Banking Concern for Fort Wayne.

TO HAVE SURPLUS OF OVER $50,000

Nearly 400 Farmers and Men of the City Interested in New Company.

Farmers and business men of this county are organizing "The Farmers' Trust company," of Fort Wayne, Ind., with capital of $200,000, and surplus of $50,000. It is the intention of the interested parties to distribute the stock among from 300 to 400 farmers and business men of the county. It is reported that much of the stock has been sold and that the organization is progressing rapidly.

Wm. C. Geuke, well known attorney, who is interested in the organization, when seen Saturday, was asked about the proposed new financial institution, said: "The work of organization of the 'Farmers' Trust company,' of Fort Wayne, is progressing rapidly, and we hope to be open for business within a few months. We feel that there is plenty of room for a financial institution here in which the stock will be widely distributed, both among farmers and business men.

We have been surprised at the demand for the stock and it is the general opinion that we will have a profitable enterprise. It was planned to acquire a suitable site to plan to organize a building company and build a fine "Farmers' Trust Building" which will be a credit to Fort Wayne and to our new bank and trust company. This was done at South Bend by the Farmers' Trust company, and has been very satisfactory to all interested. This institution will help build up Allen county and Fort Wayne, we expect to be on friendly terms with the other financial institutions of the city and have no reason to anticipate that we will not be received by them in the same spirit. We will do a commercial banking and trust business. Harley Sommers, cashier of the Farmers' State bank at Sheldon, Indiana, is also actively interested in the organization of the bank."

Fort Wayne Man at Front in France

CAPT. JAMES L. TAYLOR.

The above is a reproduction of a photograph of Capt. James L. Taylor, Jr., taken just before he departed with his regiment for France to take part in the war for world-wide democracy. Captain Taylor is a Fort Wayne man and has many friends here who rejoice in his military as well as civil successes. During the latter part of Mr. Taylor's residence in Fort Wayne he served the G. R. & I. in the capacity of assistant to Division Engineer C. L. Barnaby. Several years ago Mr. Taylor was called to the Eastern division of the Pennsylvania as assistant to Division Engineer F. H. Watt and it was while holding that office he enlisted, entered the Plattsburg military camp, where he won a commission of captain in the engineering department and was assigned to the Fifth regiment, United States engineers, national army, recruited at Pittsburgh. He was captain of Company B and later was promoted to captain-adjutant of the Second battalion, which is now somewhere in France. During his six or seven years' residence in Fort Wayne, Captain Taylor was popular both in railway and social circles. He married Agnes Fairbank, daughter of Mrs. C. R. Fairbank.

WESTERN GOVERNORS TO TALK COAL STATUS

Chicago, Aug. 4.—A conference of the governors of several middle west states to discuss the coal situation is expected to develop from the presence here today of Gov. Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois, and Gov. J. P. Goodrich, of Indiana.

It is said the two governors discussed informally last night the coal situation in the two states, but neither would make public any of their proposed plans for regulating the price of coal. It is also stated the Illinois state council of defense has taken up the coal situation with councils of defense of adjoining states and has taken steps to bring about a uniformity of action in regulating coal prices.

NAVAL EXPERT GIVES A JOLT

Captain Perseus Warns Germans That Navy is Inferior.

BRITANNIA STILL RULES THE WAVES

Admits That Jutland Fight Was a Defeat for the Kaiser's Navy.

Copenhagen, Aug. 4.—Captain Perseus, naval expert of the Berliner Tageblatt, thrusts unpleasant horoscopes in the faces of naval enthusiasts in a review of the third naval year of the war. He says the superiority of the British fleet, despite heavy losses, is great enough to justify its claim that it controls the seas. The German fleet is unequal to meet it.

No Offensive Likely. The high seas fleet, in conjunction with the coast defense guns, submarines, mines, etc., will undoubtedly be able to beat off all attacks and keep the enemy from the coast, but he adds, warningly, German minds should give no room to view of an offensive activity of the fleet, which is based on an insecure foundation and unproved hypothesis.

All this flatly contradicts the admiralty view frequently expressed in official and semi-official reports and in the emperor's Skagerrak message, that the Germans had decisively defeated the British fleet and wrested from it mastery at sea.

Disagrees With All. All naval critics, except Captain Perseus, regularly promulgated this thesis and an outburst of rage by Count von Reventlow and Captain von Kuehlwetter and others against him is expected.

Captain Perseus says that every intelligent German realizes that unrestricted submarine warfare will be conducted with all energy until England realizes it is more profitable to discuss peace than to accept further losses, but, on the other hand, he warns against super-optimism for a too speedy success in the submarine war in view of the amount of world tonnage and the great shipbuilding possibilities for the entente.

PEOPLE MUST RULE FATE OF FINLAND

Diet Dissolved and Future Rest With Russian Constituent Assembly.

Helsingfors, Finland, Aug. 4.—The senate under the presidency of the governor general decided by seven votes against 6 to publish the manifesto issued by the provisional government dissolving the landtag and appointing a general election on Oct. 1. The decision was communicated to the landtag which then adjourned. Re-assembling ten hours later, the president declared the landtag suspended sine die. The deputies immediately quit the house. The governor general with the commanders of the Baltic fleet and the Sveaborg garrison attended a joint meeting of the naval and regimental committees. The governor general explained the reasons for the dissolution of the landtag and said the opening of the new body coincided with the meeting of the constituent assembly, when both bodies will be able legitimately to pronounce upon the political future of Finland. He added that if the diet refused to dissolve force would be used.

WORSHIPPED TOO MUCH AT SHRINE OF BACCHUS

Dessie Friedt Says Charles Came Home When Mars' Spirit Overtook Him.

Worshipping at the shrine of Bacchus until the spirit of Mars overtook him again, when he would come home and beat her, does not agree with Dessie Friedt, who has sued Charles for divorce. She alleges that Charles would compel her to work and that on Saturday evenings when she came home with her money he would force her to give it up to him. Then he would hurry away to the nearest saloon. Then he would come home, she says, and beat and strike her because she did not earn enough money for him. She further alleges that the defendant has threatened to kill her and asks in addition to the decree that the defendant be restrained from molesting her and that the Pettit Storage company by whom he is employed, be restrained from paying the defendant his wages.

WANTS RESTRAINING ORDER.

Rose Cramer Also Asks Court to Grant Her Support Money.

Rose Cramer has filed a petition in the superior court asking that her husband, Frank C. Cramer be restrained from molesting her and that he be ordered to pay support money to her while her suit for divorce is pending. She asks that the Dudio Manufacturing company also be restrained from paying him his wages.

She states that they were married in December, 1916, and lived together until a few weeks ago when she applied for a divorce. She avers that the defendant would not provide a home for her and that he forced her to live with a sister-in-law who mistreated her and would choke her in the presence of the defendant and that he would not object. She also says that the sister-in-law endeavored to persuade her to drink whisky. She says for $8 a week support money. She says she has been under such a nervous strain that she only weighs ninety-two pounds.

Marriage Licenses. William H. Jacobs, driver, to Alma L. Barand. Charles B. Watts, machinist, to Margaret Thorpe. Paul Johnston, machinist, to Maurine Beard. Obe Jenkins, cabinetmaker, to Laura Paek. Walter C. Vetter, salesman, to Amanda C. Bohde. Gerald Gunyon, clerk, to Ruth Foster.

MAY APPEAL TO GOVERNOR

WIRED ACCEPTANCE OF HIS COMMISSION

But Says That He Was Given No Satisfactory Answer at the Time.

Believing that Captain Harry Clark was not given a square deal in the appointment of a lieutenant of Battery A, of Indianapolis, to supersede him as commanding officer of Battery B, of Fort Wayne, prominent residents of the city may appeal direct to Governor James P. Goodrich in an effort to have Captain Clark retained.

Captain Clark was expected in Fort Wayne, Saturday, from Cleveland, but up to a late hour had not arrived. He had wired that he was coming. In the same message he declares that early last week he had accepted the commission as captain of Battery B and had talked with both Adjutant General Smith and Major Tyndall over the telephone, but was given no satisfactory answer.

Adjutant General Smith is credited with the statement that Captain Clark had never accepted the command of the local battery. Captain Clark says he did and was making all preparations to come to Fort Wayne and leave with the battery on Sunday morning for Fort Benjamin Harrison.

Captain Clark is a Fort Wayne man, although working in Cleveland. He has had years of experience in the national guard. Resentment is felt by local citizens for the reason that both Fort Wayne batteries will be commanded by Indianapolis men. They feel that Fort Wayne men are equally as well qualified as are outsiders, especially when the outsiders have had even less experience than the men they succeed.

Captain Lyman Miller, the new commanding officer of the local battery, has wired from his home in Indianapolis that he will meet the boys after their arrival at Fort Harrison, Sunday. He is not coming to Fort Wayne, it is understood.

GREAT INTEREST IN KENTUCKY PRIMARIES

No State Officers to Name But Legislators, Yet Vote is Heavy.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 4.—Despite the fact that this is an off year and that no candidates for state offices other than legislative offices will be nominated today's state-wide primary in Kentucky has aroused unusual interest. The probability that the general assembly at its next session would be asked to pass a resolution submitting to a vote of the people a prohibition amendment to the state constitution resulted in the fight waged between opposing candidates in practically every legislative district revolving almost entirely about this issue. The candidates for county offices and for offices in the smaller county subdivisions in every one of the 120 counties in the state, candidates for municipal offices in all cities not having a commission form of government, and in one judicial district also will be nominated.

First Man to Claim Exemption

MARK BAKER.

Mark Baker, 24 years old, living at 311 West Pontiac street, was the first man to be examined in Fort Wayne for Uncle Sam's new army to claim exemption. He was the second man examined. Exemption was claimed on the ground of being the sole support of a widowed mother. Baker is a son of Mrs. Joseph L. Baker.
